WORK ON CENTRAL PARK INAUGURATED AS HEAVY SNOW WAS FALLING MAYOR CALLS PROJECT "SYMBOL OF NEW CHANGE" IN COUNTRY KABUL, January, 7.-

THE demolition work of the buildings situated in the area where a central park will be constructed by the Municipal Corporation was officially inaugurated by Mr. Mohammad Asghar, the Mayor of Kabul yesterday morning. The work was inaugurated while heavy snow was still falling.

In a speech on this occasion, | Mayor Asghar referred to the importance of this step and called it a symbol of the new social changes instituted in the country in accordance with the wish of His Majesty the King and the interest taken by Dr. Yousuf's government together with the joint moral and material help rendered by the governmental departments and the people.

Hope For Success

Mr. Asghar hoped that the work which reflects a new spirit for reform will end in success. He thanked the ministries of National Defence, Public Works, Mines and Industries, Agriculture and Finance for rendering assistance in the implementation of the project.

The Finance Ministry has helped the municipality in providing the funds and the others have made available labour and machinery needed for the project.

The Mayor also thanked the press which has played a great role in attracting public co-operation.

Kasim Afterwards, Syyed Rishtya, the Minister of Press and Information and Member of the Committee supervising the project, congratulated the citizens of Kabul on the initiation of the project. He said "a nation can progress only when it becomes aware of its shortcomings. The work which begins today, he added, is a symbol of our consciousness and urge for a change in our lives". Mr. Rishtya said that although a number of buildings are being demolished and some people are left homeless or may loose their shops, it should be pointed out that any nation, which wants a change for the better, should be prepared to accept certain losses. Mr. Rishtya went on to say that as soon as the idea of construction of the central park was suggested, the press in the capital left the issue for the public opinion and it is gratifying to find that the entire population of this city have supported the idea. He welcomed the co-operation rendered by various governmental agencies and said that, while the snow was falling, it was gratifying to see that through the joint cooperation of all these departments a great work is being started. This by itself, he said, is another sign of the determination and resolution of our government and people.

Kabul Gets neaviesi Snowfall In 5 Years Salang Snowfall 160 Cms. KABUL, January, 7 .--

T seemed as though Kabul had completed three days of heavy snowfall this morning, as clouds said to be some 10,000 metres thick were clearing, lized, as some 50 centimetres of snow had fallen. No accidents had been reported. The saying that in winter "alau is better than pilau", (alau means fire) is being applied with a great deal of truth. A municipal official has said that quite a number of road scrapers are wiping up the roads in the capital. Kabul had not had this much snow for the last five years:

Snow also started to fall in Mazar and Shiberghan Provinces at 10 a.m. Sunday and has been continuing intermittantly. Heavy preciptation has been reported in Ghazni and adjoining areas. Traffic between Kabul, Ghazni, and Mokur has been at a standstill. Heavy scrappers are busy wiping the snow on Kabul Ghazni Road.

While snow has also been reported in the southern province of Pakthia, rain has fallen in Farah. Some telephone poles have fallen down between Shoarab Village and Dilaram. No communication can be established by wire between Farah and Grishk. Work to reinstate the telephone communication between the two places has begun.

However, traffic was still para- I ing areas. The director of agriculture of Kandahar said that the rainfall at present would have a favourable effect on wheat crop. The only part of the country which had no precipitation, has been Baghlan and Pul-i Khummin the north.

The heaviest snow in the country has fallen south of the Salang Pass. The Department of Meteorology said some 160 centimetres had fallen by yesterday in the Southern slopes of the Hindu Kush. Earlier the Air Authority has said the present weather disturbances are likely to continue for the next two or three days, In the Capital, the ceiling yesterday about 200 metres and the thickness of the clouds has been estimated at 10 kilometres.

Mr. Ghulam Dastagir Safi, an official of the Department of Meteorology, said the present disturbances are transitional arriving in Afghanistan via the Mediterranean Sea, Iraq, and Iran.

He explained that a cold frontier resulting from a clash of the cold weather from the north and warm weather from the couth is dominating the country. The differences in temperature on both sides of this frontier, ne said, are Similarly rain has fallen in really significant reaching at times

Improved Radio Locators May Scan Natural Satellites

JANUARY 7, 1964

It will be possible to receive signals bounced back - from the natural satellites of Mars and Jupiter and to investigate the rings of saturn if we increase the power of a transmitter, the size of the antennae and the sensitivity of the receivers of planatory radio-locators.

Such improvements in locators are quite feasible at the present level of development of radio electronics, write in Izvestia Soviet scientists, academician Vladimir Kotelnikov, A. Shakovskm, O. Rbhiga and V. Dubrovin.

The studies proved to be successful, the scientists note, thanks to the development in the USSR of a unique radiolocation instailation by means of which quite recently they succeeded in receiving radio signals reflected from Inniter.

During that experiment the radio waves travelled 1,200,000 kilometres and became so feeble that in order to detect the signal arriving from the planets they had to "accumulate" energy for 20-hours.

Jupiter's reflection factor (an ndicator which gives an idea about the surface of the planet) proved to be about 10 per cent or even higher.

Speaking about the radiolocation studies of many years, the scientists recall that radiolocation of Venus has helped to rescue the lishing the buildings at a time error in determining the astronowhen heavy snow was falling de- mical unit fifty times. Some rocks on the earth have the same reflection factor.

