ABSTRACT

This guide, which was written for general marketing instructors in Ohio, lists nearly 450 resources for use in conjunction with the Administrative/Office Technology Occupational Competency Analysis Profile. The texts, workbooks, modules, software, videos, and learning activities packets listed are categorized by the following topics: communications, office technology, financial functions, records management, support tasks, and professionalism. Among the competencies for which resource materials are listed are the following: apply communication skills; compose documents; prepare oral presentations; communicate with international and culturally diverse organizations; perform computer operating system, word processing, spreadsheet, database, computer business graphics, desktop publishing, transcription machine functions; and telecommunications functions; apply mathematical skills; perform accounting, payroll, and banking functions; file/retrieve documents and integrated media; perform telephone duties; receive visitors; perform scheduling functions; coordinate meeting and function arrangements; generate minutes; coordinate domestic and international travel plans; perform mail functions; research information; maintain employee records; maintain office supplies, equipment, and software; improve office productivity; demonstrate office ethics; help the employing organization achieve its goals; and participate in professional development activities. The following information is provided for each resource material: publication type, title, author, publication date, publisher. Concluding the guide are the addresses of the 11 publishers of the materials cited. (MN)

Use of This Guide

This guide is designed to be used in conjunction with the Administrative/Office Technology Occupational Competency Analysis Profile (OCAP). Organized by OCAP unit and competency within each unit, this guide to resources (textbooks, workbooks, modules, videos, software, and learning activity packets [LAPs]) augments the efforts of new and veteran teachers.

Under each competency are listed resources that match that competency, including author, development or copyright date, and current source for obtaining the materials. A key with source information appears on page 37.

This guide can be a useful tool for Administrative/Office Technology instructors in Ohio and across the nation.

REPRODUCTION BASIS

This document is covered by a signed "Reproduction Release (Blanket)" form (on file within the ERIC system), encompassing all or classes of documents from its source organization and, therefore, does not require a "Specific Document" Release form.

This document is Federally-funded, or carries its own permission to reproduce, or is otherwise in the public domain and, therefore, may be reproduced by ERIC without a signed Reproduction Release form (either "Specific Document" or "Blanket").
