ABSTRACT

The goal of the Texas Reading Club is to encourage the children of Texas to become library users and lifelong readers. This manual was created for the 2002 Texas Reading Club, a program of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission. The theme, "Read Across Texas!" invites children to explore the history, geography, and culture of Texas through the portal of books and their local libraries. The purpose of this manual is to assist library staff who serve youth by suggesting ideas for programs that will attract children to the library. The programs in each chapter of this manual feature a combination of the following components: books to share, show, and booktalk; bulletin boards, displays, and decorations; fingerplays, rhymes, poems, and songs; riddles, and jokes; crafts, games, and activities; guest speakers; musical recordings, videos, Web sites, and CD-ROMs; and reader's theater scripts, puppet shows, stories, or citations to books in which they may be located. The manual begins with a "Texas Hoe Down" to kick-off the Texas Reading Club and a "Rodeo Roundup" to celebrate its completion. The suggested bulletin boards in these programs are based on the clip art in the back of this manual. The Toddler and Preschool Program chapters have suggestions for programs specifically designed for youth in those age groups and include a wealth of original songs and fingerplays. The Elementary Programs chapter suggests many books, crafts, activities, and other programming ideas that will appeal to school age children. All of the chapters have similar formats, with the exception of the Young Adult Programs chapter, which uniquely addresses the interests of that age group. The Young Adult chapter outlines a separate reading club on the theme "Travel Quest!" as well as many programming ideas. Bibliographic information for titles in all chapters and in all formats is compiled at the end of the manual, divided into sections for books, videos, audio recordings, and CD-ROMs. Information on marketing, cooperation and public relations; cooperation with schools; and serving children with disabilities is also provided. ## PREFACE

This manual is created for the 2002 Texas Reading Club, a program of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission. The theme, "Read Across Texas!" invites children to explore the history, geography, and culture of Texas through the portal of books and their local libraries.

In the 2002 manual, Texas children's librarians have written individual chapters in their areas of interest and expertise. Some of the most talented and enthusiastic children's librarians in Texas contributed a vast array of suggestions for wonderful age-appropriate programs. Please read about these authors in the section of this manual entitled, "About the Authors."

There are many exciting elements in the 2002 Texas Reading Club Manual, including:

- ★ Sheet music for a theme song by Willy Welch that will be used every year and will appear on his upcoming CD.
- ★ A chapter featuring the puppet plays, stories, and reader's theater scripts.
- ★ A bilingual chapter with programs for children of various ages.

- ★ A suggestion in the Young Adults chapter for a separate young adult reading club based on the theme, "Travel Quest!"

If you explore this manual thoroughly, you will delight in the contributions of the authors will find many exciting ideas for planning and hosting an enjoyable and successful 2002 Texas Reading Club.

I would like to express my gratitude to Belinda Boon for countless hours of proof-reading, to Shawn Clements for the beautiful formatting, to Myra Arredondo for proof-reading the bilingual chapter, to the authors for contributing outstanding and original ideas, to Elizabeth McMahon for illustrating the crafts, to James Warhola for his delightful clip art, and especially to the many children's librarians who host this program year after year.

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR, JAMES WARHOLA

Artist and illustrator James Warhola received a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in design from Carnegie-Mellon University in 1977. From 1977-1980 he studied at the Art Student's League in New York with Jack Faragasso, then privately with Michael Aviano from 1980-84. He is the nephew of Andy Warhol, whom he remembers with admiration and affection, saying that, "He was my childhood idol."

Over the last decade, Mr. Warhola has worked as a book illustrator for several major publishing houses, among them Warner and Prentice-Hall. He has designed over 300 science-fiction and fantasy covers for works of such noted authors as Spider Robinson, Robert A. Heinlein, and W. Gibson. Since 1987, he has concentrated on illustrating children's books. James Warhola's highly creative imagination produces memorable images with a fantastic sense of humor, color, and detail in both oils and watercolors.

Mr. Warhola created the clip art for this manual, as well as the poster, certificate, and bookmark for the 2002 Texas Reading Club.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

MISSY EDGMON

Missy Edgmon is the author of the puppet show, "The Ballad of Ginga Fella." She was formerly a children's librarian from the Harris County Public Library System and is currently staying home with her two young children and working part-time at Tomball Community College.

PAOLA FERATE-SOTO

Paola Ferate-Soto, co-author of the Bilingual Programs chapter, grew up in Colombia, South America, where as a child she learned many of the rhymes shared in the chapter. She holds an MLIIS from the University of Arizona and worked as a reference librarian in the Las Vegas-Clark County Library District in Las Vegas, Nevada and was the Youth Department Head at the Carson City Library in Carson City, Nevada. She is currently the Youth Librarian at the Terrazas Branch of the Austin Public Library where she conducts bilingual storytimes. Ms. Ferate-Soto was one of the founding members of the REFORMA-Nevada Chapter as well as it's first President. She was also one of the founding members of the new Central Texas REFORMA Chapter El corazón de Tejas. She served as National REFORMA Organizational Development Chair from 1998 to 2001, and as a committee member for the 2001 El día de los niños Austin Celebration.

LELAÑA FOLEY

Lelaña Foley was formerly with the Harker Heights Public Library and now lives in Missouri. She is the author of the "Celebrations Programs" chapter.

TINA HAGER

Tina Hager, author of the Preschool Programs chapter, holds an MLS from Texas Woman's University and has been a youth services librarian at the Carrollton Public Library. She has over 20 years experience working in many types of libraries in many capacities from page to library director. Her career dream is to be a professional storyteller and children's author.

ADRIANA HEARD

Adriana Flores Heard, author of the Young Adult Programs chapter, graduated with an MLIIS from the University of Texas at Austin with a specialization in children and youth services. Ms. Heard has worked for the San Antonio Public Library for the past six years as a reference librarian, children's librarian, and youth services librarian. Currently she is at the Westfall Public Library working with teens and adults and performing outreach to local high schools and middle schools and she loves to booktalk. Ms. Heard helped to create the San Antonio Public Library's first Youth Services department which offers teens the opportunity to participate in an annual summer reading program, a monthly book club, a teen advisory board, and the Teen Friends. She has been trained as an ALA/YALSA Serving the Underserved Trainer.

DONNA INGHAM

Donna Ingham is the author of the story, "Babe of the Alamo." She is a retired university professor turned storyteller and travels throughout Texas telling stories and offering workshops in schools, libraries, festivals, conferences, and wherever else people will gather to listen. Her programs include personal narratives about growing up in the Panhandle; Texanized myths, legends, fairy tales, and other classics; and multicultural tales drawn from the lore of Native Americans and Hispanic, European, and African-American settlers.

NOHEMI LOPEZ

Nohemi Lopez, co-author of the Bilingual Programs chapter, is currently the children's librarian at the Memorial Branch Library of the San Antonio Public Library System. After receiving her MLIS from the University of Texas at Austin, she worked as a reference librarian for the San Antonio Public Library and then as a children's librarian in the Austin Public Library where she conducted bilingual storytimes in Spanish and English for the East Austin community.

DOROTHY MCMAHON

Dorothy McMahon, author of the story, "Going to Round Rock," has a BA in Education and an MLS. She worked in the educational field for over 30 years as a teacher and as an elementary school librarian. She has presented workshops on storytelling, reading aloud, poetry, and puppetry for independent school districts, associations for the education of young children, parents, and for storytelling and puppetry organizations.

ELIZABETH MCMAHON

Elizabeth McMahon is the illustrator for the crafts in the 2002

Texas Reading Club Manual. Ms. McMahon received her MLA from the University of North Texas in 1990 and worked at Galveston's Rosenberg Library for about 6 six years. She is currently the Outreach/PR Librarian at the Grand Prairie Main Library where she supervises the Bookmobile and Aging program and provides publicity and public relations for the library. She also organizes adult and young adult programs and arranges the displays within the library.

SALLY MEYERS

Sally Meyers, author of the theme song, "Read Across Texas!" has been the Children's Services Coordinator for the Tom Green County Library System in San Angelo for ten years. Previously she was teacher-director of La Escuelita Preschool. Ms. Meyers served on the Texas Reading Club Advisory Committee from 1994-1998 and has written the summer reading theme song since 1995. She is a member of Children's Round Table's 2x2 Committee.

MARICELA MOREYRA-TORRES

Maricela Moreyra-Torres, co-author of the Bilingual Program chapter, was born in Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico. She graduated from the Universidad Autónoma de Guadalajara with a Library Science degree and worked for 15 years as a librarian in a primary school. She has been an active member of the Jalisco Library Association. Ms. Moreyra-Torres was a founding member and Vice President of the International Reading Association's Jalisco Chapter.

LEILA PARRISH

Leila Parrish, author of the Toddler Programs chapter, is a former children's librarian who has worked for both the Houston Public Library System and the Harris County Public Library System. Since leaving her professional role, Ms. Parrish actively works with children and parents through planning and presenting children's programs for a church-affiliated Mother's Day Out Program.

JOSEFINA RODRIGUEZ-GIBBS

Josefina Rodriguez-Gibbs, co-author of the Bilingual Programs chapter, graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a BA in Spanish and Portuguese. After receiving her MLIS, she worked for the Office of Bilingual Education at the University of Texas. While her children were growing up, she was active in school programs and in church related programs for children. She is now a youth librarian at the Cepeda and the Oak Springs branches of the Austin Public Library and has the opportunity to present Spanish story hours for children of both communities.

GAYLE TRAVIS

Gayle Travis is the author of the Elementary Programs chapter, two readers theater script, and one puppet play for the 2002 Texas Reading Club Reading Program Manual. She is also the author of the 1995 Summer Reading Program Manual "Once Upon a Planet" and contributing author of the 2001 Texas Reading Club manual. She presented workshops throughout the state based on the 1995, 2000, and 2001 manuals. Ms. Travis, who received her MLS from Texas Woman's University, has been a children's librarian in public libraries for over ten years and is an accomplished storyteller and story weaver.

WILLY WELCH

Willy Welch composed a theme song that will be used for the 2002 and future Texas Reading Clubs. It is entitled, "Reading Across Texas" and will appear on his next musical CD. Mr. Welch is an author, songwriter, singer, storyteller, and actor with a degree in theater from Boston University School for the Arts. He has published three children's picture books, Playing Right Field, Dancing with Daddy, and Grumpy Bunnies. His next book scheduled is Home Made Cookie, from Scholastic, Inc. Mr. Welch has also written songs for (among others) the Shakespeare Festival of Dallas, the Barney & Friends PBS-TV series, Peter Paul & Mary, Celebration Shop, Habitat for Humanity, and his talented singing wife, Wendy Welch. He loves to visit schools and libraries to sing songs, read books, and tell stories.

INTRODUCTION

GOALS AND PURPOSE

The goal of the Texas Reading Club is to encourage the children of Texas to become library users and lifelong readers. The purpose of this manual is to assist library staff who serve youth by suggesting ideas for programs that will attract children to the library. Our hope is that when youth of all ages discover that the library is a friendly, fun, welcoming place, they will avail themselves of the library collection, programs, and services. Then we will have succeeded in achieving our goal.

USING THIS MANUAL

The programs in each chapter of this manual feature a combination of the following components:

- ★ Books to Share, Show, and Booktalk
- ★ Bulletin Boards, Displays, and Decorations
- ★ Fingerplays, Rhymes, Poems, and Songs
- ★ Riddles, and Jokes
- ★ Crafts, Games, and Activities
- ★ Guest Speakers

- ★ Musical Recordings, Videos, Web Sites, and CD-ROMs
- ★ Reader's Theater Scripts, Puppet shows, Stories, or citations to books in which they may be located

The fun begins with an original Texas Reading Club theme song by composer and children's musician, Willy Welch. It is entitled "Reading Across Texas" and will be used in 2002 and in future years. Look for it on Willy's next CD!

A theme song written especially for the 2002 Texas Reading Club by Sally Meyers follows. It is entitled, "Read Across Texas!" and is sung to the melody of "Pick a Bale of Cotton." You may listen to both of these songs on the Texas State Library web site at www.tsl.state.tx.us/ld/projects/trc/index.html.

The manual begins with a "Texas Hoe Down" to kick-off the Texas Reading Club and a "Rodeo Roundup" to celebrate its completion. The suggested bulletin boards in these programs are based on the clip art in the back of this manual. You may choose to display them all summer long!

This year's manual features a chapter of puppet plays, stories, and reader's theater scripts. These are ideal to promote the Texas Reading Club during school visits and to enhance programs for children of all ages in the library. More stories, puppet plays, and reader's theater scripts are included in individual chapters.

The Toddler and Preschool Program chapters have suggestions for programs specifically designed for youth in those age groups. They include a wealth of original songs and fingerplays.

The Elementary Programs chapter suggests many wonderful books, crafts, activities, and other programming ideas that will appeal to school age children.

The Spanish translation of this year's theme is, "¡Por Texas viajamos con libros en mano!" The Bilingual Programs chapter features very useful suggestions for books, games, crafts, songs, rhymes, stories, and puppet shows for children and families. English and Spanish translations for each are included. Foreign publishers are cited in the bibliography for many of the titles. As indicated at Amazon.com, many of these titles may also be purchased from distributors in the United States. A list of U.S. distributors and publishers of bilingual and Spanish books is included at the end of the Bilingual Programs chapter.

All of the chapters have similar formats, with the exception of the Young Adult Programs chapter, which uniquely addresses the interests of that age group. To attract more young adults to the library and to encourage them to read, the Young Adult chapter outlines a separate reading club on the theme "Travel Quest!" as well as many wonderful programming ideas.

Bibliographic information for titles in all chapters and in all formats is compiled at the end of the manual in the bibliography. The bibliography is divided into sections for books, videos, audio recordings, and CD-ROMs. Your collection may contain many additional titles relating to the program themes. Many of the books and professional resources cited may be ordered through interlibrary loan from the Library Science Collection of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission (TSLAC) or from other Texas libraries if you do not have them in your collection. You may check holdings on the TSLAC web site at www.tsl.state.tx.us. For more information, please contact Anne Ramos at 1-800-252-9386 or anne.ramos@tsl.state.tx.us.

CLIP ART

The clip art included at the back of this manual may be used for crafts, programs, or to decorate your library. Make mobiles with the clip art using sturdy paper plates. Punch holes around the edge with a hole punch and use yarn or string to attach the clip art.

Enlarge or reduce the art depending on your needs, but do not alter it in any other way. Cut out the patterns and color them. For more guidelines, please read the section in this manual entitled, "Acceptable Use of Clip Art."

Clip art may also be used for creating:

- ★ Bulletin board decorations
- ★ Tabletop decorations
- ★ Program "favors"
- ★ Take home coloring sheets
- ★ Refrigerator magnets (Copy, color and laminate. Buy a roll of magnetic tape from craft a supply store and glue to the back of the clip art.)
- ★ Ceiling, window, or door decorations.

LIBRARY OUTREACH

Encourage as many children as possible to participate in the Texas Reading Club and to use the library resources through outreach programs and deposit collections. Take the Texas Reading Club to as many children as possible in underserved groups, such as those who are financially limited or without transportation. For instance, children in childcare centers might not have access through their providers. In order to reach them, bring library resources and programs to them. Sponsor reading clubs in schools, childcare centers, family health centers, free food distribution sites, and other locations in your area of service.

Establish a depository collection at each outreach site so the children will have access to books. Plan programs such as puppet shows, crafts, storytelling performances, and story hours at these sites. Order extra Texas Reading Club logs, bookmarks, and certificates, and allow the organizations to administer the program and report their participation to you. The increase in your statistics will demonstrate the value of your outreach program to your library administrators and local government officials. Make every effort to publicize your successful outreach programs in your community newspapers using the samples on the following pages.

READ ACROSS TEXAS!

MARKETING, COOPERATION AND PR

Marketing your programs is as important as planning and presenting programs. Children won't attend even the most wonderful programs unless they and their parents are aware of them. Develop a media kit for reading club programs and related activities that provides information about the events and includes:

- ★ Press releases
- ★ A schedule of events
- ★ A feature story about the reading club
- ★ Public service announcements
- ★ Letters to newspapers, schools, city officials about the events

Tips on Writing Publicity Releases

- ★ Double-space all releases
- ★ Limit it to one page
- ★ Write short, concise paragraphs that include all essential information: who, what, where, when, why, and how
- ★ Include library hours, phone number, and location. Do not assume the reader knows anything about the library.
- ★ Attach a Texas Reading Club flyer to your news release

For more information about publicity, please read Marketing the Texas Reading Club, available from the TSLAC. Please contact Anne Ramos at 1-800-252-9386 or anne.ramos@tsl.state.tx.us for ordering information.

COOPERATION WITH SCHOOLS

An important way to publicize the reading club is through school visits. Schools and teachers are natural allies in encouraging children to read during the summer. Cooperate with them in any way possible.

SCHOOL VISITS

Call or write your school district's administrative office in February or March and ask permission to promote your library's summer reading programs. Then call principals, teachers, or school librarians in March or April and schedule the visits for late April or early May. Schools are happy to have librarians visit in the last weeks of school.

Make your visits entertaining. Dress up like a Texas animal or historical figure and carry a backpack full of riddles, jokes, and stories related to the theme. You'll find animal costumes in costume books such as Snazeroo Zoo: Great Faces and Easy Costumes to Bring Out the Animal in You by Jan Bullis. Tell the students about the Texas Reading Club and your library's programs for children of all ages. Entertain them with stories, songs, puppet plays, or music, according to your talents. Use ideas from this manual in your presentation. Promote your library's programs and leave a poster with the date on which your reading club begins written on it as a reminder. Ask the school librarian to display it in a prominent spot.

Take bookmarks, posters, and program flyers with you. If possible, print or stamp enough bookmarks with your summer program dates and library hours so that one may be given to each child. Some schools will even include reading club flyers with end of the year report cards.

SAMPLE LETTER TO SCHOOLS

Dear Teachers and Administrators,

The _____,
(Library)

in cooperation with the Texas State Library and Archives Commission, is pleased to announce the 2002 Texas Reading Club. The theme is "Read Across Texas!"

The purpose of the Texas Reading Club is to promote reading, stimulate curiosity, and attract children to the library. The emphasis is on letting children read for fun and helping them retain valuable reading skills during their summer vacations. The Texas Reading Club is a self-paced reading program in which children keep track of the books they read or the time they spend reading. They may register at the Library beginning on _____.
(Date)

Many activities are also planned at the library this summer for children of all ages to highlight this year's theme, including a special teen reading club. May we have your help in encouraging students to visit the public library this summer? A staff member from our library would be happy to visit the elementary and middle schools in your district in May to tell the children about the summer reading club and about the other children's programs at the library. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

_____

SAMPLE LETTER TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS

Dear Parent or Guardian,

To encourage your child to read this summer, the

_____
(Library)

is sponsoring the 2002 Texas Reading Club. The theme for this club is "Read Across Texas!" The library will offer many activities that make reading fun. These programs begin _____ and end _____.
(Date)

Contact the library at _____ (Phone Number)
for a schedule of the planned activities.

Encourage your child to participate in the Texas Reading Club! By doing so, you will help your child retain hard-earned reading skills acquired during the school year. The library has books, audio-cassettes, and videos available for check out. Your family can explore Texas from the gulf coast to the piney woods with an inexpensive trip to the library, and your library card is free!
See you at the library!

Sincerely,

SAMPLE LETTER TO PRESCHOOL/DAYCARE CENTER

Dear Preschool/Daycare Center Staff,

The _____ is pleased to
(Your Library's Name)
announce "Read Across Texas!" This is the theme of the 2002 Texas Reading Club. Preschool children can participate and receive awards by joining the Read to Me Club and listening to books that are read to them. Children who read can join the Texas Reading Club and receive recognition for the number of the books read or the amount of time spent reading.

_____ also provides special
(Your Library's Name)
programs just for daycare centers. Please call the library at _____ to register for the Texas Reading Club,

SERVING CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) states that reasonable accommodations must be made for persons with disabilities in library buildings, programs, and materials. When putting together programs and activities for the 2001 Texas Reading Club, keep in mind that whatever works for children with disabilities will work for all children. With a little planning, simple, inexpensive adaptations can be introduced to program sites and materials to enable more children to enjoy the activities.

