ABSTRACT

The curriculum guide was developed to help adult education teachers, counselors, and administrators in planning and implementing creative and innovative activities in the field of career awareness and exploration. The curriculum units are intended to be used in conjunction with subjects usually taught. The definition, goals, and basic concepts of career education are presented. Subconcepts are listed for each of the five basic concepts: self, career, society, economics, and technology. Curriculum units are organized under the following general headings: (1) finding work: how one goes about it, what to expect; (2) keeping a job: attitudes, people, work; (3) helping oneself: planning, school, human relationships; and (4) handling finances: budgeting and buying. Each unit lists the unit topic, subject area, grade level, related concept, and subconcept, and outlines performance objectives, suggested activities, teacher preparation, vocabulary, suggested resource persons and field trips, resources and materials, subject matter tie-ins, and methods of evaluation. Space is provided for the addition of other activities and resources, and blank lesson plan forms are included for teacher utilization. Also included are a bibliography, list of free and inexpensive materials, and a suggested list of resource materials for purchase. (RG)

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Special acknowledgment must be extended to Mr. Harold H. Gauthé, Superintendent of Lafayette Parish Public Schools, Mrs. LaVerne Knotts, State Director of Adult Education, and the Louisiana State Department of Education, whose support and cooperation made this curriculum guide possible.

This guide was developed by Mr. Harold Hollier, Lafayette Parish Coordinator of Career Education, and Mrs. Carmen C. Searles, Adult Education Instructor, Lafayette Parish. In a period of five weeks, the curriculum guide was designed with the assistance of a select group of teachers representing grades K-12 in Lafayette Parish. These educators to whom special thanks is extended are:

Ernie Alexander
Myrna Ayo
Bonnie Barry
Frances Benoit
Shirley Borel
Leola Broussard
Frances Comeaux
Leverta Frank
Terry Girouard
Eve Guidry
Marilyn Guidry

Gail Guilbeau
Frances Himel
Donnie Johnston
Warren Landry
John Lee
Hilda Nations
Roland Simon
Phillip Sonnier, Jr.
Barbara Woods
Verna Figaro

Grateful appreciation is expressed also to Mr. Robert W. Boyet, State Supervisor of Adult Education, Louisiana State Department of Education and Mr. Charles A. Bonvillain, former Career Education Coordinator, for valuable suggestions given in the development of this guide.

Additional recognition must be extended to Mr. Terry Girouard, Art Instructor at Northside High School, for designing the book cover and Mrs. Sandra Montuoret for typing and preparing the manuscript.

Finally, sincere appreciation is expressed to Mr. Robert M. Arceneaux, Lafayette Parish Career Education Project Director and Supervisor of Adult Education, for assisting greatly in providing guidance, suggestions, and encouragement throughout the preparation of this guide.

Hopefully, the curriculum guide will be an aid to the Adult Education teachers in relation to the subjects to the subjects being offered in these local programs.

INTRODUCTION

Since March of 1970, when President Nixon challenged the leaders of the nation's schools to institute massive reform, Career Education has evolved as the number one priority of educational leaders throughout the country. In January of 1972, the Lafayette Parish Public School System was one of two school systems in the state to accept the challenge and to initiate steps to develop a transportable Career Education model program for Louisiana. During the summer of 1973, an Adult Education component to the Career Education model was undertaken.

The Lafayette Parish Career Education Curriculum Development Committee defines Career Education:

As a comprehensive educational program, beginning with early childhood and continuing throughout life for the purpose of providing each individual with a positive awareness of self and the world of work. At any point of exit from school, the individual should be equipped with necessary skills, attitudes, and knowledge for an entry level position into the world of work, or post secondary occupational training, or a baccalaureate program.

In Adult Education the teacher is working with people who are already involved in the world of work and with people who are, or very soon will be, at the entry level position in the world of work. In other words, the students in Adult Education fall into two categories:

1. Those students who have already entered into the world of work but whose opportunities for advancement and attaining a higher degree of self-satisfaction will be enhanced through the Adult Career Education program.
2. Those students who are being helped in the development of attitudes about the personal, psychological; social, and economic significance of work and in the attainment of the related career/job information in order that they may experience the best possible chances of success upon their entrance into the world of work.

Upon initiation of the Adult Component, the two Adult educators of the Lafayette Parish Career Education Writing Team developed a curriculum guide to help teachers, counselors, and administrators of Adult Education in planning and implementing creative and innovative activities in the field of career awareness and exploration. The guide must not be viewed as a text or as the final, authoritative word in Adult Career Education, but rather as a collection of recommended ideas, activities, and procedures to be used by Adult Education teachers in developing career awareness programs to satisfy their students' particular needs.

In this Guide the concept of Career Education must be thought of in its broadest sense. It is not just vocational in nature; it is all encompassing, taking in all the Adult Basic Education curriculum. If the purpose of Career Education is to develop both the cognitive and affective areas, then not only vocational information but also concepts, ideas, attitudes, and values will be important outcomes.

It is the responsibility of Adult Education as an important societal influence in the life of the student to make available to him every possible opportunity for explaining and attaining knowledge about his future.

NOTE TO THE TEACHER

This book is composed of curriculum units which can aid you in relating Career Education to the subjects you are teaching. The units are not intended to be used in place of your usual plans but in conjunction with the lessons you ordinarily teach. The committee's preparation time limited the number of units which could be produced, so the plans in this book are not designed as a complete program in Career Education. Rather, they should serve as examples of things you can do. It is your option to use as many or as few of these units as suit your purposes.

