

1-1-2017

The Crystal

Josh Frank
Iowa State University

Preston Mila
Iowa State University

Wenqian Wu
Iowa State University

Yasong Zhou
Iowa State University

Follow this and additional works at: <http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/datum>

Part of the Architecture Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Frank, Josh; Mila, Preston; Wu, Wenqian; and Zhou, Yasong (2017) "The Crystal," Datum: student journal of architecture: Vol. 8 , Article 23.

Available at: <http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/datum/vol8/iss1/23>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at Iowa State University Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Datum: student journal of architecture by an authorized editor of Iowa State University Digital Repository. For more information, please contact digirep@iastate.edu.

THE CRYSTAL

Josh Frank, Preston Mila, Wenqian Wen, Yasong Zhou

Hunter's Point Shipyard exceptionally situates itself in a community rooted in history. Only two miles south of downtown San Francisco, residents will find a reprieve from the city noise in this 750 acre mixed use community.

78

Residents of "The Shipyard" will have the distinguished opportunity to live among a unique museum that curates the land and culture of Hunter's Point as an artifact through spatial, social, economic and architectonic curation. It becomes a keystone between the past and present as it reconnects San Francisco to Hunter's Point's history.

Admire the blending of past and present as you witness the interaction of movement within the encapsulation of history in over one million tons of glass. The designated corridor guides you through Hunter's Point's fascinating history, from the seizure of land by the US Navy in 1939 to one of the leading urban expansions in San Francisco's history.