The Talking Book Program (TBP), a division of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission (TSLAC), has a Disability Information and Referral Center (DIRC) that provides information to any interested persons about adaptive equipment, games and toys, support groups, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and other topics. Questions will be answered by staff or referred to other resources. The DIRC can be reached at 1-800-252-9605 (in Texas) or 512-463-5458 (in Austin) or by email at tbp.services@tsl.state.tx.us.

THE TALKING BOOK PROGRAM

The Talking Book Program (TBP) is a joint state and federal program that provides unabridged books in alternate formats for Texans of all ages who are unable to read standard print material due to visual, physical, or reading disabilities. The service is free of charge and available to anyone who qualifies because they are unable to read standard print material as a result of temporary or permanent visual or physical limitations.

A properly certified application must be submitted for each prospective patron verifying that the applicant meets one or more of the federal eligibility criteria, namely:

- ★ Blindness
  - ★ A visual disability of sufficient severity to prevent the reading of standard print without the use of an aid other than prescription glasses
  - ★ A physical disability that prevents the individual from holding a book or turning the pages, or
  - ★ A reading disability that is physically based and of sufficient severity to prevent the reading of standard print material in a normal manner.
- Applications submitted for individuals with reading disabilities must be certified by a medical doctor or doctor of osteopathy. Applications submitted for individuals with other disabilities can be certified by a number of professionals in various fields related to health care, education, or rehabilitation, or by a professional librarian or library director.
- TBP provides books on cassette tape, in braille, and in large print. Special playback equipment is loaned free of charge for use with books in cassette. All materials are circulated to TBP patrons free of charge through the regular U.S. Postal service.
- Because TBP patrons are located throughout the state and interaction is limited to the telephone and the mail, TBP encourages younger patrons to participate in the Texas Reading Club activities sponsored by public libraries in their communities. TBP will continue to provide the books in alternative media needed.
- Please refer any individual qualified to use this service to TBP for an application, or call and request applications and brochures to keep in your library. Help young readers with disabilities in Texas make the most of the Texas Reading Club experience!

2002 TEXAS READING CLUB THEME SONG

(Sing to the Tune of Pick a Bale of Cotton)

By Sally Meyers

Let's saddle up, move on out!
Read across Texas!
Grab a book, turn the page!
Yippee-ti-yi-yeah!

Chorus:
Hey pard'ner
Read across Texas!
Hey pard'ner,
Read a book a day!

My pard'ner and I can
read across Texas!
My pard'ner and I can
Read a book a day!

Went to El Paso to
Read about vaqueros
Went to El Paso to
Read a Book a Day!

Went to Laredo to
Read about Mexico
Went to Laredo to
Read a book a day!

There're armadillos, javelinas,
Read across Texas!
Roadrunners, jackrabbits
Yippee ti yi yo!

There're cowboy boots,
Ten-gallon hats
Read across Texas!
Silver buckles, sombreros,
Yippee ti yi yo!

There're tumbleweeds, rattlesnakes,
Read across Texas!
Saddles, spurs, and little doggies,
Yippee ti yi yo!

(Children make up verses using their friends' names and things they like to read about, such as cowboys. Examples are below.)

Travis and I can
Read about cowboys,
Travis and I can
Read a book a day!

Read about longhorns...
Read about sagebrush...
Read about cactus....
Read about coyotes...
Read about Dallas...

CELEBRATIONS

BY LELANA FOLEY

KICK-OFF CELEBRATION: BULLETIN BOARD

TEXAS HOE DOWN!

BOOKS TO DISPLAY AND BOOK TALK

Barn Dance by Bill Martin, Jr.

Bubba the Cowboy Prince: A Fractured Texas Tale by Helen Ketteiman.

Cindy Ellen: A Wild Western Cinderella by Susan Lowell.

The Three Little Javelinas by Susan Lowell.

Yippee-Yay! A Book about Cowboys and Cowgirls by Gail Gibbons.

DISPLAY AND BOOK TALK

Bluebonnet at the Alamo by Mary Brooke Casad.

Bluebonnet at the Marshall Train Depot by Mary Brooke Casad.

Gaston Goes to Texas by James Rice.

The Inside-Outside Book of Texas by Roxie Munro.

READ ACROSS TEXAS!

Enlarge the clip art picture at the end of this manual of the cowboy and cowgirl holding the sign, "Read Across Texas!" and paint or color it, and hang it on your bulletin board along with the dates of your reading club.

PUBLICITY

WANTED: TEXAS READERS

Write the words "You Are WANTED!" or "WANTED: TEXAS READERS" across the top of a large sheet of butcher paper. Hang it on your bulletin board. Invite children in your community to come to your library in western wear. Take their pictures and hang them on your bulletin board. Invite them to hold their favorite book in the picture.

Print "You are WANTED!" posters and flyers to advertise the kickoff party and post them throughout your community along with your library's name and the dates of your reading club. At the bottom of the poster, write "And Don't Forget to Wear Your Western Duds."

In accordance with the confidentiality amendment to the Texas Open Records Act, be sure to get permission from a parent or legal guardian before displaying each child's picture. A sample permission form is included at the end of this program.

DISPLAYS

Hang a large Texas flag in your library.

DISPLAY CASE

Cover the shelf with red bandanas, a red and white checkered table cloth, a serape, or an Indian or Mexican blanket. Display children's books about Texas celebrations and festivals and CDs by Texas musicians. Surround them with cowboy hats, boots, and stuffed armadillos. Sprinkle confetti shaped like boots, cowboy hats, or other Texas symbols around the books. You will find confetti in craft shops and party stores. Be sure that toddlers cannot reach the confetti.

DECORATIONS

RIDIN' THE TRAIL

Decorate the perimeter of your room with a fence made out of construction paper and paper maché or plastic cacti. Purchase tumbleweeds at a local craft store and place them along the fence. Hang cowboy hats and lassos on the wall. Cut or draw silhouettes of cowboys and place them throughout the room. On butcher paper, write Texas trivia questions and answers and hang them on the walls. If your party is outside, decorate with hay bales.

REFRESHMENTS

On a table covered with a red-and-white checkered tablecloth, serve trail mix, sausage or jerky, and Texas-shaped nacho chips with salsa, melted velveeta, avocado dip, or bean dip. Use bowls or platters in the shape of Texas and red and white napkins and plates. Serve "Ten-Gallon Punch" made from equal parts lemon-lime soda and cranberry juice, or serve red Kool-aide and call it "Chili Juice." Start your program by ringing a musical triangle and calling out, "Come an' get it!"

NAME TAGS

Give the children nametags shaped like five pointed stars.

COSTUMES

BEST WESTERN WEAR CONTEST

Wear your western duds and invite the children to show off their western wear at the party. Have judges award certificates or prizes+ in several categories, e.g. "Most Authentic," "Most Like a Rhinestone Cowboy," "Most Like a Country Music Star," "Funniest," etc. All who attend might receive a free book.

CONTEST

COUNT THE CORN

Fill a jar with popping corn or candy corn. (Count the number of pieces ahead of time.) As the children arrive, have them write their estimate of how many pieces are in the jar on a piece of paper and put it into a box. The person whose guess is closest without exceeding the correct number is the winner and gets to keep the jar of corn. Announce the winner at the end of the party.

SONGS

I'm Texan, I'm a Texan,
From a way down yonder where the Texans are.
I can rope,
I can ride,
I can shoot a gun.
So come on down and join the fun.

ACTIVITIES

RATTLESNAKE TRAIL

Roll out a long sheet of bubble wrap. Decorate it as a hiking trail by putting a rocks and plants around the sides. The object of the game is to walk across the "rattlesnake trail" without popping the bubble wrap and "getting bit by the snake." Give each child a plastic bag filled with trail mix after they walk the rattlesnake trail.

THE CHICKEN DANCE

Play a recording of the "Chicken Dance" and teach it to the children. Here are the movements.

1. Bend your elbows and hold your hands next to your shoulders and open and close them like beaks. "Chirp" your fingers four times for 4 counts of music.
2. Bend your elbows and put your arms your arms in a "wing position" with hands tucked in armpits. Flap your wings 4 times for 4 counts of music.

3. Wiggle your "tail feathers" and bend your knees four times for 4 counts of music.
4. Clap your hands 4 times for 4 counts of music.
5. Repeat all of the movements above three more times, to complete the chorus.

SQUARE DANCE

Put on a musical recording and teach the children a square dance or a line dance.

SING ALONG

Lead the children in singing traditional songs such as "Deep in The Heart of Texas" or "San Antonio Rose" by Bob Wills. Or, play recordings of classic country music.

GAMES

PIN TEXAS ON THE UNITED STATES

Hang a map of the United States and take turns letting the blindfolded children pin a Texas shape on the map. (For your convenience, an outline map of Texas is included at the end of this chapter.) Give a prize to the one who places it closest to the correct geographic location.

TEXAS BINGO

Make special bingo cards with the letters "TEXAS" across the top of the card instead of "BINGO." Place pictures rather than numbers on the cards. Pictures might include a yellow rose, cactus, armadillo, boot, cowboy hat, bluebonnet, Alamo, peach, snake, rocket, etc. Make a set of cards with each variation of letters and pictures on small pieces of paper and laminate. Advertise your program and when the children arrive, give them their Texas Bingo cards. Pick the laminated cards one at a time and call them out, such as “S - Cactus” or “T - Armadillo.” You’ll find pictures of Texas symbols in the Texas Symbols Matching Game in the Preschool Chapter. More Texas symbols may be found at www.50states.com.

SNAKE TOSS

Enlarge the snake pattern at the end of this chapter, cut it out, and glue it to a large piece of cardboard. Paint or color it and cut a large hole through its mouth. Each child takes a turn throwing a ball into the mouth. Or, make small beanbags filled with pasta or beans for them to toss.

TURKEY HUNT

Use a marker to draw a turkey face and feathers on numerous balloons. Set up boundaries for a “turkey hunting grounds” by placing masking tape on the floor. Place two strips of masking tape across the room as starting lines. Children form pairs and two sets of pairs play at one time. Blindfold one player from each team and give him/her a straight pin. (Be careful with those pins, especially with very young children!) This player is called the “turkey hunter.” Give the second player of each pair a balloon. This player is called the “turkey.” The “turkey hunters” stand behind the starting line. To play, spin the two “turkey hunters” around two or three times. During this time, their partners, the “turkeys”, place their balloons within the “turkey hunting grounds.” The object of the game is to see which “turkey” can guide his “turkey hunter” partner to pop their team’s balloon first. The “turkey” stands by his/her balloon and makes gobbling noises to guide his/her blindfolded “turkey hunter” partner to their team’s balloon. Neither player may speak, nor can the players touch each other. The children who are watching must not to speak either. When a “turkey hunter” finds a balloon turkey, he or she is pops it with the pin. If she/he pops the wrong balloon, that team loses. The first pair to pop the correct balloon wins.

CRAFTS

TEXAS FLAG

Materials

White index cards, or card stock cut into 3” X 5” rectangles
Blue strips of paper cut into 1 2/3” X 3” rectangles
Red strips of paper cut into 1 1/2” X 3 1/3” rectangles
Straws

White stars approximately 1” tall
Glue sticks and tape

Directions

A picture of the Texas Flag is included as a guide for this craft. Put glue on one side of a 1 1/2” X 3 1/3” red strip and attach it along the bottom of the 3” X 5” index card so that it meets up on all edges. Place glue on one side of a 1 2/3” X 3” blue strip and attach it to the left side of the index card. Place glue on one side of a white star and put it in the center of the blue strip. Tape a straw to the left side of the flag.

ALAMO COLORING SHEET

Distribute the coloring sheet of the Alamo provided at the end of this chapter.

GUEST SPEAKERS AND ENTERTAINERS

Invite a country or bluegrass band to entertain the children.
Invite a local storyteller to tell Texas tales or Native American stories.

PARENTAL/GUARDIAN PERMISSION FOR DISPLAYING PHOTOGRAPHS

The _____ is promoting the (Name of Library)

2002 Texas Reading Club with a bulletin board entitled, "WANTED: TEXAS READERS." Children are invited to bring their photographs, or to have their photograph taken by library staff member, to display on this bulletin board. In accordance with the confidentiality amendment of the Texas Open Records Act, if a child is a minor, or under 18 years of age, the

_____ must have the signed, written permission of that minor's parent or legal guardian before displaying the child's picture. If you would like for your child to participate in this program, please complete, sign, and date this permission form so that we may display your child's photograph on the library's bulletin board. Thank you, and we look forward to your child's participation in this summer's reading club.
(Name of Library)

The _____ may, or may not, do the

BULLETIN BOARD

Enlarge the clipart picture at the end of this manual of the steer reading a book. Color it and display it on your bulletin board.

DECORATIONS

WILD, WILD WEST

Decorate your library or programming room like an old western town. Draw and label the bank, saloon, jail, outhouse, and corral with horses on butcher paper and hang them on the walls. Or, enlarge some of the clip art in the back of this manual.

SNACKS

Place a red checkered tablecloth on the table and simulate a campfire in the middle using twigs and red, orange, and yellow cellophane. Serve apple cider, beanie weenies, beef jerky, or hotdogs, cornbread muffins, and apple pie with ice cream.

SONGS

Start your celebration with a cowboy sing-along! You'll find a variety of favorite Texas lyrics and melodies at Lone Star Junction at www.lsjunction.com/.

DEEP IN THE HEART OF TEXAS

(Music by Don Swander and words by June Hershey circa 1941)

The stars at night, are big and bright, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas,
 The prairie sky is wide and high, (clap, clap, clap, clap, clap)
 Deep in the heart of Texas.
 The sage in bloom is like perfume, (clap, clap, clap, clap, clap)
 Deep in the heart of Texas,
 Reminds me of, the one I love, (clap, clap, clap, clap, clap)
 Deep in the heart of Texas,
 The coyotes wail, along the trail, (clap, clap, clap, clap, clap)
 Deep in the heart of Texas,
 The rabbits rush, around the brush, (clap, clap, clap, clap, clap)
 Deep in the heart of Texas
 The cowboys cry, "Ki-yip-pee-yi," (clap, clap, clap, clap, clap)
 Deep in the heart of Texas.
 The doggies bawl, and bawl and bawl, (clap, clap, clap, clap, clap, clap) clap

HOME ON THE RANGE

(Written by Brewster Higley, composed by Daniel Kelley)

Oh, give me a home, where the buffalo roam,
 Where the deer and the antelope play,
 Where seldom is heard a discouraging word,
 And the skies are not cloudy all day.

Chorus:

Home, home on the range,
 Where the deer and the antelope play,
 Where seldom is heard a discouraging word,
 And the skies are not cloudy all day.

Where the air is so pure, the zephyrs so free,
 The breezes so balmy and light,

That I would not exchange my home on the range
 For all the cities so bright.

Chorus.

Oh, give me a land where the bright diamond sand
 Flows leisurely down the stream;
 Where the graceful white swan goes gliding along
 Like a maid in a heavenly dream.

Chorus.

The red man was pressed from this part of the West,
 He's likely no more to return
 To the banks of Red River where seldom if ever
 Their flickering campfires burn.

Chorus.

How often at night when the heavens are bright
 With the light of the glittering stars,
 Have I stood here amazed and asked as I gazed
 If their glory exceeds that of ours.

Chorus.

Oh, I love these wild flowers in this dear land of ours;
 The curlew I love to hear scream;
 And I love the white rocks and the antelope flocks
 That graze on the mountain-tops green.

Chorus.

Then I would not exchange my home on the range,
Where the deer and the antelope play;
Where seldom is heard a discouraging word

STORIES

Tell The Horned Toad Prince by Jackie Hopkins, a humorous retelling of the "Frog Prince" with a Southwestern twist.

PUPPET SHOW

Perform "The Ballad of Ginger Fella" in the chapter of this manual entitled, "Puppet Plays, Stories, and Reader's Theater Scripts."

BANDANA BRANDS

Materials

Wood or rubber, 4" wide and 2" thick
Red, white, and/or blue cloths cut into triangles for bandanas
Various colors of paint
Paint brushes

Carving Tool

Directions

In advance, design or select brands and carve them into the wood or rubber to make stamps. The children will lay the cloth flat, dip the paintbrush into the paint, brush the paint over the brand, and place the brand face down on the cloth. They may repeat this as many times as they choose with various brands and colors of paint. When the paint dries, the children can tie their bandannas around their heads or necks.

SPONGE PRINTING SHAPES

Materials

Marker
Animal sponge shapes such as a cow, horse, and dog
Film canisters
Hot glue gun
Three colors of paint
Three trays
Large sheets of butcher paper
Tape

Directions

This may be a project that the children do together on a large sheet of butcher paper or individually on small sheets of paper. Sponges may be purchased at a craft store. You may want to make smocks for children to wear. (Many can be cut from one vinyl tablecloth.) In preparation for this craft, glue the lids onto the film canisters and glue the sponges to one end. The canister will serve as a handle. Place a small amount of one color of paint into each tray. The children dip the sponges into the paint and press them onto the paper to make animal shapes. If the children are making a mural, draw a corral or western town on the butcher paper when they finish and display it in your library.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

PIN THE HAT ON THE COWBOY

Follow the same rules as pin the tail on the donkey. Enlarge a copy of the patterns of the cowboy and cowboy hat at the end of this chapter and hang the cowboy on the wall. Blindfold the children, blindfold turn them around, and see how close they can place the hat to the cowboy's head. Give each child a small prize for playing.

ROPE THE LONGHORN

Let the children toss a ring, such as a jelly jar ring, onto the horns of a stuffed cow or longhorn. Let young children toss a hoop. Animal stickers make great prizes.

BARREL RACING

Set out stools, baskets, or other objects and have the children race around them. Time them to see how fast they complete the “barrel” course and give them small prizes for participating. You may wish to let them ride stick horses.

HORSESHOES

Copy the horseshoe pattern at the end of this chapter, cut five or more from cardboard, and cover them with aluminum foil. Set up a small pole. The children stand about two feet away and toss five of the horseshoes and see who can toss the most onto the pole.

LASSO A STEER

This game is like fishing. Paint a rodeo or western scene on a large piece of cardboard or the side of a large cardboard box. A child stands on one side of the screen and hangs a rope tied into a lasso with a paper clip attached over the screen. A volunteer attaches a prize to the paper clip and the child lifts the rope to retrieve the prize. Prizes might be sheriff badges, stickers, plastic animals, etc.

COWBOY HAT AND LEATHER GLOVES RELAY

Bring two pairs of gloves and two cowboy hats. Divide the children into teams of three or four. Two teams play at a time. Place two pieces of masking tape on the floor on one side of the room and two tables or chairs on the opposite side of the room. Place a hat and a pair of gloves on each table or chair. The children on each team line up behind one of the pieces of tape. When the librarian calls out, “On your mark, get set, go!” the first child in each line runs to the opposite side of the room puts on a hat and a pair of gloves, takes them off, and runs back across the room to the back of the line. Each team member then takes a turn. The first team to finish wins.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite a storyteller to tell stories about life in the old west or invite a cowboy poet to entertain the children.

Invite a cowboy to visit to the library in western wear and show the children how to use a lasso, brand cattle, shoe horses, and other activities.

AUDIO RECORDING

THE BALLAD OF GINGER FELLA

BY MISSY EDGMON

CHARACTERS

Narrator
Black Bart
Ginger Fella
Sasparilla Armadilla

PROPS

“Glass” Boots
Legs sewn on Ginger Fella puppet

Narrator: Once upon a time, there was a poor mistreated cowboy named Ginger Fella.

(Enter Ginger Fella)

Ginger Fella: It isn't fair! Every year when rodeo time comes around I never get to be in any of the events. Instead, I have to slop buckets, clean out the stalls, and clean up after the horses and the other animals, if you know what I mean. And it's all on account of my no good feet. (Sling feet to front of stage) My feet are SO ginger, even the thickest boots won't keep me from getting big ol' fat ugly blisters that stay sore for days. That's why they call me Ginger Fella.

(Enter Black Bart)

Black Bart: Yo, Ginger Fella, you got my horse saddled and ready to go? The buckin' bronco competition is about to begin.