> The scientists report that location of Venus warranted the conand that most probably the direction of rotation, as different from other planets, which are the earth's neighbours, is opposite to the direction of its movement around the sun

In June 1965, a year ahead of American scientists, for the first time they successfully carried out radiolocation of the planet Mercury. For this purpose the locator was considerably modernized In particular a low-noise paramagnetics amplifier was used to increase the sensitivity of the re-

The results obtained in these observatiaons confirmed the reliability of the measurement of the astronomical unit by radiolocation of Venus and established the reflection factor of Mercury which proved to be close to that of the lunar surface.

Finally radiolocation of Mars carried out in February 1963 established the existence on the surface of that planet of flat horizontal sections of a few kilometres or more. The investigated section of Mars proved to be much smoother than the lunar surface

Future, the scientists stress, will supply information on the planets. and also for computing orbits and predicting the movement of interplanetary stations and space (Tass)

Johnson's Message To Dr. Sukarno

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7, (AP)-The U.S. State Department said Monday that President Johnson has sent a message to Indonesia's President Sukarno through U.S. Ambassador Howard Jones.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey neither confirmed nor denied reports that Mr. Johnson had warned Dr. Sukarno that the Malaysia crisis is the greatest obstacle to improve U. S.-Indonesian relations.

Mr. McCloskey said he was not able to discuss the contents of the note delivered at the end of last week However the State Department has expressed its growing concern with the border clashes which have aroused dangerous tensions between Indonesia and Malaysia.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has called on both sides to avoid reckless actions which could only harm the two countries and he has urged a peaceful negotiated settlement of the dispute

The meeting between Dr. Sukarno and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal in the Philippines is being closely sciutinized here for the effect it may have in turning a threatening situation toward more peaceful discussions.

to the task assigned to them at present, he said.

Mr. Thorneycroft was speaking to reporters after arriving here from Kuala Lumpur for a twoday visit.

Asked about the possibility of Australian and New Zealand troops becoming involved in Sabah and Sarawak, he said he had "nothing to say."

A report from Manila, said the future of Indonesian and Malayasian_relations will be decided at five day talks starting in Manila. tomorrow, observers in Manila believe.

The discussions will be between President Sukarno of Indonesia, and President Macapagal of the Philippines to join him in his hard line against the new Malaysian Federation of Malaya, Singapore, sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo).

Feeling here is that he will have a difficult task.

The Philippines has a claim on Sabah, and has refused to recognise Malaysia.

However, Philippines officials indicate that their government still considers its role to be primarily that of a mediator, in the dispute, rather than an cutright enemy of Malaysia.

President Sukarno, accompanied by a powerful foreign affairs and economics team, including six cabinet ministers, is expected to make two offers to the Philippines. They are that Indonesia claim to Sabah. That Indonesia should help in the construction of a free port in the South Philippines that would handle the trade diverted from Singapore and Penang in Malaysia. He will be supported in his arguments by his powerful Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister, Doctor Subandrio.

While they meet together with President Macapagal and his top foreign affairs advisors, the senior economists of the two countries will hold simultaneous discussions in an "economic panel."

The President was due to arrive today from Djakarta at 1250 local time, and to receive a state welcome.

Malaysia's Foreign Ministry Monday rejected - Indenesian charges made to the UN. Secretary-General that three British planes and a helicopter were shot down over Indonesia.

The ministry statement zoid the air violation charges were absurd and designed to cover up Indonesia's "aggressive and expansionist designs against Malaysia." The statement emphasized that "Malaysian and allied (British) air forces are under strict instructions to operate only within Malaysian airspace and solely in the defence of Malaysia's territorial integrity."

Pope Returns To Vatican; Palestine Trip May Have Significance Historical

ROME, January, 7, (AP).-

DOPE Paul VI came home to Vatican City Monday night from his history-making tour of the Holy Land. At his palace window the Pope blessed hundreds of thousands of welcomers who filled St. Peter's Square and formed a cross of flaming torches to honour him.

"Grazie" (thanks), said the Pon- [shrines of Christmas life and pastiff, adding humbly: I didn't want to bother anybody. I wanted to come back in a quiet way".

Those in the square noted especially that for the first, time in recorded annals a Pope was so overcome with emotion he forgot. to say the traditional, formal we" and said "I" just like anyone else:

"My trip", he told the faithful, may have a huge historical significance. It may mark the begining of great benefits for the church and mankind".

Referring to his aim of Christian unity, expressed again and again in the Holy Land, the Pope added :

"I have had the fortune to embrace after centuries and centuries the Patriarch of Constantinople and exchange with him words of peace and fraternity. We hope this seed will ripen"

The Pope left on his trip lest Saturday as a pligrim, fulfilling a bring back to you the Lord's long dream to see first hand thepeace", he told welcomers.

sion. There was no formal ceremony for his departure, but welcomed back with full red-carpet military honours, including a 21-gun salute for him as temporal ruler of the sovereign state of Vatican ('ity.

Italy's highest government and state officials were at the airport to greet him, including President Antonio Segni:

The Pope shook Segni's hand and chatted with him briefly. The old socialist kissed the Pope's ring.

There were honour guards and bands, diplomats and dignitaries and a swelling chorus of acclamation as the Pope moved to the close of the first Papal pilgrimage in history, the first trip by a Pope outside Italy in 150 years. But through it all he tried to remain the pilgrim.

"I bring back to you the blessing from Jerusalem where I celebrated mass this morning. I.