In preparing this book, the committee tried to include sample lessons related to the subject areas covered in the Adult Education Curriculum Guide (published by State Department of Education, State Department of Education of Louisiana 1970 Bulletin Number 1187, Curriculum Guide for Adult Education Teachers). The various subject areas you correlated within each curriculum unit.

You, the teacher, can make the book complete. In the extra space provided with each plan, write in a many other activities as you can think of. List additional resources you have available, such as library books, filmstrips, etc. There are blank lesson plan forms included on which you can make up some plans of your own. It is hoped that these plans will be shared with other teachers.

DEFINITION OF CAREER EDUCATION

Career education is a comprehensive education program, beginning with early childhood and continuing throughout life, for the purpose of providing each individual with a positive awareness of self and the world of work. At any point of exit from school, the individual would be equipped with the necessary skills, attitudes, and knowledge for an entry level position in the world of work, or post-secondary occupational training, or a baccalaureate program.

GOALS OF CAREER EDUCATION

The achievement of these all-inclusive goals are central to the success of the total concept of Career Education:

1. To bring about a refocusing of emphasis in education to develop in each adult learner an increased awareness of his need to learn.
2. To provide every adult learner with the opportunity to acquire the knowledge, skills, and attitudes which will prepare him to function successfully in society as a productive individual at a realistic level of aspiration.
3. To provide every adult learner with a broad understanding of the opportunities and careers available in the world of work.

4. To develop in adult learners a quality of adaptability so that they will be able to analyze situations and make the necessary decisions and adjustments if and when future technology changes affect their occupations and lives.

CONCEPTS OF CAREER EDUCATION

As the Curriculum Development Committee prepared to begin writing curriculum guides, it became apparent that the guides should be written around a framework of concepts. The concepts used by various school systems were studied, and it was decided that the five concepts used by Ann Arundel County in Maryland would best suit the needs of this parish. These concepts are Self, Career, Society, Economics, and Technology.

Theoretically, with Career Education implanted in a school system, the concepts of Society, Economics, and Technology would be most adaptable to Adult Education. However, in the initial stages of implementing Career Education it must be assumed that, through the traditional curriculum of the elementary and secondary programs, the concepts of Self and Career have not yet been fully developed in the Adult Education student. For this reason, curriculum guides were prepared for all concepts. Moreover, it is hoped that each teacher using this guide will design his own plans to meet the needs of the individual student.

SELF:

Self-understanding is vital to career decision and work performance.

CAREER:

Career Education prepares man for the world of work.

SOCIETY:

Society reflects the creative force of work.

ECONOMICS:

Man's livelihood depends upon the production, distribution and consumption of goods and services.

TECHNOLOGY:

Man and technology are continually interacting in his work.

SELF

CONCEPT: Self-understanding is vital to career decision and work performances.

SUBCONCEPTS:

1. An awareness of oneself as a distinct person of worth is important in identifying individual interests, abilities and aspirations.
2. Each individual has a contribution to make in the world of work.
3. A positive concept of self enables a person to enter into and function in the working world.
4. Value judgments influence vocational choice.
5. A person's work may contribute to a positive concept of self.
6. There are identifiable attitudes and behaviors which enable one to obtain and hold a job.
7. Mental health is a factor in a successful, satisfying life.
8. An individual may be suited for many different occupations.
9. The individual's perception of his environment affects his attitudes towards work.
10. People work for various rewards or satisfactions.
11. The individual's perception of people affects his ability to work cooperatively.

CAREER

CONCEPT: Career education prepares man for the world of work.

SUBCONCEPTS:

1. Hobbies and interests may lead to a vocation.
2. Basic education enhances job performance.
3. All work is important.
4. There is a specific knowledge essential for each career area.
5. People do many kinds of work.
6. Some jobs are needed everywhere, but some are found only in certain places.
7. Any occupational field might encompass many different kinds of work.
8. As man's knowledge increases, new types of workers are needed; or present workers must be retrained.
9. Career choice is a developmental process.
10. A person may have many careers.

SOCIETY

CONCEPT: Society reflects the creative force of work.

SUBCONCEPTS:

1. The ability to get along with people is an important part of job success.
2. Society is dependent on the work of many people.
3. Society provides rewards for work.
4. A person's work may be directly beneficial to others.
5. The customs, traditions, and attitudes of society affect the world of work.
6. Everyone has an important place in society.
7. Society enacts laws to protect the individual as a producer and consumer of goods and services.
8. Societal needs determine vocational opportunity.

ECONOMICS

CONCEPTUAL STATEMENT: Man's livelihood depends upon the production, distribution and consumption of goods and services.

SUBCONCEPTS:

1. Man's work contributes to a nation's wealth and productivity.
2. The economic system structures incentives for man to work.
3. Our economic system influences work opportunity.
4. Understanding economics helps man to function effectively and make choices and decisions consistent with his needs and resources.
5. Man's work affects his standard of living.
6. Economic fluctuations influence occupational choice and opportunity.
7. Geographical settings affect work.

TECHNOLOGY

CONCEPTUAL STATEMENT: Man and technology are continually interacting in his work.

SUBCONCEPTS:

1. Through technology man uses his creative ability and resources in a work setting.
2. Man uses technology to satisfy his needs and to achieve his desires.
3. Technological developments cause a continual change in the emergence and disappearance of jobs.
4. Technology has unlimited implications for man's work and leisure time.
5. Technological development has been one of slow change until recent time.
6. Man must learn to use technology to his advantage.