(Pull Ginger Fella's feet back behind the stage)

Ginger Fella: Yeah, Black Bart. (Pause) Say, I have an eentsy weentsy favor to ask. You know that old horse of yours named Charlie? I was wondering if you would let me try to ride him in the bucking bronco event.

Black Bart: You on my Charlie horse? Forget it, Ginger. He may be old, but he won't let a cream puff like you ride him! Anyway, you'd lose for sure! Why, you're just barkin' at a knot!

(Black Bart exits)

Ginger Fella (Looking at audience): See what I mean! It just isn't fair!

Sasparilla Armadilla: Ginger Fella, I hear you've been having troubles lately.

Ginger Fella: You got that right! Say, I haven't seen you around here before.

Sasparilla Armadilla: I'm Sasparilla Armadilla. I can grant wishes to poor downtrodden cow pokes. What's your wish, Ginger Fella?

Ginger Fella: Oh, I would LOVE to be in the bucking bronco contest. But my feet are SO ginger, even the thickest boots won't keep me from getting big ol' fat, ugly blisters...

Sasparilla Armadilla: That's o.k, you really don't need to describe it to me. I have just the thing. These glass boots should protect your tootsies. (Insert name of narrator), would you do the honors?

Narrator: Sure enough. (Narrator puts boots on Ginger)

Ginger Fella: These feel great! But I don't have a horse.

Sasparilla Armadilla: I already thought of that. I'm going to turn that stable mouse over there (gestures back stage) into the meanest bucking bronco you ever did see.

Ginger Fella: M-m-m-meanest???

Sasparilla Armadilla: Yep! He's a real snorter! But the spell will only last until High Noon. Then he turns back into a stable mouse.

Ginger Fella: Well I swan! I guess life is fair after all!

(Both exit)

Narrator: So, Ginger Fella got to be in the bucking bronco competition. And you should have seen that mean bronco buck. And you should have seen Ginga Fella hold on for dear life! (Throw Ginger above the stage a few times and yell: Yee Ha!! Yippee!! Whoa Doggie!!!, etc.) Why, it was one long stretch of time before he kissed the ground! And when the competition was over, Ginger Fella won! But before the rodeo winners were announced, it struck High Noon.

(Enter Ginger Fella, running across stage)

Ginger Fella: Oh, my goodness! I've got to get back to the stables or I'll be in big trouble with Black Bart! (Ginger Fella runs across stage and trips. One boot is thrown to the front of the stage)

Ginger Fella: Oops! Oh, no, my boot...no time to waste! (Ginger exits)

Narrator: (Holding the glass boot) And so the glass boot was the only way the awards committee had to find the winner of the rodeo's grand prize. And wouldn't you know it, Black Bart tried to pretend it was his.

(Enter Black Bart)

Black Bart: I do believe that boot is mine, and you can just give me my rodeo buckle now.

Narrator: You have to try the boot on to prove it's yours, Black Bart.

Black Bart: Give that to me!

(Narrator hands boot to Bart. Bart bends over trying to put it on behind the stage)

Black Bart: OWOWOWOWOWOWOWOWOWOW! It's almost on...it's al-most on...I've got it...I've got it!! (Boing!)

(Boot comes flying over the stage, narrator catches it)

Narrator: Sorry, Black Bart, I'm afraid we all know its not yours.

Black Bart (From behind the stage): Why, I'm mad as a rattler! I wanted that rodeo buckle!

Narrator: When it came time for Ginger Fella to try on the book, Black Bart was still mad as rattler.

(Enter Ginger and Bart)

Black Bart: You don't really intend to try that boot on this creampuff, do you? Why, he's just a bucket slopper!

Narrator: Yes, Black Bart, we really do intend to try this boot on Ginger Fella.

(Sling Ginger's feet to the front of stage. Narrator puts on the boot)

Ginger Fella: It fits! I was afraid my feet would be all swolled up from the excitement! Well, Black Bart, you can slop your own buckets from now on!

(Exit Black Bart)

Narrator: Ginger Fella was crowned champion of the rodeo and got a great big buckle!

(Backstage throw Ginger up a few times and yell, YIPPEE! WHOA DOGGIE! YEE HAA!!!, etc.)

Narrator: And so, Sasparilla Armadilla rode off into the sunset singing "Happy Trails to You." And Ginger Fella lived happily every after.

Narrator leads the audience in singing, "Happy Trails"

THE COWBOY WHO CRIED COYOTE

BY GAYLE A. TRAVIS

(Adapted from the "Boy Who Cried Wolf" in
One Person Puppet Plays by Denise Anton Wright)

Cowboy
Coyote
Sherriff
Cow

BACK DROP

Paint a herd of cattle on the background of the prairie.

(Enter Cowboy and Cow. Cowboy is pacing back and forth.)

Cowboy: (To the audience) Howdy folks. My job is to watch over these cattle from morning till night. It sure is a boring job. I try to kill time by singing and writing cowboy poetry. Try this on for size –

There once was a cowboy tall
Who hardly thought of his cattle at all.
They spent all their time grazing
Which made the tall cowboy feel lazy
And dream about horses and songs.

Cow: Moo.

Cowboy: I wish something exciting would happen, like a coyote would come along and try to get at my herd.

Cow: Moo.

Cowboy: In fact I wonder what would happen if I yelled, "coyote!" really loud. I will pretend there is a coyote! That will stir things up a bit!

Cow: Moo.

Cowboy: Help, help! It's a coyote! There is a coyote after the cattle. Help!

Sheriff: (Runs on stage, very excited) What's the matter? Are you hurt? Where is the coyote?

Cowboy: Hot diggity dog! Ya'll sure came fast! (Innocently) I guess all my yelling scared the coyote away.

Sheriff: Well the main thing is that you are safe and the coyote didn't get the cattle. (Exits stage)

Cowboy: That sure was fun! What should I do now. It is so boring out here. I know, what about a song? Sing along with me:

Home, home on the range,
Where the deer and the antelope play,
Where seldom is heard,
A discouraging word,
And the skies are not cloudy all day. (Repeat – singing off key)

Cow: Moo.

Cowboy: Well that sure was nice but I am still bored. Why don't we have some more fun. I am going to yell and see if that fella comes running back to help.

Cow: Moo.

Cowboy: Help, help! It's a coyote! There is a coyote after the cattle. Help!

Sheriff: (Runs on stage again, this time out of breath) What's the matter? (Looks around the stage) I don't see any coyote here. Are you sure there was a coyote after the cattle?

Cowboy: Well, I swan. That coyote was right here a minute ago. I reckon my yelling scared him away.

Sheriff: (Still suspicious) Well...if that coyote comes again, you yell and I will come running to the rescue. (Exits stage)

Cowboy: (To audience) Boy we sure do have him fooled, don't we? Let's sing another song to liven things up a bit. Do you know "Get Along Little Dogies?" All together now.

As I walked out one morning for pleasure,
I met a cowpuncher a jogging along;
His hat was thrown back and his spurs was a jingling
And as he advanced he was singing this song:
Yippee ti yo, get along little dogies
It's your misfortune and none of my own
Yippe ti yo, get along little dogies.
You know that Wyoming will be your new home.

That sure was fun. I bet that fella will still come running if I call again.

Cow: Moo.

Cowboy: Help, help! It's a coyote! There is a coyote after the cattle again. Help!

Sheriff: (Runs on stage) Okay, where is that coyote? I don't see a coyote here! I think you are making this all up. Don't bother to call again because I am not just going to keep running up here for no reason. (Exits stage)

(Cow exits stage)

Cowboy: Gosh darn, he sure is mad. Some people just can't take a joke. Where did that cow go? I had better round him up or I will be in big trouble! (Exits stage)

Coyote: (Enters stage howling) Wow, look at all these cattle. I think I will have a little fun with that cowboy. It will teach him to go off and leave the herd like this. I will scare the daylights out of him when he comes back. (Hides to one side of the stage)

Cowboy: I can't find that blasted cow anywhere! I hope it rejoined the herd or I am going to be in even more trouble with my trail boss.

Coyote: (Jumps from corner of stage and scares the Cowboy) Grrrrrr.

Cowboy: Help, help! It's a coyote! There is a coyote after the cattle. Help! It's going to eat me too. Help! There really is a coyote! (Runs off stage screaming)

Coyote: That will teach him! (Exits stage howling)

Sheriff: (Enters stage) Yawn. That cowboy just won't learn!

Cowboy: (Enters stage out of breath) There REALLY is a coyote!

Sheriff: Sorry pardoner – you called for help when there really wasn't a need before. We aren't going to believe you now. (Exits stage)

Cowboy: Now I see what happens when you lie. Soon no one will believe anything you say, even when it is true. (To the audience) You nice folks remember that. I've sure learned my lesson! From now on, I'll stick to singing and poetry to entertain myself. Say, would you'll sing one with me now? How about, "Deep in the Heart of Texas?"

(Sheriff and coyote come back on stage to sing)

Deep in the Heart of Texas

(Music by Don Swander and words by June Hershey circa 1941)

The stars at night, are big and bright, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas,

The prairie sky is wide and high, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas.

The sage in bloom is like perfume, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas,

Reminds me of, the one I love, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas.

The coyotes wail, along the trail, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas,

The rabbits rush, around the brush, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas

The cowboys cry, "Ki-yip-pee-yi," (clap, clap, clap, clap)

Deep in the heart of Texas.

The dogies bawl, and bawl and bawl, (clap, clap, clap, clap)

THE BABE OF THE ALAMO: ANGELINA DICKINSON

BY DONNA INGHAM

I suppose almost everybody knows about the Battle of the Alamo. And what most people know for sure is that there were no survivors among the defenders of the Alamo. None of the Texas soldiers who fought there lived to tell the tale. But there were survivors among the Texans at the Alamo, and one of them was a little girl—I mean a really little girl named Angelina Elizabeth Dickinson. Back in March of 1836 she wasn't quite a year and a half old. And she didn't know anything about war or the reasons for war. She just knew how to be a baby and do what babies do. And that made her adorable to the men on both sides.

Well, to her daddy, of course. He was a young officer in the Texas army, Almeron Dickinson, and he'd brought his wife, Susanna, and his daughter with him to the Alamo. And he carried Angelina with him everywhere he went—even when he went to a meeting with Col. William Barret Travis.

So there she was crawling around, playing on the floor, doing what babies do, and Col. Travis himself could not resist her baby charms. In the midst of all his concerns about being way outmanned by the Mexican army and about having none of the reinforcements he had asked for and hoped for, he picked Angelina up and lifted her onto his lap. Then he took a hammered gold ring with a black cat's eye stone off his finger, tied it through with a string he found in his pocket, and slipped it over Angelina's head like a necklace. "If my boy was here," he said, "I'd give this to him. But I won't be needing it anymore, so you keep it for me."

She already had a wooden doll whittled for her by Davy Crockett, that funny man from Tennessee who made her laugh when he'd tickle her with the tail hanging from his fur skin cap—sometimes coon skin, sometimes fox skin—and he made her bounce on her little fat legs when he played his hoe down fiddle. Oh, she got attention from everyone. That's what babies do.

If she remembered anything about the battle going on around her on March 6, 1836, it was probably the noise: the sounds of gunfire and cannon fire and men shouting orders—and men crying out in pain. She might remember being held close by her mother, Susanna, as they huddled in a small room where gunpowder had been stored. She might even remember the left-over smell of that gunpowder. And then there was the silence, when the noise was all over and everything was quiet again after the Mexicans had overrun the old mission.

She might remember being carried by her mother from that small room into a larger one where a man wearing a fancy military uniform and white gloves reached out for her. And she did what babies do: she went to him and sat on his lap and played with all the medals hanging off his jacket. When he spoke to her, the words were soft and musical. "Hermosa," he said, "muy hermosa." Later her mother would tell her that he was calling her beautiful, very beautiful. And later her mother would tell her that this man wanted to take Angelina—only he called her Angelina—back to Mexico with him. "I want this child," he said. "I will give her the best Mexico has to offer: clothes and jewels and education."

But her mother said, "No, never!" For this man, of course, was General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, the man who had ordered "no quarter," who had said there would be no survivors among those who fought against him, including Susanna's husband and Angelina's father, Almeron.

So Santa Anna gave them safe passage away from the Alamo and made Susanna his messenger. "Go," he said, "and tell all the Texans that the Alamo has fallen, and tell Sam Houston that any further resistance will be useless."

As they rode from the Alamo to Sam Houston's camp, Susanna and Angelina encountered other

Texans, one of whom was Erastus “Deaf” Smith, and it was Smith who reached out for Angelina this time. And she did what babies do: she went to him and cuddled down against the soft deerskin of his jacket and went back to sleep. Once they reached Sam Houston’s camp, Smith continued to hold Angelina and rock her as she slept and as Susanna poured out her story of those thirteen days at the Alamo and of the brave defenders who died there.

And from that story came the rallying cry, “Remember the Alamo!” that took the Texans into battle at San Jacinto: the battle they won, the battle in which they captured Santa Anna, the battle that assured Texas its independence from Mexico and its beginnings as a new republic.

And Angelina? Oh, she would remember the Alamo too, no doubt—or at least some of the men there whose lives she touched with her innocence—every time she looked at that hammered gold ring with the black cat’s eye stone or that crudely-carved wooden doll, or anytime she saw brightly-ribboned medals hanging on a military uniform.

And we remember her as the Babe of the Alamo.

GOING TO ROUND ROCK

ADAPTED BY DOROTHY MCMAHON

(Flannel board patterns are provided after this story for you to copy and use in its presentation.)

One afternoon, Coyote was walking next to the horse pasture of the Flying Mustang Ranch. Suddenly, several horseflies began flying around his head. Coyote reached up, caught one of those horseflies, and quickly put it in the burlap sack he was carrying. He tied up that burlap sack, threw it over his shoulder, and started traveling down the road.

He traveled until he came to the Running W Ranch where he met Garwood, the ranch house cook. Garwood was cooking up a mess of delicious smelling chili. Now when Coyote smelled it, he was hungry! So, coyote hatched a plan to rustle up something to eat.

“Could I leave my burlap sack here while I go to Round Rock?” asked Coyote.

Garwood said, “Sure, you can leave it here. I don’t mind at all.”

“That’s very neighborly and kind of you,” said Coyote. “But while I’m gone, be sure not to open my burlap sack.”

Coyote sauntered off down the road grinnin’ from ear to ear. He was barely out of sight before Garwood looked at that tightly tied burlap sack. Usually, he was not very curious, but for some reason, his curiosity got the better of him. “Why shouldn’t I take just one little bitty peek inside that sack?” he thought. And he did.

Of course, when he did that horsefly came flying out. A gecko living under the nearby porch quickly caught that horsefly with a flip of its long tongue and swallowed him in one gulp.

Now Coyote, he turned right back around, came back to the Running W. Ranch, and picked up his sack. It felt lighter than it had before, so he looked inside. Seeing that his horsefly was gone, he said, “My horsefly is gone. You opened my burlap sack, didn’t you?”

“I did open your burlap sack,” Garwood said. “I was taking just one little peek when that horsefly flew out and it was eaten by the gecko that lives under the porch.”

“Well, it’s too bad that happened,” said Coyote. “But now I must take the gecko.”

Coyote scooped up that gecko, put him in his burlap sack, and continued walking down the road.

He traveled until he came to the Yellow Rose of Texas Ranch. There he met Miss Ruby Lee Gerdes who was one of the prettiest cowgirls around those parts.

“Could I leave my burlap sack here while I go to Round Rock?” asked Coyote.

Miss Ruby Lee said, “Sure, you can leave it here. I don’t mind at all.”

“That’s very neighborly and kind of you,” said Coyote. “But while I’m gone, be sure not to open my burlap sack.”

Coyote sauntered off down the road grinnin’ from ear to ear again. He was barely out of sight before Miss Ruby Lee looked at that tightly tied burlap sack. Usually, she was not very curious, but today her curiosity got the better of her. “Why shouldn’t I take just one little bitty peek inside that sack?” she thought. And she did.

Of course, when she did that gecko came scurrying out. Miss Ruby Lee’s pet roadrunner was nearby and quickly gobbled up that gecko in the wink of an eye.

Now Coyote, he turned right back around, came back to the Yellow Rose of Texas Ranch, and picked up his sack. It felt lighter than it had before, so he looked inside. Seeing that his gecko was gone, he said, “My gecko is gone. You opened my burlap sack, didn’t you?”

“I did open your burlap sack,” said Miss Ruby Lee. “I was taking just one little peek when that gecko scurried out and was quickly eaten by my pet roadrunner.”

“Well, it’s too bad that happened,” said Coyote. “But now I must take the roadrunner.”

Coyote grabbed that roadrunner, put it in his burlap sack, and continued walking down the road. He traveled until he came to the Rocking R Ranch, which had the finest herd of longhorn cattle in the State of Texas. There he met the ranch foreman, Collie Loflin.

“Could I leave my burlap sack here while I go to Round Rock?” asked Coyote.

Collie Loflin said, “Sure, you can leave it here. I don’t mind at all.”

“That’s very neighborly and kind of you,” said Coyote. “But while I’m gone, be sure not to open my burlap sack.”

Coyote sauntered off down the road grinnin’ from ear to ear. He was barely out of sight before Collie looked at that tightly tied burlap sack. Usually he was not very curious, but today his curiosity got the better of him. “Why shouldn’t I take just one little bitty peek inside that sack?” he thought. And he did.

Of course, when he did that roadrunner came running out. One of Collie’s longhorns was grazing nearby. It began chasing that roadrunner. The longhorn, however, was no match for the roadrunner; and the roadrunner was out of sight in a flash.

Now Coyote, he turned right back around, came back to the Rocking R Ranch, and picked up his sack. It felt lighter than it had before, so he looked inside. Seeing that his roadrunner was gone, he said, “Where is my roadrunner? You opened my burlap sack, didn’t you?”

“I did open your burlap sack,” said Collie. “I was taking just one little peek when that roadrunner ran out and one of my longhorns chased it away.”

“Well, it’s too bad that happened,” said Coyote. “But now I must take the longhorn.”

Coyote roped that longhorn, put it in his burlap sack, and continued walking down the road.

He traveled until he came to the Bluebonnet Ranch. There he met the owner Miss Ida Mae Dosset and her niece, Ivy Dean, who was visiting her from up North.

“Could I leave my burlap sack here while I go to Round Rock?” asked Coyote.

Miss Ida Mae said, “Sure, you can leave it here. I don’t mind at all.”

“That’s very neighborly and kind of you,” said Coyote. “But while I’m gone, be sure not to open my burlap sack.”

Coyote sauntered off down the road grinnin’ from ear to ear again. He was barely out of sight before Miss Ida Mae looked at that tightly tied burlap sack. Usually, she was not very curious, but today her curiosity got the better of her. “Why shouldn’t I take just one little bitty peek inside that sack,” she thought. And she did.

Of course, when she did that longhorn came bolting out. Ivy Dean had never seen a longhorn before and she screamed. That longhorn was so startled by her scream, he broke through the corral fence and didn’t stop running until it got to the next county.

Now Coyote, he turned right back around, came back to the Bluebonnet Ranch, and picked up his sack. It felt lighter than before, so he looked inside. Seeing that his longhorn was gone, he said, “Where is my longhorn? You opened my burlap sack, didn’t you?”

“I did open your burlap sack,” Miss Ida Mae said. “I was taking just one little peek when that longhorn ran out. My niece Ivy Dean screamed, and I’m afraid her scream scared it to death. And I haven’t seen that longhorn since.

“Well, it’s too bad that happened,” said Coyote. “But now I must take your niece.”

Coyote grabbed Ivy Dean by the arm, put her in his burlap sack, and continued walking down the road.

He traveled until he came to the Circle D Ranch. There he met Mrs. Mildred Inez Dodson, who was famous for her jalapeño bean soup.

“Could I leave my burlap sack here while I go to Round Rock?” asked Coyote.

Mrs. Mildred Inez said, “Sure, you can leave it here. I don’t mind at all.”

“That’s very neighborly and kind of you,” said Coyote. “But while I’m gone, be sure not to open my burlap sack.”

Coyote sauntered off down the road grinnin’ from ear to ear again.

Mrs. Mildred Inez was cooking her famous jalapeño bean soup. Her nieces and nephews, who were visiting, couldn't wait to taste it. "Oh, Aunt Mildred Inez," they said, "When can we have a bowl of your delicious jalapeño bean soup?"

No one at the Circle D Ranch paid one bit of attention to that tightly tied burlap sack, until Ivy Dean, who was scared and hungry inside of it, smelled the delicious soup, and suddenly she cried out, "Oh Miss, could I have a bowl of that soup too?"

Hearing a little girl's voice coming from that burlap sack, Mrs. Mildred Inez quickly opened that sack. When she realized what Coyote was up to, she replaced Ivy Dean with her own pet bobcat and tied that sack back up just as tightly.

Now Coyote, he turned right back around, came back to the Circle D Ranch. He saw that the burlap sack was still tightly tied and it felt full. He threw the burlap sack over his shoulder and continued traveling down the road.

Soon Coyote stopped to rest under a nice shade tree. He was hungry and began to untie the burlap sack. If Ivy Dean had been in that sack, well, you know what might have happened. But, luckily, she wasn't in that sack. She was at Mrs. Mildred Inez's house eating a bowl of her delicious jalapeño bean soup. And, when Coyote untied the burlap sack, he didn't find a little girl. What he did find was a very mad bobcat. That bobcat sprang out of that sack and began chasing Coyote. Coyote scrambled down that road as fast and far as he could just a-yippin' and a-howlin'. And to this day, Coyote has never been seen anywhere near any of those ranches again.

READER'S THEATER

What is Reader's Theater? It is often defined by what it is not. It has no memorizing, acting, props, costumes, or sets. Children use their voices, facial expressions, and hand gestures to interpret their characters.

Here are some tips for a smooth performance:

1. Arrange the readers in a row or semicircle facing the audience. They may all stand or they may all sit. If the readers stand, they may take a step forward while reading and step back when finished. If they are sitting, they may stand while reading and sit when finished.
2. If there are two narrators, put one on each side of the stage.
3. Readers may hold their scripts, or the scripts may be placed on music stands.
4. A child may be assigned to read more than one role. It is best if the two characters do not have consecutive lines.
5. Review words that are difficult to pronounce and define words that the readers may not understand.
6. Allow time for the players to read the script silently. Provide pens and markers for them to highlight their lines and make "stage" notes, such as "gruff voice." If time permits, let them read the script aloud before the performance. It is best if the readers know their lines well enough to look at the audience at least part of the time.
7. Ask one player to introduce the title and author of the story. Instruct all players to freeze until the audience is quiet and ready to listen.

When the reading is finished, the readers will freeze for a long moment and then they all bow together.

CHARACTERS

Mama Armadillo

Papa Armadillo

4 Baby Armadillos: Armando, Alex, Andrew, Antonio

Narrator 1, Narrator 2, Narrator 3, Narrator 4 (Narrators can be combined for use by fewer players)

Big Tex

Narrator 1: Deep in the heart of Texas there lived six armadillos.

Narrator 2: There was Mama Armadillo.

Mama Armadillo: Here I am over here.

Narrator 3: And Papa Armadillo.

Papa Armadillo: I hear someone talking about me.

Narrator 4: And 4 baby armadillos. Armadillos always have four babies of the same sex.

Andrew: I am Andrew.

Armando: I am Armando.

Alex: I am Alex.

Antonio: I am Antonio.

Narrator 1: One day they were sitting in the Texas desert getting ready to eat some worms.

Papa Armadillo: These worms are too slimy.

Mama Armadillo: These worms are too fat.

Armando: My worms are very tasty.

Andrew: Then why are they all over your face?

Alex: You look like an octopus.

Antonio: Slurp them back into your mouth or one of us will eat them for you.

Mama Armadillo: Boys! Quit giving Armando a hard time, you know he has always been a little awkward.

Narrator 2: Suddenly they heard a horrible monster.

ALL: VROOUMM!

Narrator 3: It had four round feet, which rolled as it sped down the road.

Narrator 4: And two HUGE eyes that shot out blinding lights that could make them stop dead in their tracks.

Papa Armadillo: Quick, everyone burrow a hole and hide!

Mama Armadillo: Whatever happens, don't go near the road!

Narrator 1: Soon each armadillo was buried in their own hole.

Papa Armadillo: I am getting too old for this, my hole is too shallow!

Mama Armadillo: This-this hole-hole-hole is too deep-deep-deep (said as if with an echo).

Andrew: Armando! Tuck in your tail!

Alex: It is sticking straight up in the air!

Armando: It won't roll up with me, what should I do?

Antonio: Quick cover it with leaves, maybe it will look like a plant!

Papa Armadillo: Let me do it. Everyone roll into a ball in your hole.

Narrator 2: As Papa Armadillo covered Armando's tail with leaves, the huge road monster came towards them. Suddenly it stopped just when it was about to roll over the plant and the five rolled up armadillos.

Narrator 3: A strange creature opened up the side of the monster and came towards them.

Narrator 4: It had heavy pointed feet and a shell-like hat on its head.

Big Tex: I need to get me some worms if I am going to catch anything at the fishin' hole. Wait, what's that I see yonder?

Narrator 1: Big Tex had spotted the two left over piles of worms and went over to see for himself.

Big Tex: These worms are too slimy. They will never stay on my hook.

Narrator 2: He went and checked out the second pile.

Big Tex: These worms are just right, the fish like them fat and juicy.

Narrator 3: Big Tex gathered the worms up in his jar.

Narrator 4: Armando the awkward armadillo was not just covered with leaves. Instead of rolling up in a ball, he had rolled up into a cube instead.

Big Tex: Now if I could just find a nice heavy brick to weight down the lid of my tackle box . . . Here we are . . . This brick even comes with a handle!

Narrator 1: He had spotted Armando!

Narrator 2: He quickly grabbed Armando by his long tail and put him into the monster's back.

Narrator 3: With its four round feet spraying gravel every which way, it roared off down the road.

Andrew: Boy, that was close.

Alex: We dug great holes.

Antonio: I bet he couldn't even see us.

Andrew: But look at our worms!

Papa Armadillo: Somebody has been fingering my worms.

Mama Armadillo: Somebody has taken all my worms away!

Papa Armadillo: Wait – where is Armando?!

Papa & Mama: That monster must have taken him!

Mama Armadillo: He has been armadillo-napped.

Alex, Antonio, and Andrew: We have to save him!

Narrator 4: Meanwhile Armando was in the back of Big Tex's pick-up.

Armando: Oh no!! How did I get here! I have to get away.

Narrator 1: First he tried to dig a hole in the bed of the pickup but he found the metal floor too hard even for his long claws.

Narrator 2: Next he tried to curl up in a ball, but his cube shape did not even allow him to roll around.

Narrator 3: Soon Big Tex stopped the truck. He picked up Armando the "brick" and his tackle and carried them over to the fishing hole. He got out some bait and then set Armando on top of his tackle box.

Narrator 4: It wasn't until Big Texas was totally involved with his fishing that Armando unrolled his head from the cube he had created. Two huge mule-like ears popped up and listened. His tail still stuck straight into the air like a stiff flower stem. Big Tex leaned back against a tree, closed his eyes, and began to sing "The Crawdad Song."

Big Tex: You get a line and I'll get a pole, honey.
You get a line and I'll get a pole, babe.
You get a line and I'll get a pole and We'll go down to that crawdad' hole,
Oh, honey, oh babe, of mine.

Narrator 1: Big Tex was not paying attention, so Armando jumped down from the tackle box and walked over to the road.

Armando: Oh dear, I don't know which way to go!

Narrator 3: He soon discovered that standing beside the road was dangerous for a small and awkward armadillo.

Narrator 4: He could tell by the monster's tracks that he had come from the road leading to the right and slowly began to move in that direction.

Narrator 1: What Armando did not realize that while he had been in the back of Big Tex's pickup a red piece of cloth had caught on his tail and now it was stuck to the tip.

Narrator 2: Huge road monsters roared by and each time Armando tucked his arms and legs in and rolled up into a cube.

Narrator 3: Each time his tail would go straight up in the air and the cloth would wave like a flag.

Narrator 4: Armando did not realize it but that flag kept him from being road kill time after time. Meanwhile, Mama and Papa Armadillo and Alex and Antonio and Andrew were searching high and low, but mostly low, for poor Armando.

Narrator 1: The road monsters would see the flag and dodge around Armando thinking it was some type of hole or hazard that was marked in the road by road workers.

Papa Armadillo: What is that up ahead?

Mama Armadillo: Nothing but a flag in the road. Ignore that, we have to find Armando!

Andrew: Wait Mom, the flag is attached to something like a box or a brick.

Alex: Sometimes the flag goes down!

Antonio: It's Armando!

Papa Armadillo: There you are Armando!

Mama Armadillo: We have been so worried about you!

Papa Armadillo: We thought you might already be road kill!

Armando: No, Big Tex grabbed me but forgot all about me when he stopped to fish.

Mama Armadillo: Don't tell me he is the one who went through our worms.

Andrew: Yes, and he has taken all the fat ones to fish with.

Papa Armadillo: Goes to show you that you can't trust those humans – what with their grimy hands all over our food.

4 Baby Armadillos: YUCKY!

Papa Armadillo: If we keep close to Armando whenever we are near the road, we will be safe.

Antonio: Armando will act as a flag and the huge monsters will veer away from us.

Alex: Armando will save us all from being road kill!

Narrator 2: And so the family of armadillos moved further away from the road

Narrator 3: And when any of them went near the road they took Armando and his red cloth with them.

Narrator 4: And from then on the Armadillo family was very thankful that Armando was an awkward armadillo.

Narrator 1: The battle of the Alamo is one of the most important events of Texas history.

Narrator 2: If it had happened today, with all our modern technology, things might have been a little different. Why, who knows what would have happened if the defenders of the Alamo had pagers and e-mail!

Santa Anna: Those Texans have done it this time!

Mexican Soldier: They sure have, Santa Anna!

Santa Anna: I just saw a replay on CNN of the Siege of Bexar. Never again will those Texans question Mexico's rule!

Mexican Soldier: Let's catch the next flight out to San Antonio and hang out on the River Walk.

Santa Anna: The tabloids claim that there is an old mission nearby which Jim Bowie and his gang are using as a fort.

Mexican Soldier: Let's go get them!

Narrator 1: Meanwhile, William Barret Travis exchanged email with the Governor of Texas, Henry Smith.

Smith: Travis, please take all your troops out to Texas on the next flight out. They are desperate for reinforcements there ASAP.

Travis: I don't want to go to that backwoods mission they are calling a fort. There are too few men and it is too isolated to defend.

Smith: The Mexican government is trying to stop immigration to Texas. The folks there are not taking kindly to that sort of treatment.

Travis: Ok, I will go.

Narrator 1: When William Barrett Travis got to the Alamo, Jim Bowie convinced him to stay.

Texian Soldier: Didn't you get the notice on the ListServe saying "Free men of Texas, to arms! To arms?"

Travis: But we only have a little over 100 men here! How are we supposed to defend this place?

Texian Soldier: But we must. This is our land, we purchased it on Ebay with my Visa card and no one can take it away.

Bowie: I am just glad someone got my message on your answering machine! We really do need support here.

Travis: With the airline strikes it was hard for even us to get here.

Narrator 2: Meanwhile Santa Anna's four-wheel drive convoy was coming closer to the Alamo everyday.

Texian Soldier: Davy Crockett has arrived with more men. They avoided the airlines and took the Greyhound.

Bowie: Thank goodness for reinforcements.

Davy Crockett: I have brought in my special forces to defend the Alamo – all 12 of them.

Travis: Thanks for coming, your highly trained SWAT team will be given a corner of the chapel to defend.

Narrator 1: Jim Bowie did not like Travis taking over the command.

Bowie: I am in charge. I have been here longer than you. Besides, the men have elected me leader.

Narrator 2: Travis even called up Governor Smith on his cell phone to complain.

Narrator 1: Finally they made an agreement.

Travis: We will share a joint command of the Alamo. Otherwise I will have to hire a lawyer and take you to court. We could be in litigation for years.

Bowie: Fine, just don't get in my way, I am not feeling to well.

Narrator 2: Santa Anna and his men began the siege on the Alamo. It was soon clear that Santa Anna's men outnumbered them by thousands.

Travis: This mission was never meant to be a fort.

Bowie: Their torpedoes are sailing right over the wall into the Alamo.

Texian Soldier: They don't call them patriot missiles for nothing.

Travis: I have sent an urgent email to everyone on my Buddy List including Governor Smith.

Bowie: Let's hear it.

Travis: We are experiencing heavy attacks, please send help. I shall never surrender nor retreat!

Texian Soldier: You sure are a die-hard now!

Travis: I have used my automatic signature, "Victory or Death," to really show I mean business.

Bowie: Sam Houston sent me an email earlier to either defend the Alamo or destroy it. I deleted it AND emptied my recycle bin after receiving it. I will never surrender.

Narrator 1: A few men arrived from a nearby fort but it was not nearly enough.

Narrator 2: By the morning of February 24 Bowie was very ill. They did blood tests, a CAT scan, and an MRI and decided that he either had tuberculosis or pneumonia.

Travis: I am going out to assess our troops. I am going to issue a computerized survey to all the men.

Texian Soldier: We need to know who is ready and willing to die for Texas!

Travis: It will be like drawing a line in the sand. All those who are willing to fight and die with me will have to cross over the line.

Texian Soldier: Look! One man has gotten in a helicopter to get away, but that is all.

Travis: Don't worry, even he has my pager number if he changes his mind.

Bowie: (in a weak voice) Now everyone here will fight.

Travis: Keep him stable, put in an IV and do a CBC stat. We will only use the defibrillator if there is any hope that any of us will survive.

Bowie: Go on and fight. Care flight will never make it here in time to save me. I will fight to the bitter end.

Narrator 1: In the end all 189 defenders died at the Battle of the Alamo.

Narrator 2: And almost 600 of Santa Anna's 18,000 men died as well.

Narrator 1: The battle is remembered as a symbol of courage and the ultimate sacrifice for one's beliefs. And today, even with all of our modern technology, brave people who act courageously are still our heroes. Some things never change. Remember the Alamo!

LITTLE RED COWBOY VEST: A TEXAS VERSION OF LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD

(By Leila Raven Parrish)

Puppets:

Little Red Cowboy Vest

Coyote

Me Maw

Props:

Basket

Backdrops:

Piney Wood Forest

Ranch

Scene 1. The Piney Wood Forest

Little Red: (Little Red enters stage left with basket) Howdy there y'all! My name is "Little Red." It's on account I always wear this red cowboy vest my Ma gave me. Folks been callin' me Little Red ever since I can remember. (Pause) What's in my basket? Well, poor Me Maw! She hasn't been feelin' well. I'm going to take her this little basket of fixins' from Ma. Let's see what we have...mmm-MMM! Hot 1015 onion soup, fresh jalapeño cornbread, Ruby Red grapefruit, pecan pie and of course, the official 'dish of the great state of Texas, chili! Mmm-MMM this ought to fix Me Maw right up, yessiree! Well, I best be goin'. I've got a long ways to go. (Little Red moves right looking around)

These East Texas woods sure can be scary. Ma told me to watch out for a coyote that prowls around these parts lookin' for little cowgirls to eat. I sure wish I knew what a coyote looks like.

Coyote: (Enters left, sneaks up behind Little Red) Gr-r-acious weather we're having in these parts.

Little Red: OH! Y'all scared me! (Pause) I'm sorry, but I can't stay and visit. I'm takin' this basket of fixins' to my sick Me Maw.

Coyote: Very commendable, to be sure. Where did you say she lives?

Little Red: Why she lives...(to audience singing) Oops, I did it again! (To Coyote) My Ma and Pa told me not to talk to strangers. There is a dangerous coyote around these parts, have you seen him?

Coyote: Ho-oo-owl! Why, little one, I've not seen anyone, any more dangerous than myself. And, ho-oo-owl, you can see how harmless I am!

Little Red: I must go now. Me Maw lives on the other side of these woods, and I still have a long way to go. Good day. (Exits right)

Coyote: How-oo-owl! She lives on the other side of the woods, does she? Why I can be there faster than that little cowgirl can say "git along little dogies," just waiting to eat her up!

Scene 2. Me Maw's Ranch

Me Maw: (Enters stage right) Oh me, oh my. I've been feelin' down right sick. (To audience) Y'all haven't seen a little cowgirl wearing a red vest, have you? (Knock at door) That must be my grandbaby now. I better check. (Calls stage left) Who all's there?

Coyote: (Enters left.) How-oo-owl! (Changes voice) It is I, Me Maw, Little Red. I've come with fixins' to make you well.

Me Maw: Oh, come in, come in youngin'. I was just fixin' to get into bed. (Looks left at coyote, then to audience) Y'all, I do believe that there is a coyote!

Coyote: How-oo-owl! Why I reckon she's on to me. (To audience, then to Me Maw) It's into the pantry for you, old lady, while I wait for Little Red. (Knock at door) How-oo-owl! Who's there?

Little Red: (To audience) Y'all, she must really be sick, she doesn't sound at all like herself.

Coyote: Come in, dear youngin'. (Changing voice)

Little Red: Poor Me Maw, you must not be feelin' well at all. Wait 'till you taste some of the fresh jalapeño cornbread and chili.

Coyote: How-oo-owl! Just put the basket down, youngin', and come closer to me. I want to feast my eyes on you.

Little Red: Me Maw! What BIG eyes you have!

Coyote: The better to see you with, youngin'!

Little Red: Me Maw! What BIG ears you have!

Coyote: The better to hear you with, youngin'!

Little Red: Me Maw! What a BIG, wide mouth and sharp teeth you have!

Coyote: The better to EAT you with!

Little Red: (To audience) Wait a minute y'all, that must be the coyote! (To coyote) Hey, you, Coyote! What did you do with Me Maw?

Coyote: The old lady's in the pantry.

Little Red: Who do you think you are, locking Me Maw in the pantry and chasing little cowgirls?

Coyote: How-oo-owl!?! I have to eat too?!!

Little Red: (To audience) I need you to distract the coyote while I fetch my lasso. On the count of three, I need everyone to howl. 1-2-3, How-oww!

Coyote: (Joins in with audience) How-ooo-owl!

Little Red: (Exits. Calls from off stage.) Again! How! (Coyote continues to howl and Little Red returns with lasso and lassos Coyote from behind) I got YOU now! (Drags Coyote off stage)

Me Maw: (Enters) Oh I am so glad to be out of that pantry.

Little Red: (Enters dragging Coyote puppet) I've called the Park Ranger to come get this coyote. He won't be prowling these parts anymore. Come on, Me Maw, let's check out this basket of goodies!

STORIES

Tell "Little Indian Maidens," a simple counting story about Indian Chief and his 10 daughters a cut and tell story on pages 58-59 of Paper Stories by Jean Stangl.

Read "C: Cattle Drive" from "T" Is For Texas by Mary D. Wade.
Read "R: Rodeo" from "T" Is For Texas by Mary D. Wade.

INDIAN HEADRESS

(Adapted from Child's Play Around The World by Leslie Hamilton)

Materials

- Brown paper grocery bag
- Colorful construction paper
- Glue stick
- Stapler or Tape

Directions

Precut various colors of feathers 7 inches long from construction paper, 8 per child. Precut 4" x 36" strips from grocery bags, 1 per child. Children select 8 feathers and 1 strip and glue the feathers to the strip. An adult wraps the strip around the children's heads and staples or tapes the ends together.

COWBOY VESTS

Materials

- Brown grocery bags
- Markers
- Paper and/or fabric shapes
- Glue
- Paint and paint brushes

Directions

Precut the center front of the grocery bag. Precut a neck hole and two armholes. Children decorate the bags/vests using markers, paint, fabric, and glue. They look best if the bag is decorated with the inside out. Use the illustration in this chapter as a guide.

BANDANAS

Materials

- Muslin Fabric
- Paint
- Plastic cookie cutters and/or sponges cut into western shapes

Directions

Precut muslin into triangles. Children dip the cookie cutters or sponges in paint and then place them on the fabric. Note: sponges in various shapes may be purchased at craft stores.

TAKE HOME COLORING SHEETS

Print "Alphabet B" or "Custom Boot" from Jan Brett's web page at www.janbrett.com.

BOOT PIÑATA

Fill a boot-shaped piñata with cowboy and southwestern trinkets. Let the children take turns swinging at it with a plastic bat or stick. Do not blindfold toddlers!

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite a cowboy to talk about the clothes he wears and what he does.

Invite a performer to lead a cowboy song sing-a-long

BULLETIN BOARD

BOOKS GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT

Create a collage background of pictures of food from magazines and catalogs. Attach die-cuts of fruits, vegetables, and other foods. Attach colorful paper with titles, authors, and call numbers of books about food.

DISPLAY

BOOKS GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT

Create a book display of picture books about food and cookbooks for children. Cover a table with a bright tablecloth; baking supplies, and plastic fruits, and vegetables. Add a plastic crate to create height and extra display space.

NAMETAG AND STAMPS

As the children enter the storytime room, give them a nametag made from a die-cut of food, and stamp their hands with the Kidstamps' "Mouse and Cookie" or "Leaping Mouse (with Cookie)" by Felicia Bond.

FINGERPLAYS

TORTILLITAS

(Clap hands while chanting this rhyme from Tortillitas para mama by Barbara Cooney)

Tortillitas para Mama.

Tortillitas para Papa.

Las quemaditas para Mama.

Las bonitas para Papa.

Little tortillas for Mama.

Little tortillas for Papa.

The burned ones for Mama.

The good ones for Papa.

THREE BROWN BUNS

(Adapted by Leila Parrish from the traditional rhyme, "Five Brown Buns.")

Three brown buns in a bakery shop. (Hold up three fingers)
Three brown buns with lots of sugar on top. (Shake sugar with other hand)

When along came a man with a penny in his hand, (Wave one finger back and forth)
He bought one bun and away he ran.

Two brown buns...
One brown bun...

No brown buns in a bakery shop,
No brown buns with sugar on top!

AUDIO RECORDINGS

"Apples and Bananas" on One Light One Sun by Raffi.

"El chocolate" on De Colores and Other Latin American Folk Songs for Children by Jose-Luis Orozco.

"P-I-Z-Z-A" on Friends Like You and Me by Lyle Cogen.

STORY

Tell The Very Hungry Caterpillar as a flannel board using illustrations from the book. Save old library copies as they are damaged/discarded or purchase paperback copies. It takes at least two books. Cut out illustrations of the caterpillar, food, etc. and attach felt to the back. Or, make it a Texas story by having the caterpillar eat through tacos, a bowl of chili, a jalapeño pepper, a praline, etc.

CRAFTS

Old magazines and catalogs
Glue

Directions

Precut a large circle from brown butcher paper and pictures of all kinds of food from magazines and catalogs. The children as a group glue the food pictures onto the brown butcher paper circle to make a giant pizza. Display the pizza afterwards. Play the “P-I-Z-Z-A” song as an introduction to the craft.

PLACEMATS

Materials

Die cuts in various shapes, i.e. food, spoons, forks
Construction paper
Glue
Contact paper

Directions

With an adult’s assistance, children glue the die-cut shapes of food and utensils to one side of a piece of construction paper. Parent attaches a label to back, “Made by (Child’s name) at (Library Name) Storytime on (date).” The librarian may laminate both sides using contact paper to create a placemat.

WATERMELON SLICES

Materials

Red and green construction paper
Black ½ inch diameter circle stickers cut in half
Glue

Directions

Precut green and red watermelon slices using the pattern at end of this chapter. With an adult’s help, the children attach black stickers to red paper and glue red paper to green to create watermelon slices. Use this as follow-up craft to Lunch by Denise Fleming.

GIANT PIZZA

Materials

Large circle cut from brown butcher paper

FINGERPLAY

HELLO FROM MANY LANDS

(By Leila Raven Parrish)

Two little children, (Hold up both hands, or a puppet on each hand)

One on each hand, (Each hand bobs)

Come to say "Hello"

From many lands.

Isn't she pretty? (Look toward and wiggle left hand)

Isn't he grand? (Look toward and wiggle right hand)

Bonjour (bohn-ZHOUR), bonjour from France. (Bow each puppet as you say "hello" in the different languages.)

Hola (OH-lah), hola from South America.

Jambo (JAMbo), Jambo from Africa.

Konichiwa (Koh-NEE-cheewah), konmichiwa from Japan.

Two little children from many lands. (Each hand bobs)

CRAFT

HISPANIC PAPER FLOWERS

(Adapted from The Kids Multicultural Art Book by Alexandra M. Terzian)

Materials

Tissue paper, assorted colors

Pipe cleaners

Scissors

Directions

Precut tissue paper of different colors into three sizes of circles. The children layer three circles of tissue paper with smallest on top. An adult pokes a hole in the center of each bunch of tissue paper and the children thread a pipe cleaner through hole and twist the ends together to make a stem.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

MULTICULTURAL PUPPETS

Bring out a collection of multicultural family puppets for free play after stories and encourage adults and child to interact.

COLOR DANCE

Play "De Colores" while children dance with Hispanic Paper Flowers or Rainbow Streamers (see "Toddler Programs: Texas Skies" for Rainbow Streamers craft).

WHAT A WONDERFUL WORLD

Play "What A Wonderful World" on The Very Best of Louis Armstrong by Louis Armstrong while showing Ashley Bryan's illustrations of the book, What a Wonderful World by George David Weiss.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite a member of your community or a local celebrity to visit storytime wearing an outfit representing a native culture and read a book from that culture.
Hire a storyteller or musician from a world culture.

AUDIO RECORDINGS

“De Colores” on Raffi in Concert with the Rise and Shine Band by Raffi.

BULLETIN BOARDS

PIONEER READS ACROSS TEXAS

Place a large map of Texas on your bulletin board and make a wagon train of die-cut covered wagons with book titles, authors, and call numbers of books about pioneers and early Texas settlers.

DECORATIONS

Borrow items such as a butter churn, quilt and/or prairie dress from local museum, historical group, or antique shop. Tell the children about the time period in which they were used and their purpose.

NAMETAG AND STAMP

As the children enter the storytime room, give them a nametag made from a die-cut covered wagon and stamp their with the Kidstamps’ “Patchwork Quilt” by Jerry Pinkney.

FINGERPLAY

FIVE LITTLE PIONEERS

(By Leila Raven Parrish. Repeat the verse changing five to four, three, two and one, and speak softer each time.)

Five little pioneers (Hold up 5 fingers)

Shouting, "Westward, Ho!" (Cup hands around mouth)

When they get to Texas

They bow just so. (Bow)

They look to the right, (Look right with hand above eyes)

One closes his eyes and says, "Goodnight." (Close eyes and place palms together under one side of face)

RHYME

COME, BUTTER, COME

(Traditional)

Come, butter, come,

Come, butter, come.

Samantha's standing by the gate

Waiting for her butter cake.

Come, butter, come.

SONG

THIS IS THE WAY WE CHURN THE CREAM

(Sing this song from Ring A Ring O' Roses to the tune of "Here We Go 'Round the Mulberry Bush.")

This is the way we churn the cream, (Suit actions to words)

Churn the cream, churn the cream.

This is the way we churn the cream

To make the yellow butter.

FABRIC QUILTS

Materials

8" x12" felt squares

1x1 fabric squares

Elmers or white glue

Directions

Precut fabric squares. (They look best if cut with pinking sheers.) Children create a quilt by gluing the small fabric squares to the larger felt square.

WHEELS ACROSS TEXAS

Materials

Paint

Empty plastic thread spools

Shape of Texas cut from brown grocery bags

Directions

Precut Texas shapes from brown paper bags. Children dip the spools into the paint and stamp a trail across the shape of Texas.

PAPER BAG PONY EXPRESS MAIL BAG

(Adapted from Little Hands Big Fun Craft Book by Judy Press)

Materials

Large paper grocery bag
Scissors
Stapler
Markers
Die-cuts and glue
Paint
Plastic thread spools

Directions

Cut 6-inch wide strips from top of paper bags. Fold in the bag's edge to create a mailbag. The children decorate the bag by coloring with markers, spool painting, or gluing on die-cut forms. An adult then folds a 6-inch wide strip to create a strong 2-inch wide handle and staples the handle to the decorated mailbag.

MAKE BUTTER

Put 1 cup of whipping cream at room temperature into a clean glass jar with a tight fitting lid. Add a few well-washed marbles to the jar and replace the lid. Shake the jar without stopping until butter forms. Pour off buttermilk and rinse the butter with water. Give the children a sample on a cracker. While children and adults take turns shaking the jar recite the rhyme "Come, butter, butter" and/or sing, "This is the way we churn the Cream." Hint: Make a batch in advance in case the process doesn't work and to ensure there is enough for all to have a sample.

THE OLD BRASS WAGON

(Sing this to the traditional tune. Children hold hands in a circle and do what the words say. Add verses such as "Jump up and down" and "Wiggle your hand.")

The old brass wagon,
The old brass wagon,
The old brass wagon,
You're the one my darling.

GUEST SPEAKER

Invite someone from a local historical club such as a spinner who can bring a spinning wheel to demonstrate.

AUDIO RECORDINGS

"Skip to My Lou" on Choo Choo Bugaloo by Buckwheat Zydeco.

WEB SITE

The Definitive Laura Ingalls Wilder Pages
www.yvv.com/~jenslegg

TEXAS SKIES

BOOKS TO SHARE

Bunny's Rainbow Day by Monica Wellington.
I Want To Be An Astronaut by Bryon Barton.
It Looked Like Split Milk by Charles G. Shaw.
Moonbear's Skyfire by Frank Asch.
Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star illustrated by Jeanette Winter.
What Next, Baby Bear! by Jill Murphy.

BOOKS TO SHOW AND BOOK TALK

A Rainbow of My Own by Don Freeman.
Sol a Sol: Bilingual Poems by Lori Marie Carlson.
Zoom! Zoom! I'm Off to the Moon by Dan Yaccarino.

THE STARS AT NIGHT

Attach die-cut white stars on a dark blue or black background. Display book titles, authors, and call numbers of books about the night, stars, and space.

DISPLAY

TO THE MOON!

Create a display of picture books and non-fiction books about space. Use toy or model rockets as the centerpiece.

DECORATIONS

Hang stars and space shapes on string from ceiling. You may use the shapes from the collage craft in this program.

NAMETAG AND STAMPS

As the children enter the storytime room, give them a nametag made from a die-cut of a star, and stamp their hands with the Kidstamps' "Star" by Tomie DePaola or "Rainbow" by Maryann Coca-Leffler.

FINGERPLAY

JOHNNY'S RIDE

(From Listen! And Help Tell the Story by Bernice Wells Carlson)

Johnny looked at the moon, (Stretch arms overhead in shape of moon)

Johnny looked at the stars, (Wiggle fingers with arms above head)

Johnny got in a rocket, (Lower arms, place hands in the shape of rocket)

Johnny went up to Mars. (Move rocket above head)

TWINKLE, TWINKLE, LITTLE STAR

Twinkle, twinkle little star,
How I wonder what you are.
Up above the world so high
Like a diamond in the sky.

Twinkle, twinkle little star
How I wonder what you are.

IT LOOKED LIKE SPILT MILK

Using the illustrations from It Looked Like Spilt Milk as patterns, create white flannel cloud shapes. Tell the story on flannel board, pausing so children can call out the shape as you add them to the flannel board. Add green grass across bottom edge to turn the shapes into clouds floating in the sky.

CRAPETS

CLOUD SHAPES

(Use with It Looked Like Spilt Milk by Charles G. Shaw)

Materials

Blue construction paper
Poster board
Cotton balls
Glue

Directions

Put glue on a small piece of poster board. Children place a sheet of construction paper on the poster board, pat it to collect some glue, and place cotton balls on the paper to create cloud shapes.

SPACE COLLAGE

Materials

Black or dark blue construction paper

Paper in various colors
Space shape patterns
Glue sticks

Directions

Precut the space shape patterns from various colors of paper. The children will attach the space shapes to the black or dark blue construction paper using the glue sticks.

RAINBOW STREAMER

Materials

Tissue or crepe paper in assorted colors cut in 8" to 12" strips
Large craft sticks
Masking tape cut into 3-inch pieces

Directions

Precut strips of tissue paper. (It is also helpful to precut pieces of masking tape and stick them around craft table.) Children tape the crepe paper to one end of a craft stick to create a rainbow streamer.

RAINBOW DANCE

STORYTIME TEXANS

Create a large tree with enough branches for the handprints of all children who attend your toddler storytimes. Trace one hand of each child and write his/his first name and age on it. Attach the hands to the tree branches. At the top of the bulletin board, list day(s) and time(s) for your toddler storytimes, and watch your tree grow! If you pre-register, list the next registration dates.

NAMETAG

As the children enter the storytime room, give them a nametag from a die-cut of a boy or girl. Add cowboy hats to make them Texans!

RHYME

PAT A CAKE

Pat a cake; pat a cake, Baker's man,
Bake me a cake, as fast as you can.
Pat it and prick it and mark with a B,
And put it in the oven for Baby and me.

SONG

TEN LITTLE TEXANS

(Adapted by Leila Raven Parrish)

(Sing to the tune of "Ten Little Indians" and hold up fingers while counting.)

One little, two little, three little Texans,

Four little, five little, six little Texans,

Seven little, eight little, nine little Texans,

Ten little Texan girls and boys.

CPAFTS

HANDEPRINT FAMILY TREE

(Adapted from The Little Hands Big Fun Craft Book by Judy Press)

Materials

11" x 17" construction paper in various colors, including brown

Scissors

Glue sticks

Markers

Directions

Precut one tree trunk and at least 3 branches per child from brown construction paper. Give each child a piece of construction paper that is not brown and enough branches for each family member: one for mom, dad, toddler, and brothers and sisters. The children glue the tree trunk and one branch per family member onto the sheet of construction paper. An adult traces one copy of a child's hand for each family member onto green, red, yellow, and orange construction paper, and cuts out the hands. The child glues them to the tree branches. You may also let the children add branches for pets. The adult writes the names and birth dates of the family members on each hand and writes "ME" on the hand that represents the attending toddler.

HERE ARE MY HANDS

Have the children stand and do the motions as you read Here Are My Hands and/or From Head To Toe. Since toddlers love repetition, you can read these books once and then do the motions on the second reading. Introduce this activity by saying, "And now we're going to listen to a story standing up!"

TEXAS FLAG COLORING SHEET

Copy the pattern of the Texas flag at the end of this chapter for a coloring sheet and let children color it. An adult cuts out the flag and tapes or glues a drinking straw for a handle. The children can then march around room singing "Ten Little Texans." This may also be a take home activity.

WEIGH ME

Bring in a bathroom scale. Weigh heavy items such as books and light items such as paper, and then weigh each child. Record their weight on a die-cut boy/girl for a special book-mark.

Place a Texas map on you bulletin board and place die-cuts or pictures of various Texas animals on it. Write book titles, authors, and call numbers of non-fiction, picture books, and folk tales about Texas animals on or around the die cuts.

DISPLAYS

Create a 10” x 10” cross-stitch pillow of Rodeo Armadillo using the pattern on Jan Brett’s web site at www.janbrett.com.

NAMETAG AND STAMP

As the children enter the storytime room, give them a nametag made from a die-cut of a Texas animal such as an armadillo, a coyote, a lizard, a longhorn cow, or a snake, and stamp their hands with the Kidstamps’ “Snake” by Leo and Diane Dillon.

COUNTING RHYME

THE ARMADILLO

(Adapted by Leila Raven Parrish from Mother Goose)

(Use the armadillo puppet from Folkmanis to introduce this rhyme.)

One, two, three, four, five,

I caught an armadillo alive;

Six, seven, eight, nine, ten,

I let him go again.

STORY

Read "W: Whooping Crane" from "T" is for Texas by Mary D. Wade.

ANIMALS OF TEXAS

(Adapted from Little Hand Big Fun Craft Book by Judy Press)

Materials

Various colors of poster board

Texas animal die-cuts

Scissors

Markers

Directions

Prepare patterns of various Texas animals on poster board. They may be made from die-cuts. The children choose three animals and the parent or caregiver traces them onto a poster board and cuts them out with  $\frac{1}{2}$ " tabs extending from the legs. Children decorate the animals with markers. Their caregiver writes the names on each animal and cuts a strip of poster board with small slits that match the tabs on the animals' legs. When the tabs are inserted into the slits, the animals stand upright.

ANIMAL SOUNDS

Reread Let's Be Animals and have children make animal sounds and actions.

ARMADILLO CRAFTS BY JAN BRETT

Make a milk carton armadillo, a pie plate armadillo, or learn to draw an armadillo from Jan Brett's web site at www.janbrett.com/activities\_pages.htm.

ARMADILLO PUZZLE: A TAKE HOME ACTIVITY

Photocopy the armadillo pattern onto 8" x 11" piece of paper, cut it apart and have the toddlers put this simple puzzle together. Option: Enlarge the pattern and color and laminate it for repeated use as a library activity. (This puzzle was adapted from Texas Fun Facts and Games by Mary D. Wade.)

ALPHABET COLORING SHEETS: A TAKE HOME ACTIVITY

Copy the Armadillo Rodeo coloring sheet on Jan Brett's web site at www.janbrett.com/armadillo\_coloring\_page.htm.

Hang a large map of Texas on the bulletin board. Make enough copies of the pattern of the world at the end of this chapter to surround the map. Let the children color the maps and then surround the map of Texas with them. Flags of the world could also be used.

TEXAS CULTURES

Represent the diversity of Texas cultures with a display of books about various countries and items related to those cultures. For example, include maracas from Mexico, a ribbon stick from China, or small Christmas tree from Germany.

DECORATIONS

Alternate hanging world flags and the Texas flag on the wall.

FINGERPLAYS

THIS BIG TEXAN

(By Tina Hager)

This big Texan speaks French, (Hold up one finger)

This big Texan speaks Spanish, (Hold up two fingers)

This big Texan speaks German, (Hold up three fingers)

This big Texan speaks Swedish, (Hold up four fingers)

And this big Texan yells "Yeעהa! Welcome home!" (Hold up five fingers and wave)

THIS LITTLE COW

This little cow eats grass, (Hold up one finger)
This little cow eats hay, (Hold up two fingers)
This little cow drinks water, (Hold up three fingers)
This little cow runs away, (Hold up four fingers)
And this little cow does nothing
But lie down all the day. (Hold up five fingers then place hand flat, palm side down)

DIKKE, DIKKE, DIK!

(Traditional rhyme from Denmark)

Brow-bone, (Point to eyebrows)
Eye-stone, (Point to eyes)
Nose-bone, (Point to nose)
Mouth-lip, (Point to mouth)
Chin-tip, (Point to chin)
Dikke, dikke, dik! (Clap hands)

SONGS

HE'S GOT THE WHOLE WORLD IN HIS HANDS

(Add verses substituting the words "all of Texas" and the names of different cultures that make up Texas for "the whole world."
For instance, substitute "German Texans," "French Texans," "Spanish Texans.")

He's got the whole world in his hands,
He's got the whole wide world in his hands,
He's got the whole world in his hands,
He's got the whole world in his hands.

THE MORE WE GET TOGETHER

(Sung to the tune of "Did You Ever See a Lassie")

The more we get together, together, together,
The more we get together, the happier we'll be,
For your friends are my friends and my friends are your friends,
The more we get together the happier we'll be.

FIESTA MOBILE

Materials

Copies of the mobile patterns
Colors
Scissors
Hangers
Yarn or string
Hole punch
Directions

Read the book !Fiesta! and make a mobile. Copy the patterns in the back of this chapter for the fiesta mobile. Cut the pictures out and punch holes in the tops of each one. Let the children attach a piece of yarn or string to each picture and tie the other end to a coat hanger.

GAME

NA KOZLA

This is a game from the Czech culture that is similar to "leap frog." Children get down on their hands and knees in a line. The last child jumps over every one in front of her/him and becomes the first child in line. Repeat until everyone has a turn.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Ask individuals from various cultures to speak to the children about their food, customs, and homelands. Invite a travel agent or flight attendant talk about countries from which immigrants traveled to settle in Texas.

FINGERPLAY

Texas is a Great Big State
(By Tina Hager)
(Hold up one finger for each city)

Texas is a great big state,
Let's name ten cities that are great.
One! Dallas, sometimes called "Big D,"
Two! Galveston is by the sea.
Three! The Alamo as we all know may be found in San Antonio.
Four! Austin is our capitol.
Five! Corpus Christi has seagulls.
Six! Fort Worth is sometimes called "Cowtown," Seven! Amarillo has Cadillac Ranch around.
Eight! El Paso is close to New Mexico.
Nine! Tyler has beautiful roses.
Finally to finish our ten,
Is the University town, Denton!

GOING TO ROUND ROCK

Tell "Going to Round Rock" in the chapter in this manual entitled, "Puppet Plays, Stories, and Reader's Theater Scripts."

JACKRABBIT STICK PUPPETS

Materials

Copies of the jack rabbit pattern

Scissors

Colors

Popsicle sticks or craft sticks

Directions

Copy the jackrabbit pattern at the end of this chapter. Cut one out for each child. The children color them and glue them onto craft sticks to make stick puppets.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

TEXAS ALPHABET COMES ALIVE

Use a jackrabbit puppet while reading the story Texas Alphabet. Have the children hold up their jackrabbit stick puppets when the jackrabbit speaks in the story.

TEXAS SYMBOLS MATCHING GAME

Discuss the flags and symbols of Texas and create a matching game for the children to play, or create a work sheet. For example, let them match the following Texas state symbols with pictures that are provided at the end of this chapter:

State Flower - Bluebonnet
State Gemstone - Blue Topaz
State Insect - Monarch Butterfly
State Flag
State Musical Instrument - Guitar
State Pepper - Jalepeño
State Plant - Prickly Pear Cactus
State Small Mammal - Armadillo
State Tree - Pecan

LOOK WHERE I HAVE BEEN!

Hang up a large map of Texas and ask the children for names of places they have lived or visited. Place foil stars on each location.

TRAFFIC LIGHT GAME

The children stand side by side and pretend that they are cars travelling through Texas cities. One child stands far in front and is the traffic light. She/he holds up red and green signs. When the sign is green, the cars go and when the sign is red, the cars stop. The first car to reach the traffic light becomes the next traffic light. If more than one child reaches the light at the same time, choose the winner by having them call out a Texas city and pick the one who names a city closest to the beginning of the alphabet. Play until everyone gets a turn as the traffic light.

Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy, yoh,
And on this ranch he had cowboys, yippy, yippy, yoh,
With a yeehah here and a yeehah there,
Here a yee, there a ha, everywhere a yeeha,
Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy yoh.

Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy yoh,

And on this ranch he had a cook, yippy, yippy yoh,
With a come and get it here, and a come and get it there,
Here a come, there a get it, everywhere a come get it,
Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy, yoh.

Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy yoh,
And on this ranch he had horses, yippy, yippy yoh,
With a neigh, neigh here, and a neigh, neigh there,
Here a neigh, there a neigh, everywhere a neigh, neigh,
Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy, yoh.

Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy, yoh,
And on this ranch he had cattle, yippy, yippy, yoh,
With a moo, moo, here and a moo, moo, there,
Here a moo, there a moo, everywhere a moo, moo,
Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy, yoh.

Tex McDonald had a ranch, yippy, yippy, yoh
And on this ranch was a coyote, yippy, yippy, yoh,

I AM AN ARMADILLO

(By Tina Irene Hager)

(Tell the children about armadillos! They live in tunnels, eat bugs, roll into balls for protection, and hold their breath to swim. Then, sing this song to the tune of "Here We Go Round the Mulberry Bush.")

This is the way we dig our tunnels, (Pretend to dig)
Dig our tunnels, dig our tunnels,

This is the way we dig our tunnels,
To get to our homes.

This is the way we lick up our bugs, (Pretend to lick bugs)
Lick up our bugs, lick up our bugs,
This is the way we lick up our bugs,
When we want something to eat.

This is the way we roll in a ball, (Pretend to roll into a ball)
Roll in a ball, roll in a ball,
This is the way we roll in a ball,
When we want to hide.

This is the way we hold our breath (Hold breath a little on each line)
Hold our breath, hold our breath,
This is the way we hold our breath,
When we walk under water.

SONG*BALLAD OF THE BOLL WEEVIL

(By the late 19th and early 20th centuries, the boll weevil was causing devastation in America's cotton crops. This invasion inspired the following traditional song. Poet and bard Carl Sandberg performed a version of the song in the 1920s. It's precise origin is shrouded in the mists of the past. Copy the patterns of the boll weevil, farmer, sand, ice, fire, farmer's wife, hat, corn, dress, and sticks at the end of this chapter and place the pieces on the flannel board while you sing this song.)

Oh the boll weevil is a little black bug,
Come from Mexico, they say,
Come all the way to Texas, just a-looking for a place to stay,
Just a-looking for a home, just a-looking for a home.

The first time I seen the boll weevil,
He was a-setting on the square.
Next time I seen the boll weevil, he had all of his family there.
Just a-looking for a home, just a-looking for a home.

The farmer said to the weevil:
"What make your head so red?"
The weevil said to the farmer, "It's a wonder I ain't dead,
A-looking for a home, just a-looking for a home."

The farmer took the boll weevil,
And he put him in the hot sand.
The weevil said, "This is might hot but I'll stand it like a man,
This'll be my home, it'll be my home.

The farmer took the boll weevil,
And he put him in a lump of ice;
The boll weevil said to the farmer,
"This is might cool and nice, it'll be my home, this'll be my home."

The farmer took the boll weevil,
And he put him in the fire.
The boll weevil said to the farmer,
"Here I are, here I are,
This'll be my home, this'll be my home."

The farmer said to the missus,
"What do you think of that?
The boll weevil done make a nest in my best Sunday hat,
Going to have a home, going to have a home."

The boll weevil said to the farmer,
"You better leave me alone.
I done eat all your cotton, now I'm going to start on your corn,
I'll have a home, I'll have a home."

The merchant got half the cotton,
The boll weevil got the rest.
Didn't leave the farmer's wife but one old cotton dress,
And it's full of holes, it's full of holes.

The farmer said to the merchant,
"We's in an awful fix.
The boll weevil ate all the cotton up and left us only sticks,
We's got no home, we's got no home."

Glue or tape

Directions

Copy and cut out the pattern of the boll weevil from the flannel board story at the end of this chapter. Children color them and glue or tape them to popsicle sticks or craft sticks. Sing "The Ballad of the Boll Weevil" and let the children hold up their puppets whenever the word, "Boll Weevil" is sung.

ARMADILLO MAGNET

Materials

- Armadillo pattern
- Cork board or poster board
- Colors
- Wiggly eyes
- Magnets

Directions

Copy the armadillo pattern at the end of the chapter. Trace it onto a piece of corkboard (found in hobby stores) or poster board and cut it out. Let the children glue on wiggly eyes, color it, and attach a magnet to the back.

COYOTE HOWLS

Have a howling contest and award prizes for the loudest, quietest, funniest, and most creative howl.

PONY RIDES

Arrange for live ponies for the children to ride, or bring stick ponies.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite an animal control officer, or a humane society, nature preserve, representative, or Texas Parks and Wildlife representative to speak to the children.

TEXAS INDIANS

BOOKS TO SHARE

The First Strawberries retold by Joseph Bruchac.

Itse Selu: Cherokee Harvest Festival by Daniel Pennington.

Jingle Dancer by Cythia Leitch Smith.

Mrs. Scott's Beautiful Art by Alice K. Flanagan.

The Story of the Milky Way: A Cherokee Tale by Joseph Bruchac.

BOOKS TO SHOW AND BOOK TALK

American Indian Games and Crafts by Charles L. Blood.

The Apache Indians by Bill Lund.

The Comanche Indians by Bill Lund.

LEARN ABOUT TEXAS INDIANS

Display pictures of Native American Indian clothing and objects, such as moccasins, bows and arrows, arrowheads, jewelry, feathers, etc. along with books about Texas Indian tribes, or display Native American artifacts.

CRAFT

DREAMCATCHER

Many Native Americans, including the Cherokee, believe good and bad dreams float around at night. A dreamcatcher catches the bad dreams and holds them until they disappear when the sun rises. The good dreams float through the web, down into the feather, and onto the person asleep underneath.

Materials

5" paper plates

Yarn cut into 36 inch lengths

Yarn cut into 4 inch lengths.

Beads

Feathers

Tape

Scissors

Hole punch

Directions

Use the illustration as your guide as you make this dreamcatcher. In advance, cut the center out of a paper plate, punch holes on the rim of the plate about one inch apart, and put a small piece of tape on one end of yarn and tie the other end in a knot. The children thread the 2-inch length of yarn through a hole and tie it into a loop to hang the dream catcher. They then thread the 36-inch lengths of yarn through one hole near the top of plate and then through the hole opposite of the first hole. They then move to the adjacent hole and continue weaving through opposite holes until the yarn is threaded through all of them. The final result should look like a web. Place a couple of beads on the loose taped end, then insert the pointed end of a feather through the beads so that both stay in place.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

SIGN LANGUAGE

Teach the children some of these signs.

Texas: The word Texas came from the Caddo Indians and means "friends." Teach the children how to sign the word, friend. Hook the right index over the left with the left palm-up and then repeat in reverse.

Cow: Tuck all fingers from both hands under except for the thumb and pinkie. Place the right thumb to the right temple and the left thumb at the left temple and bend them forward and backward several times representing the horns.

Buffalo/bison: Make a fist with each hand with the thumb over top of the index and middle fingers. Put your hands at the sides of your forehead, palm side forward. Move them forward and around until the palm side faces to the back.

Snake: Point the index finger of your right hand with the rest of your fingers in a fist. Move your right hand forward in a circular motion, passing it under the left arm showing a crawling movement.

STRAWBERRY CHART

Read or tell the story of The First Strawberries. Serve the children ripe strawberries and create a chart showing how many children like or dislike them.

MUSICAL RECORDING

The Choctaw way: A Blend of Music, Chant and Story that Honors the Choctaw Indian tribe. Storytribe Publishing, 4417 Morningside Way, Canyon Lake, TX 78133. (830) 899-5678.

TEXAS PLANT LIFE

BOOKS TO SHARE

From Acorn to Oak Tree by Jan Kottke.
The Legend of the Bluebonnet by Tomie DePaola.
Sunflower by Miela Ford and Sally Noll.
Way Out in the Desert by T.J. Marsh and Jennifer Ward.

BOOKS TO SHOW AND BOOK TALK

Cactus Hotel by Brenda Z. Guiberson.
Life Cycle of an Oak Tree by Angela Royston.
Sunflowers by Mary Ann McDonald.
The Tree That Would Not Die by Ellen Levine.

DISPLAY

TEXAS WILDFLOWERS

In the display case, hang a poster of Texas wildflowers and display Texas wildflower books and surround them with artificial bluebonnets and Indian paintbrush.

FINGERPLAY

COUNTING TUMBLEWEEDS

(Show the children a tumbleweed. They may be purchased at craft stores.)

Ten little tumbleweeds by the corral gate; (Hold up both hands fingers extended)

The wind whooshed two away, and then there were eight.

(Whoosh hands from side to side and then bend two fingers) Eight little tumbleweeds said, "Oh, fiddlesticks! They danced in the wind." (Wiggle fingers)

Then there were six. (Bend down two fingers)

Six little tumbleweeds went out to explore;

Along came a whirlwind, and then there were four. (Move hands in a circular motion and then bend down two fingers)

Four little tumbleweeds admiring the view;

Then there came a gentle breeze; so there were two. (Bend down two fingers)

Two little tumbleweeds; round and round they spun (Move hand in a circular motion, then bend down the remaining two fingers)

Until they were out of sight; then there were none! (Hands behind back)

CRAFT

TEXAS SUNFLOWER

Copy the pattern of the sunflower at the back of this chapter. Let the children color it and glue sunflower seeds in the center of the flower.

PAPER FLOWER

Materials

Tissue paper (various colors)

Pipe cleaners

Scissors

Directions

In advance, cut three sizes of circles of various colors from tissue paper. The children sort them by size and lay them down with the largest on the bottom and the smallest on top.

A parent or adult pokes two holes near the middle of them. The child laces a pipe cleaner through one hole and then through the other, making the ends even, and twists the two ends together to make a stem for a flower.

READERS THEATRE

DESERT LIFE PLAY

Choose ten children to be the mothers and ten more to be the baby animals in the story, Way Out in the Desert. Let each set of mother/child characters acts out their parts as you read the story.

CHANT

TREATY OAK CHANT

(By Tina Irene Hager, based on the events depicted in the book, The Tree That Would Not Die)

(Treaty Oak is 500 years old and is in Austin, Texas. Legends say that Stephen F. Austin and Indian leaders signed a peace treaty underneath the tree. The tree's life almost came to an end when someone poisoned it in 1989. It still survives in Austin today.)

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see a buffalo rubbing against me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see the first people living around me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see the Spaniards building around me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see a peace talk right beneath me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see the land being settled around me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see Austin, Texas growing around me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see the Depression going on around me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see a man, I think he's poisoning me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see people trying to save me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see people who care about me.

Children: Treaty Oak, Treaty Oak, what do you see?

Librarian: I see my children, growing by me.

OAK TREE AND ACOEN HUNT

Hide acorns around your storytime room. At the end of the program, have an acorn hunt. Or, take the children outside to look at an oak tree and to collect acorns to take home and plant.

LIFE CYCLE OF THE OAK TREE

Using the oak tree life cycle page at the end of this chapter, match the pictures with the cycles.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite a Parks and Recreation Department representative, a plant nurseryman, or a landscaper to speak to the children about their work.

Uno, dos, tres tortillas,
 Quatro, cinco, seis tortillas,
 Siete, ocho, nueve tortillas,
 Diez tortillas, yum, yum, yum.

SEE THE CHILES

(By Tina Irene Hager)
 (Sing to the tune of "Peas Porridge Hot.")

See the chiles green,
 See the chiles red
 See them cooked in the pot,
 Before going to bed.
 See the chiles hot,

See the chiles cold,
 See the chiles in the pot,
 Five days old.
 Eat the chiles green,
 Eat the chiles red,
 Eat the chiles all gone,
 Before going to bed.
 First you see a smile,
 Then you see a frown,
 Then you feel a tummyache,
 For eating chiles down.

SING A SONG OF SIXPENCE

Sing a song of sixpence, a pocketful of rye;
 Four and twenty blackbirds baked in a pie!
 When the pie was open, the birds began to sing;
 Wasn't that a dainty dish to set before the king?

3-D CORN

Copy the picture of the ear of corn at the end of this chapter. Let the children color the cornhusks green and the corn yellow.

VEGETABLE STAMPS

Materials

Vegetables such as turnips and potatoes cut in half
 Liquid poster or tempera paint
 White paper

Directions

Children dip a vegetable into the paint then stamp it onto the paper to make a picture. Use as many vegetables as creativity allows.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite a home economics teacher, restaurant owner, chef, or caterer to speak to the children about healthy snacks.

A penny for a spool of thread,
Another for a needle,
That's the way the money goes,
Pop! Goes the weasel.
All around the cobbler's bench,
The monkey chased the weasel,
The monkey thought 'twas all in fun!
Pop! Goes the weasel.

SONGS

BUFFALO GALS

As I went lumbering down the street,
Down the street, down the street,
A lovely gal I chanced to meet,
Oh! She was fair to view.
Buffalo Gals, will you come out tonight,
Come out tonight, come out tonight,
Buffalo gals, will you come out tonight
To dance by the light of the moon?

Sing "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

STORY

BUTTERMILK BISCUITS AND RATTLESNAKE GRAVY

(By Tina Hager)

(To make this an audience participation story, teach the children the refrain and have them clap their hands or pat their knees while they say it.)

Once upon a time, way out yonder in west Texas, a cowboy family lived on a ranch. There was a little boy named Cowboy Billy, and a little girl named Cowgirl Betty Joe, and they lived with their Cowgirl Mama, their Cowboy Papa, and their horse, Hit the Trail.

Now Cowgirl Mama loved to cook and her most famous dish was buttermilk biscuits with rattlesnake gravy. One day when Mama decided to make her biscuits, she noticed she was out of buttermilk. "Cowboy Billy," she called, "Run on in to town to the store and fetch me some buttermilk." Billy always obeyed his Mama and so he said, "Yes Ma'am" and headed toward town.

It just so happened that between the ranch and the town there was a small canyon. And a rock high up in that small canyon was the home of the biggest, meanest rattlesnake that ever lived. Very few people went into the canyon for fear of meeting up with the varmint. Unfortunately, it was the quickest way into town, so Billy went through the canyon, into town, to the store, and bought the buttermilk his mama needed. And then he went walkin' on home, singing:

Refrain: "Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy.
Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy."

From his home on that high rock, that big, old rattlesnake heard Billy walking and singing through the canyon. And before Billy could blink an eye, that rattlesnake jumped off his rock and swallowed him whole, buttermilk and all, lickety split!

When Billy did not return home in a timely manner, Mama said, "Betty Jo, would you run on down to the store and find out what's taking Billy so long?" And Betty Jo said, "Yes, Ma'am," and headed toward town.

Well, Betty Jo went through the canyon, into town, and to the store. The storekeeper told her that Billy had been there already and that he probably just stopped off somewhere to play. So she headed home, singing:

Refrain: "Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy.
Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy."

From his home on that high rock, that big, old rattlesnake spied Betty Jo walking and singing through the canyon. And before Betty Jo could blink an eye, that rattlesnake jumped off his rock and swallowed her whole, lickety split!

Back at the ranch, mama and papa waited and wondered what had happened to their young'uns. Finally, Mama said, "Papa, would you run on into town and see what's keepin' them kids?" And Papa said, "Yes, Ma'am," and headed toward town.

Papa went through the canyon, into town, and to the store. The storekeeper told Papa that the kids had already been there and probably stopped off somewhere to play. So he headed home, singing:

Refrain: "Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy.
Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy."

From his home on that high rock, that big, old rattlesnake spied Papa walking and singing through the canyon. And before Papa could blink an eye, that rattlesnake jumped off his rock and swallowed him whole, lickety split!

All this time Mama was back at the ranch getting' antsy. Where were her young'uns? Where was Papa? Where was her buttermilk? When Papa didn't arrive home in a timely manner with the children, Mama set off riding Hit the Trail. She rode through the canyon, into town, and to the store. The storekeeper told her that her family had been there but had probably stopped along the way to play. Mama and Hit the Trail started back home through the canyon, singing:

Refrain: "Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy.
Buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy."

Now, as they were travelling through the canyon, Hit the Trail, he heard a hissing sound. He looked up and there on a high rock was that big, mean rattlesnake. It had a big ol' belly and a smile on its face. Suddenly that snake jumped off the rock and was gonna swallow Mama and Hit the Trail! But Hit the Trail saw him comin' and reared up and leaped aside. Luckily, that big old rattlesnake missed them and hit the canyon floor so hard that it busted open! And do you know what happened next?

Why, out came Billy, Betty Jo, Papa, and the buttermilk, all safe and sound, cause remember, that snake had swallowed them whole!

Mama and Papa grabbed up Billy and Betty Jo and they all climbed up onto Hit the Trail and high-tailed it on out of that canyon until they arrived home, safe and sound, with Mama's buttermilk! To celebrate, Mama mixed up the biggest batch of buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy Texas has ever seen! So much, in fact, that Mama invited all her neighbors over to enjoy her famous buttermilk biscuits and rattlesnake gravy!

Lickety split, lickety splout, this snake tale's told out!

LITTLE SALLY WALKER

(This is an African-American rhyme. Form a ring with "Sally" sitting in the center. Sing or chant the poem while "Sally" acts out the words. Whoever she looks at as she sings the last line takes her place.)

Little Sally Walker
Sitting in a saucer
Weeping in the morning
For her daughter
Rise Sally rise
Wipe your eyes
Look to the east
Look to the west
And look to the one
You love the best.

CRAFT

FANCY COWGIRL/COWBOY BOOTS

Materials

Boot pattern at the end of this chapter

Stickers

Glue

Colored markers

Tape

Directions

Make copies of the boot pattern, glue them onto construction paper, and cut them out. Each child colors and decorates four copies of the boot, decorates them with colored markers and stickers, and tapes one to each side of their shoes.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite women with various occupations to tell the children about their work.

FOLD'EM SNAKES

Materials

- Paper
- Glue
- Bead (optional)
- Wiggley eyes (optional)

Directions

Cut strips of paper ½ inch wide and 8 ½ inches or longer. Overlap the ends of the paper and glue them together. Fold the strips of paper alternately across each other as shown in the illustration. Glue the last 2 folds together. Glue a 1-inch triangle to one end for the snake's head. A bead on a string can be glued to the tail to make a rattle. Draw eyes with markers or glue on wiggley eyes.

BUILD A PAPER BIRDHOUSE

Materials

Birdhouse pattern
Colored Paper

Glue

Scissors

String

Directions

Copy the birdhouse pattern at the end of this chapter. Children glue it onto the colored paper, cut it out, and fold all the tabs on the thin lines to the inside of the birdhouse. Next, fold on the other thin lines, tape or glue the tabs securely, and tie a string to it to hang the paper birdhouse.

RIDE THE RIDING TRAIL

Draw a map of streets in your community with a trail of horse shoes, cowboy boot prints, or animal tracks on the streets leading to the library. Surround it with drawings of cowboy hats and boots.

DISPLAY CASE

KNOTS AND WIRE

Arrange various types of barbed wire and knots along and cowboy regalia such as a saddle, bridle, boots, hat, etc. in a display case.

SONGS

Many of the cowboy songs sound alike. They were often about loneliness and working on the open range. Mournful or sad tunes had a soothing effect on cattle and made them easier to control. Sing some of these popular cowboy songs or play recordings of them: "Home on The Range," "Skip to My Lou,"

"She'll Be Comin' 'Round the Mountain," and "Get Along Little Dogies." Words to cowboy songs may be found at http://lonehand.com/cowboy\_songs.htm.

CRAFTS

RANCH BRANDS

Create brands for a ranch, taking into consideration last names and family characteristics. Use rope or yarn on a board or construction paper. Examples of brands may be found on the Brand Match game sheet at the end of this chapter and also on the Cowboy Showcase web site at www.cowboyshowcase.com/brands.htm. Additional samples can also be found on page 177 of Once Upon a Planet: Program Guide for the Texas Reading Club, 1995 by Gayle A. Travis.

VAQUERO PANTENE PUPPET

Materials

Copies of vaquero pattern at the end of this chapter

Brass fasteners

Construction paper or card stock

Colors

Directions

Copy the pantene puppet patterns onto card stock, or copy them onto regular paper and cut them out and glue them to construction paper and cut them out again. Let the children assemble the parts with brass fasteners, color them, and play with their puppets.

KNOT TYING DEMONSTRATION

Demonstrate how to do a variety of knots. Directions are given in a Boy Scout or Girl Scout Handbook or in most comprehensive camping books. Give each child two 10-inch pieces of rope and a stick and let them learn the knots as directed. Some basic knots are below.

Overhand Knot

1. Pass the end of the rope over the standing part to create a loop.
2. Take the end down over the standing part and under the loop.
3. Continue by bringing the end of the rope up through the loop.
4. Pull tight.

Figure Eight Knot

1. Pass the end of the rope over the standing part.
2. Take the end under the standing part away from the loop.
3. Bring the end of the rope back over itself towards the loop.
4. Pass the end down through the loop.

5. Pull tight.

Square Knot

A square knot is used to join together two ropes of equal size or the ends of a rope.

1. Cross the right rope over the left rope and tuck under.
2. Cross the left rope over the right rope and tuck under.
3. Pull tight.

Clove Hitch Knot

1. Pass the end of the rope over the stick and back round and crossing over its own standing part.
2. Continue by passing the end over the stick again creating a loop.
3. Pass the end right round the stick.
4. Bring the end back through the loop that is formed.
5. Pull tight.

Bowline Knot

The bowline knot forms a loop that will not slip, but unties easily.

1. Measure off the size of loop required and create a small loop in the standing part of the rope by passing the end over the standing part.
2. Bring the end of the rope up through the small loop and around the back of the standing part.
3. Continue by passing the end of the rope back down through the small loop.
4. Pull tight.

Sheep Shank

A Sheep Shank is used to shorten a rope.

1. Shorten the rope to the required length by creating two uncrossed loops somewhere along its length.
2. Form a small loop in one end of the rope by passing the end under the standing part.
3. Pass the "loop" through the real loop that is formed.
4. Form a similar loop at the other end.
5. Pass the other "loop" through the newly created loop and pull tight on both standing parts.

COWBOY TALK

Teach the children some of the cowboy sayings below or create a handout and let them match the phrases with their meaning.

- Mad as a peeled rattler (Very angry)
- All horns and rattles (Very angry)
- Barkin' at a knot (Wasting your time, trying to do something useless)
- Doesn't use up all his kindlin' to make a fire (Someone who doesn't waste words on small talk)
- Don't go wakin' snakes (Don't start trouble)
- Above my huckleberry (Too hard for me to do)
- Choker holes (Doughnuts)
- Father the herd (To bed down for the night)
- Grabbin' the apple (Holding on to the saddle horn on a bucking horse)
- Hit the rail (To travel or to leave)
- Kissed the ground (Thrown from a horse)
- Load of hay on his skull (Man with long hair)
- Pack the mail (To ride fast)
- Rustler's pneumonia (Cold feet, cowardly)
- Snorter (Excitable horse)
- Talk like a Texan (To boast of one's work or accomplishments)
- Wild willow West (Dude ranch)
- Well, I swan! (Exclamation of wonder)

RODEO CLOWNS

Bring face paint, oversized clothes, old hats, and colorful flow-ers. Let the children dress up as rodeo clowns and paint their faces. Invite them to entertain the younger children at storytime and to work together to create routines to entertain the children. If any of them juggle, dance, or perform acrobatics, invite them to do so in their costumes.

PROGRAMS AND GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite a working cowboy, preferably one who knows how to rope, to bring cowboy gear and tell the children about a cowboy's life.

Invite a cowboy poet to entertain the children.

CRAFTS

CASCARONES

Cascarones are colored eggshells filled with confetti. The tradition is to crack them over another's heads.

Materials

- Egg shells
- Confetti or cut up paper
- Stickers or tape
- Markers or Paint
- Directions

In advance, collect egg shells from staff and patrons. To prepare them, they must poke holes in each end of the shell of a raw egg, blow the egg into a bowl and wash the eggshells well. The eggs may be scrambled or made into omelets. The children will fill them with colorful confetti, place stickers or tape over each end, and decorate the eggs with markers.

Invite them to crack them over one another's heads – outside the library! Bags of confetti are available at craft stores.

STORYTELLING

Tell The Zebra-Riding Cowboy by Angela Shelf Medearis.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

Copy and distribute the Texas State Symbols handout at the end of this chapter.

Play recordings of traditional country music by Texas singers and let the children make up their own Texas hoedown song. Have a square dance.

PROGRAMS AND GUEST SPEAKERS

Host a Juneteenth celebration at your library for Emancipation Day for African American in Texas, which occurred on June 19, 1865.

CARDBOARD WALKING DOLL

(From Texas Toys and Games edited by Frances Edward Abernathy)

Materials

Doll and shoe patterns provided in this chapter
Cardboard or construction paper

Scissors

Glue

Brads

Directions

Copy the doll and shoe patterns provided, glue them to construction paper, and cut them out. Attach the feet to the doll with a brad. Moving the doll slightly forward or backward will create the appearance that it is walking.

CUP AND BALL

(From Texas Toys and Games edited by Frances Edward Abernathy)

Materials

Paper cups

Straws

String

Styrofoam balls

Directions

As shown in the illustration, poke a hole through the bottom of a paper cup and slip a straw through. Tape it so that it is secure. The straw will be used as a handle. Cut a piece of string at least twice as long as the total length of the straw and cup. Tie a foam ball to one end of a string. Tie the other end to the straw near the base of the cup. The object of the toy is to catch the ball in the cup.

QUILT SQUARES

Use Texas quilt patterns to make a library quilt to hang in the library or raffle off to benefit the library. The Quilt-Block History of Pioneer Days by Mary Cobb is one useful source.

SLUMBER PARTY

Have slumber part at the library and tell ghost stories.

TEXAS SAYINGS AND PROVERBS

Let the children try to decipher some of these Texas sayings and proverbs from The Best of Texas Folk and Folklore, page 214-227. Spanish sayings and proverbs are also included in those pages.

He might as well try to eat sugar (or soup) with a knitting needle.

He does not amount to a hill of beans.

When he says, "frog," she jumps.

He sits around like a notch of a stick.

The house was seven ways for Sunday, or the house was every way for Christmas.

He's as polite as a basket of chips, or sugar wouldn't melt in his mouth.

His name is Mud.

Don't kick till you're spurred.

You can't hear your ears in this place.

This pony paces like a rocking chair.

CREATIVE DRAMA

Read "Frog's Gone A-Courting" and let the children act it out.

TIME LINES

Create a time line of important events that have happened in Texas history and include the founding of your library.

WAR MEMORIAL

Create a war memorial to Texans from your hometown who died in wars from the Civil War to the present.

PIONEER CAP

Materials

18-inch square piece of white cotton or linen fabric

2 pencils

Ruler

12-inch piece of string

Scissors

Narrow satin ribbon, about ½ inch wide and 48 inches long, any color

Optional: Compass

Directions

Using the illustration in this chapter as an example, instruct the children to use the 12-inch piece of string to tie the two pencils together so they are 9 inches apart. They then place one pencil in the center of the 18-inch square cloth, stretch the other pencil to the end of the string, and move the outer pencil all the way around the inner one to make a circle. Or, use a compass to draw an 18-inch diameter circle on the cloth. Children next cut out the circle and draw pencil marks all the way around the it about 1-½ inches from the edge and about 1-inch apart. They then cut a narrow slit at each pencil mark wide enough for the ribbon to slip through and run the ribbon in and out of each of the slits. The children can then place the cloth circle on their heads, slowly pull the ribbon until the cap fits snugly, and tie the ends of the ribbon in a bow.

READER'S THEATER

TIME WARP ALAMO

Let the children read "Time Warp Alamo" from the chapter in this manual entitled, "Puppet Plays, Stories, and Reader's Theater Scripts."

SOUNDS OF THE TIME

Write a reader's theater script for the children to perform based on Voices of the Alamo by Sherry Garland.

CREATIVE DRAMATICS

HISTORICAL REENACTMENT

Have the kids create and perform a play about an historical Texas Event such as the Battle of the Alamo, the 2001 Presidential Election, the kidnapping of Cynthia Ann Parker in 1836, a Dallas Cowboys Super Bowl Game, or the 1900 Hurricane in Galveston.

BABE OF THE ALAMO

Tell "Babe of the Alamo" from the chapter in this manual entitled, "Puppet Plays, Stories, and Reader's Theater Scripts."

SIX FLAGS OVER TEXAS

Bring out books that show the six flags over Texas. Let the children draw or create them using construction paper or crayons. The six flags over Texas are: the United States, the Republic of Texas, Spain, Mexico, France, and the Confederacy.

ALAMO MODEL

Let the children make a model of the Alamo using craft sticks, popsicle sticks, or clay.

ALAMO DIARIES

Have the kids write journal entries as if they were at the Alamo during the battle.

LINE IN THE SAND

Use masking tape to “draw a line in the sand” with all the kids on one side. Ask questions and have them cross over if they agree or would do a suggested action. Questions concern historical events with question such as, “Would you stay at the Alamo?” Or, they might explore values with questions such as, “Would you steal food to feed your family if they were starving?”

ALAMO REUNION

Have an Alamo reunion with everyone dressing as an historical figure from the Alamo.

PROGRAMS AND GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite older citizens from your community come to the library and tell stories about events when they were young.

CRAFTS

NATIVE AMERICAN INDIAN SYMBOL WRITING

Materials

Brown paper bag or brown wrapping paper

Pencil

Books with pictures of buffaloes or buffalo hides

Books showing Native American symbols and rock paintings

Black markers, black pens, or black crayons

Directions

In this craft, children will make a buffalo hide from a brown paper bag or brown wrapping paper. In advance, cut sheets of brown wrapping paper, or cut out the sides of large brown grocery bags and trim the bottom to make one long piece of paper. With a pencil, the children draw or trace an outline of a buffalo or buffalo hide onto the brown paper and cut out the buffalo shape, making it jagged around the edges. Let the children look at the books with Native American symbols. Using a pencil, they may then draw Native American symbolts in an inward spiral beginning at upper left of the hide and circling to finish in the center of the hide. The children then trace over the pencil drawings with a black marker, pens, or crayon.

INDIAN LODGINGS

Make tepees or wigwams using the directions on page 11 and page 13 of More than Moccasins by Laurie Carlson.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

INDIAN WAR-PAINT

Let the children paint each other's faces with Indian designs using face paint or washable paint. Explain the symbolism of the various colors as listed below.

- Black - Death
- White - Peace, or it symbolizes the wolf
- Red - Power and life
- Blue - Sky
- Yellow - Joy and victory
- Streaks down the face - Represent crying
- Dots - Used to show an Indian maiden is in love

FIRST TEXANS

Bring books from your library collection and guide the children as they learn about the original groups of Indians that were in Texas when the Europeans first arrived. They are as follows.

- Apaches - Buffalo-hunting Plains Indians
- Jumanos - West Texas hunters and traders
- Patarabueyes - Rio Grande pueblo farmers
- Coahuiltecans - South Texas hunter-gatherers
- Karankawas - Lower Gulf Coast hunter-gatherers

- Atakapans - Upper Gulf Coast hunter-gatherers
- Tonkawas - Central Texas hunter-gatherers
- Caddos - East Texas village farmers

ARROWHEAD HUNT

Make arrowheads and spearheads out of cardboard or clay using the examples at the end of this chapter and hide them in a baby pool full of sand, or outside around the library. Let the children hunt for them.

PROGRAMS AND GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite an Indian dancer or storyteller to entertain the children. Tell Indian myths and legends or invite a storyteller to do so.

BULLETIN BOARD

READ ACROSS TEXAS!

To highlight of the number of books children read during the reading club, create a bulletin board called "[your town] Across." On a map of Texas, trace the road from your city to Austin, Houston, Dallas, and other cities and towns. Place a star or pushpin on a road for each book or for each hour that a child reads. You may choose to let each book or hour reflect one mile. Add paths to more cities as the children continue to read throughout the summer.

DISPLAYS

BONNETS

Create a display of old-fashioned bonnets worn by pioneer women to keep the Texas sun off their faces.

NAME THAT PLANT!

Display pressed Texas flowers and or small branches from Texas trees. Label each or give each item a number and have a contest for the kids to name as many as they can.

REFRESHMENTS

INDIAN KOOLAID

Make a refreshing traditional drink by adding a squirt of honey and a fresh mint leaf to a glass of fruit juice.

THE LEGEND OF THE DANDELION

(Adapted by Gayle Travis and Christine McNew)

Once there was a beautiful golden-haired maiden who fell in love with the sun. Though others wished to court her, she had eyes only for the sun. Each day she would watch the sun's journey across the sky. Each day, the sun crossed from east to west and ignored her. The maiden's heart grew sorrowful. Tears fell across her face. So sad was she that her hair turned gray and a gust of wind came and blew it away.

The day came when the sun looked upon the maiden at last. He saw that her golden hair was gone and that she was now bald and regretted the sorrow she had felt. The Great Spirit also beheld her grief. To comfort her, he sent small golden flowers to bloom on the land where the maiden lived. When she saw their bright beauty, the maiden's heart filled with happiness and she looked only upon the golden flowers.

The golden flowers watched the sun's journey across the sky each day. Each day, the sun crossed from east to west and shone upon them. When they grew old, their golden locks turned gray and were carried away by the wind until their stems were bald. When the maiden saw their locks gently float away in the wind, peace came to her heart.

And so the gift of the Great Spirit, the gentle dandelion, has brought peace and happiness to the hearts all people since that time long ago.

YELLOW ROSE OF TEXAS

Using the illustration at the end of this chapter, make origami roses. Each child will need 6 sheets of square yellow origami paper. Here are the directions.

Materials

Yellow origami paper

Directions

Following the illustration, with the plain side up, fold the paper in half diagonally.

Fold both corners together; crease them, and open up.

2.

Fold bottom corners to the top corner.

fold bottom corners to top point

Fold the remaining 5 sheets in the same manner.

OF THESE

On each sheet, overlap the two front flaps and glue them together, making the flat piece into a cone shape.

overlap front
flaps and
glue

Fold the overlapped corners of each piece forward.

6.

fold flaps down

Glue two pieces together as shown, then attach the remaining pieces in a circle.

2 sections
glued together

All 6 sections
glued together

SAWDUST MODELING DOUGH

Materials

- 1 cup sawdust
- ½ cup of white paste or flour paste
- Cold water
- Food Dye
- Plastic zip lock bag
- Tempura Paint
- Bowl
- Paint

Directions

Mix the sawdust and paste in a bowl and add water until it becomes smooth, pliable dough. Divide it into balls and mix in food dye to make different colors of dough. Store the clay in plastic zip lock bags and keep it refrigerated when it is not being used. If it hardens, it can be moistened with water. Let the children mold the dough and paint their creations and allow the dough to harden.

STORYTELLING

Tell "The Legend of the Bluebonnet" or "The Legend of the Indian Paintbrush."

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

FLOWER BOOKMARKS

Make bookmarks using dried flowers. First, press the flowers by placing them between heavy books. Then, seal them between clear contact paper and trim them as necessary with scissors.

TEXAS CITIES AND SYMBOLS

Bring a large outline map of the State of Texas. Prepare cards with the names of Texas cities and related symbols, e.g. a horseshoe for Amarillo, a cowboy hat for Lubbock, a boot for Fort Worth, a yellow rose for Tyler, the Alamo for San Antonio, a sombrero for Laredo, a dolphin for Padre Island, the capital building for Austin, a peach for Fredericksburg, and a rocket for Houston. Let the children attach the cards to the map in their proper geographic locations.

WHERE YOU HAVE BEEN IN TEXAS

Place a large map of Texas on the wall and let children place foil stars on towns where they were born or have visited. A United States map may be placed beside it to mark summer vacation spots and for those who were born in another state.

MY HOME TOWN

On a sheet of butcher paper or a poster board, let the children create a map of your town or region of Texas that includes rivers, cities, natural resources, and vegetation.

PLANT DYES

Color squares of cloth with natural dyes. Use the following plants to obtain the desired colors.

Plant	Color
Pear or Peach halves	Pale Yellow
Black walnut husks and shells	Yellow-Brown
Goldenrod (cut plant into small pieces)	Yellow
Sumac leaves (ground to a powder)	Yellow-Brown
Sumac Berries	Purple
Sunflower Seeds	Blue
Larkspur flowers	Blue
Beets	Red-Violet
Dandelion roots	Dark Pink
Staghorn lichen	Bright Yellow-Green

EDIBLE TEXAS PLANTS

Find samples of the following edible Texas plants and talk about how they were used.

Acorns were shelled and ground into meal. The meal was soaked in water to remove the bitter taste. Then the meal was used to make soup, mush, or bread.

Honey mesquite beans were collected from the pods on the tree and were eaten or ground into flour.

Sotol and lechuguilla bulbs were cooked and eaten. The leaf fibers were used to make items such as mats, net carrying bags, baskets and sandals.

Prickley pear cactus fruits were eaten fresh. Sometimes the juice was squeezed for drinking and the pears were dried and stored. The young pads were skinned and eaten.

Pecans were shelled and eaten.

Mexican plums, mustang grapes, and persimmons were eaten in season.

PROGRAMS AND GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite an expert in Texas plants and have the children bring samples to see if they can "Stump the Expert."

Invite a farmer to talk about crops grown in Texas.

Invite a representative of a gardening club to talk about flower or vegetable gardening in Texas.

BRAND MATCH

Below are shown several brand types used to brand livestock. The way that the letter is depicted indicates the way that the brand is read. For instance,  means rocking, so if you saw a brand that looked like this , it would be called a "Rocking J." Try to identify those shown without names, then choose a brand you like and write a message to someone using that brand.

READ ACROSS TEXAS!

YOUNG ADULT PROGRAMS

BY ADRIANA HEARD

Many Texas teens regard summers as a succession of hot, boring days. Often they have no place to go, limited transportation and money, and long for the freedom to explore the world. Librarians can offer a series of exciting programs, challenging reading goals, and volunteer opportunities through which teens may fulfill some of their desires at the public library. This chapter, "Travel Quest: Moving Without Motion," includes a young adult reading program and eight educational programs that revolve around the theme of traveling. With topics ranging from traveling across the globe to learning outdoor survival skills, teens and librarians can grow and have fun.

TEEN READING CLUB:

TRAVEL QUEST:

MOVING WITHOUT MOTION

Teens like to be challenged! This club includes reading goals that enable them to choose their participation level. Here are examples of how teen readers can participate.

BASIC READING GOALS (THE BASICS)

Teens read books about the seven continents: North America, South America, Africa, Europe, Australia, Asia, and Antarctica. When they finish traveling to all seven, they turn in their reading lists and pick up a special gift.

INTERMEDIATE READING GOALS (DELUXE)

Teens travel across the globe by reading books written by authors who live on each of the seven continents. Or, they read stories that take place in each of the seven different continents. When they complete their goal, they turn in their reading list and their name is entered into a special drawing.

ADVANCED READING GOALS (SUPREME DELUXE)

Teens travel through the summer by reading books and participating in the summer library programs. They attend five out of the eight summer programs and read a book that corresponds with the theme of each. When they finish, they turn in their reading list and their name is entered into a special drawing. They may choose fiction or nonfiction titles on topics such as the following.

Travel Guides	Adventure Travel
Photography	Art
Survival	Music
Food	Texas

PROGRAM 1:

YOUR DREAM DESTINATION

TIME OF PROGRAM

50 minutes

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Most teens dream about visiting far away places. They are often eager to get away from their parents and siblings, especially during the long summer months. This program offers teens practical world travel experience.

PREPARATION

Invite a local travel agent, a high school teacher or professor who travels with students abroad, or an experienced traveler to speak to the teens and bring a variety of catalogs or items acquired while traveling to show or display. Request that the presentation include information such as travel tips, how to be a smart traveler, and travel preparation. For example, a travel tip might be to research the country and its customs before visiting. Schedule a date and time and invite the presenter at least two to three months in advance. Ask the presenter to bring travel photos, maps, mementos, brochures, etc., or suggest a slide show, or PowerPoint presentation.

Create web and book bibliographies for distribution to teens.

Create "Plan Your Ultimate Vacation" activity sheets. A sample activity sheet is included with this chapter.

Create "Your Dream Destination" raffle tickets. Examples are included in this chapter.

Request catalogs from travel agencies and online sites about six months in advance to ensure timely arrival.

DECORATIONS

Cover bulletin board or display area with a large colorful map of the world. Reproduce the "Your Dream Destination?" raffle ticket" below. Promote attendance in the week before the program by telling teens who come to your library about the program and asking them to fill out the raffle tickets. Display the completed raffle tickets on the bulletin board for others to read. Place a pushpin on the world map representing the teens' desired travel destinations. Borrow posters from a travel agency, map store, or adventure store and hang them near the map display. Inform teens that a name will be drawn for a raffle at the end of the program and that they must be present to win.

RAFFLE TICKET

YOUR DREAM DESTINATION

Name: _____

Age: _____

My dream destination is: _____

ADDITIONAL ACTIVITY

In the second part of the program, teens will participate in a friendly competition by filling out the "Plan Your Ultimate Vacation" activity sheet at the end of this program, and using the Internet resources listed included in this program. Give a small prize to the first one to finish and find the cost for their trip.

BOOKS TO DISPLAY

There are an abundance of travel guides and the names of the most popular series are listed below. Each has numerous guidebooks for popular destinations. Pick the ones in which teens in your community will be the most interested in and include them in your bibliography and display them at your program.

- Let's Go* - Good for young people on low budgets.
- Lonely Planet* - Good for the adventurers.
- Fodor's* - Good for the essentials.
- Insight* - Focuses on giving insights into people, places and history.

Rick Steves' Guides - Presents the big pictures and the small details.

BOOKS TO BOOK TALK

CD PICTURE FRAME CRAFT

TIME OF PROGRAM

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Pictures are an integral part of traveling. Travelers take pictures both to share their experiences with friends and family and to preserve their memories. Teens can display their favorite pictures in these frames made from CD-ROMs such as the ones that arrive in the mail from AOL. They can hang these fancy frames on the fridge, or they can give them as gifts. In preparation for this program, collect CD's from staff and patrons or ask local record stores and radio stations to donate them. (They sometimes have a supply of unwanted CDs.)

Buy a craft book at a used bookstore or at your library's book sale for a raffle prize. Have a raffle at end of program for craft book.

DECORATIONS

Collect pictures from your vacations, staff members' vacations, teens' vacations, and the Internet. Promote the program by displaying the pictures in the teen area along with flyers and posters. Create a guessing or matching game about where the pictures were taken. This can also be a part of program. Place the name of everyone who fills out the guessing game form into a drawing for a "free" book.

Materials

CDs

Small magnets or magnetic tape

Double sided tape

Decorative items such as glitter, beads, feathers, and colorful foam pieces

Paint markers

Old magazines

Varnish or lacquer

Glue

Black felt

Directions

Bring out all of the materials listed above and let the teens choose how they want to decorate the CDs. Give them lots of options! Teens like direction but are also in the midst of a self-identity crisis and like the freedom to choose what they want to do. With this craft you supply them both direction and freedom. Teens can decorate the CDs with the crafts supplied or they can use paint markers to draw designs. They can cut out pictures from magazines, make a collage, and finish it with lacquer for a shiny effect.

VARIATIONS

At the Crafts for Kids web site, click to the second page and click on CD Photo Frame for a variation of Craft <http://craftsforkids.miningco.com/parenting/familycrafts/cs/pictureframes/index.htm>

Buy unfinished picture frames and let the teens decorate them with buttons, cracked tile, and/or other decorative items. Or, try any of the easy frames in Making Picture Frames by Linda Hendry and Lisa Rebnord.

VIRTUAL VISIT TO LOCAL ART MUSEUM

Does your community have an art museum or school? If so and it has a web site, show the children current and upcoming exhibitions as well as art classes on the web site. List the web site on your program handouts. For example, the Southwest School of Arts and Crafts is in San Antonio and the web site is www.swschool.org/.

PROGRAM 3: ARE YOU A SURVIVOR? SURVIVING THE TEXAS OUTBACK

TIME OF PROGRAM

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

In this program, teens will learn about camping, camping gear, and camp sites in Texas.

PREPARATION

Call a local camping store such as REI, Whole Earth Provision Company, Academy, and invite them to give a presentation on "survival skills" related to camping in Texas. Topics might include camping gear, how to use a compass, good locations for camping in Texas, and food and cooking. If a guest presenter is not available to present the program, research the topic and present it yourself, or invite an experienced camper in your community.

DECORATIONS

Cover a bulletin board with a large, colorful map of the Texas. Create forms for teens to fill out inquiring where they want to visit. Display the completed forms and place a pushpin or sticker on the map for each destination listed. Acquire and display posters from Texas Parks and Wildlife at www.tpwd.state.tx.us/

ADDITIONAL ACTIVITIES

HOW TO USE A COMPASS

Teach compass skills and set up an "urban" adventure. Place teens in small groups and have them use a compass to reach a certain destination near the library. Directions for using a compass may be found at Kjetil Kjermsmo's Illustrated Guide on How to Use a Compass at www.uio.no/~kjetikj/compass/.

HOW TO MAKE GORP (GOOD OLD RAISINS AND PEANUTS)

Packing light is essential when exploring. What is the best thing to bring along that is packed with nutrition and calories for long hours of hiking? GORP! Buy ingredients and have teens combine them and enjoy eating GORP after their compass exercise. A recipe is on GORP: Great Outdoor Recreation Page at www.gorp.com/gorp/food/fo\_gorp.htm.

TRAVEL TEXAS

Search the Internet and request catalogs from Texas travel agencies. Order them at least 6 months in advance to ensure arrival. Display them and let the teens browse through them before and after the program.

PROGRAM 4: TAKE A LOOK! PHOTOGRAPHY BASICS FOR TEENS

TIME OF PROGRAM

2 to 3 sessions of 50 minutes each

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Photography is an integral part of recording vacation memories. A few tips will ensure that the pictures are properly lighted and have good composition. In this hands-on photography class, teens bring their own cameras and learn the basics of photography from an expert. The number of classes must be negotiated with your presenter.

PREPARATION

Invite a photographer from local paper or camera store, or a photography enthusiast from the local camera club to teach a series of classes for teens. If you cannot locate a photographer in your area, read Take A Look Around: Photography Activities for Young People by Jim Varriale. It has lots of project ideas. Or, lead the teens in the fun and easy projects listed below.

DECORATIONS

Hold an exhibition of the instructor's work. If you are teaching the class, ask staff to bring examples of good photography and bad photography. Place two labels at the top of your display area, "Do this!" and "Don't do this!" Display the pictures in the proper column. Display posters and/or flyers to advertise your class.

VARIATION

Ask local grocery, hardware, or photography store to donate disposable cameras for teens to use during the program.

BOOKS TO DISPLAY

The Basic Book of Photography by Tom Grimm.

Careers for Shutterbugs and Other Candid Types by Cheryl McLean.

Digital Photography by Alex May.

PROGRAM 5: EAT IT UP! CUISINES OF THE WORLD FOOD COMPETITION

"Most Colorful," and "Best Overall." Invite teens to be judges.

Make copies of the recipes and put them into a booklet to give to all the participants. Keep it on hand in the library, or add it to the library's circulating collection.

PREPARATION

Recruit teens to make a favorite family recipe that has its origins in their family's heritage. If you feel you need more variety in the types of foods being prepared, make a list of different cuisine's and let teens sign up to make them.

Ask the teens to have a permission slip signed by their parents acknowledging their participation in the program.

DECORATIONS

Display a world map and flyers to advertise "Eat It Up!" a week or two before the program.

ADDITIONAL ACTIVITY

Make sets of cards with the names of food from various world cultures on the front and numbers on the back. Laminate them. Give teens maps of the world on 8 1/2" X 11" paper and ask them to write the number of each food on the corresponding country. When they complete the map, give them a raffle ticket. At the end of the program, hold a drawing for a cook book. Teens must be present to win. Below are suggestions for names of foods to put on the cards and corresponding countries.

Japan-Sushi

China- Dim Sum

Italy- Pesto

TIME OF PROGRAM

1 hour

NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS

Limit to 30 teens (or 30 pairs or trios) of teens

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Exploring the foods of another country or city is one of the best ways to learn about its people and culture. Often you don't need to leave your own city or state to taste delicious dishes from across the ocean. In almost every Texas town there is a Mexican food restaurant and many have restaurants that feature food from other world cultures.

For this food competition, invite teens to prepare a dish from their families' traditional cultures and to bring the recipe and the name of the culture from which it originates. If they wish, they can include a paragraph about someone in their family who cooks the dish or an anecdote about a time when their family enjoyed eating it. Grandma Gonzalez's name will never be forgotten when someone is making her famous tortillas!

Dishes will be judged in general categories such as: "Spiciest," "Best Date Food," "Worst Date Food," "Best Comfort Food,"

Mexico-Pico De Gallo
 Jamaica - Ugli Fruit
 France- Escargots
 Greece- Spanakopita
 Czechoslovakia -Kolaches
 Poland-Kielbasa
 Spain-Paella
 England-Scones
 Germany-Schnitzel
 Lebanon – Falafel
 Ethiopia - Doro Wat
 Thailand- Pad Thai

PROGRAM 7: WHERE IS MONA LISA?

INTERNET ART SCAVENGER HUNT

TIME OF PROGRAM

1 Hour

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

One of the best things about traveling is visiting museums. Whether you are in Washington D.C. at a Smithsonian or in Assisi, Italy visiting St. Francis of Assisi's Church, museums change the way you view the world. The goal of this Internet Scavenger Hunt is for the teens to be exposed to a variety of artists and art forms, to locate art on the Internet, and find out where various works of art are on exhibit.

Distribute the Internet Scavenger Hunt form and let teens complete it using the Internet sites below. The first five teens to complete the scavenger hunt will receive a small prize. Place the name of everyone who tries to finish the activity sheet into a drawing.

PREPARATION

Prepare an Internet Scavenger Hunt form such as the one at the end of this program.

DECORATIONS

Display posters or art prints, or print a variety of artworks from the Internet and display them in the teen area. Develop a multiple choice form that asks teens to guess the names of the artwork on display. Use artwork other than the ones in the Internet Scavenger Hunt. Distribute the form to teens who visit your library during the week before the program to promote attendance.

PROGRAM 7:

CAN YOU DANCE TO THAT?

TIME OF PROGRAM

1-2 hours

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Teenagers love music. It's part of their everyday existence. Through their choice of music and clothes, they are slowly carving out their identities. This program will bring teens together to explore various types of music. Ask the teens to bring a recording of their favorite song to be played at this program. Each teen who brings a song will fill out a form stating why this is their favorite song. Hang up the forms around the department.

Everyone attending may not like all of the music that is played, but the program will provide a wider view and appreciation of people's musical preferences. Tolerance of others' people's musical tastes will be one of the lessons learned in the program.

Find out about popular music teens are listening to in other countries. Add some "world" music from your library's collection to expand the teens' musical experience.

Invite a teen volunteer to be the "DJ" and create a "party" atmosphere. If there are too many songs to play during the program, hold a drawing to see which ones will be played. Teens can dance or just hang out and talk to their friends. At the end of the program, the DJ will let the teens will vote for their favorite song.

PREPARATION

Gather CDs and books about music and musicians from your library collection to display during the program. Bring a CD player and decorate your programming room like a party. Hey, it is one!

DECORATIONS

Display CD covers of teen's favorite music. Ask local record stores if they have any music posters to lend. Print out pictures of popular bands from the Internet. Hang them in the department.

ADDITIONAL ACTIVITY

Prepare additional activities for the teens such as bead making and henna tattoos. Information about henna tattoos is at Manju's Mehndi at www.henna-art.com. Display related books along with these activities.

VARIATION

Ask a company to donate a Karaoke machine for your program. Have fun!

BOOKS TO BOOK TALK

Dangerous Angels: The Weetzie Bat Books by Francesca Lia Block

Dogbreath Victorious by Chad Henry.

BOOKS TO DISPLAY

Books on music become quickly outdated since popular music changes from day to day. Ask your teen volunteers to help you select some to display.

PROGRAM 8: FLAMING FINGERTIPS

TEEN JOURNAL WRITING WORKSHOP

TIME OF PROGRAM

2 hours

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Teens are constantly growing mentally and physically. This program leads them to tap into creativity and gain self-awareness through journal writing. At the end of the program, compile the teens' works into a booklet to give participants. Ask the teens for permission to publish their work online, and upload it onto your library's teen web site. Provide refreshments at the end of program.

DISPLAY

Find inspiring quotations from about writing and display them around a poster that says "Writers Write!"

VARIATION

Survey the teens in your community about what type of writing workshop they want: journal writing, poetry, short stories, or creative writing. Invite a local writer, teacher, or professor to present a two to three hour workshop on the most requested topic.

BOOKS TO DISPLAY

FINGERPLAY

TRES PATITOS

Tres patitos salieron a pasear sobre las montañas, muy lejos. (Put fingers together move them up and down as if traveling up and down mountains) Mamá pata dijo: “cuac, cuac, cuac” (Open and close hand like a duck’s beak with each “cuac”)
Pero solo dos patitos volvieron con mamá.

Dos patitos salieron a pasear ... (Repeat with two fingers)
Pero solo un patito volvió con mamá.

Un patito salió a pasear... (Repeat with one finger)
Pero ningún patito volvió con mamá.

La triste mamá pata salió a pasear ... (Move your whole hand)
!Y los cinco patitos regresaron con mamá! (Hold up three fingers)

THREE LITTLE DUCKS

Three little ducks went out to play
Over the hill and far away. (Put fingers together move them as if traveling up and down mountains) Mother duck said: “quack, quack, quack, quack” (Open and close hand like a duck’s beak with each “quack”)
But only two little ducks came back. (Hold up two fingers)

Two little ducks went out to play ... (Repeat with two fingers)
But only one little ducks came back.

One little duck went out to play ... (Repeat with one finger)
But none of the three little ducks came back. (Place hands behind back)

Sad mother duck went out one day... (Move your whole hand)
And all of the three little ducks came back. (Hold up three fingers)

SONGS

EL GALLO PINTO

(Traditional from Colombia)

El gallo pinto se durmió (Lay head on top of both hands placed together)
y esta mañana no cantó, (Pretend to sing) todo el mundo espera su cocoricó (Cross arms and tap foot as if waiting)
el sol no salió por que aún no lo oyó. (Cup hand to ear)

THE LITTLE ROOSTER FELL ASLEEP

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

The little rooster fell asleep (Lay head on top of both hands placed together)
And this morning he didn’t sing, (Pretend to sing) Every one is waiting for his cock-a-doodle-doo (Cross arms and tap foot as if waiting)
The sun didn’t rise since the rooster fell asleep. (Cup hand to ear)

LA DANZA DEL PAVO (© GUAJALOTE)

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

(Sing to the tune of the "Hokey Pokey.")

Metes tu ala izquierda,
sacas tu ala izquierda,
metes tu ala izquierda
y la sacudes muy bien.
Bailas la danza del pavo luego te das la vuelta
y eso es todo
metes tu ala izquierda
y la sacudes muy bien.

Versos siguientes:

...ala derecha...
...muslo izquierdo...
...muslo derecho...
...tus plumas de la cola...
...tu cabeza...
...tu cuerpo de pavo...

THE TURKEY DANCE

(Sing to the tune of "The Hokey Pokey.")

You put your left wing in,
You put your left wing out,
You put your left wing in,
And you shake it all about.
You do the turkey dance,
And you turn yourself around,
That's what is all about.

Verses:

...your right wing...
...your left thigh...
...your right thigh...
...your tail feathers...
...your head...
...your turkey body...

LA GALLINITA ROJA Y LOS GRANOS DE MAÍZ

("The Little Red Hen and the Grain of Corn" adapted by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Puppets:

Red Hen
Cat Dog
Mouse

Props:

Grains of corn
Watering can Stove
Pan
Dish
Tortilla (made out of paper)
Enchilada (made out of a rolled circle piece of paper)

Narrator: Había una vez un gato, un perro, un ratón y una gallinita roja que vivían juntos. La gallinita roja al contrario de sus compañeros, era muy hacendosa. Se pasaba el día trabajando, limpiando, barriendo, lavando y cocinando. Mientras tanto los otros holgazanes se pasaban el día sin hacer nada más que tomar la siesta, comer y soñar. Una madrugada, cuando apenas salía el sol, la gallinita roja estaba barriendo como de costumbre y se encontró unos granos de maíz.

La gallinita roja: ¿Quién me ayudará a plantar estos granos de maíz?

Narrator: Y así le contestaron sus compañeros:

El gato: ¡Yo no!

El perro: ¡Yo tampoco!

El ratón: ¡Y yo mucho menos!

La gallinita roja: ¡Pues entonces yo lo haré!

Narrator: Y dicho y hecho. La gallinita plantó los granos de maíz y todas las mañanas salió a regarlos y a cuidadosamente quitarle las malezas. Poco a poco esas semillas se convirtieron en unas plantas grandes de maíz con muchas mazorcas.

La gallinita roja: ¿Quién me ayudará a cosechar estas mazorcas?

Narrator: Y así le contestaron sus compañeros:

El gato: ¡Yo no!

El perro: ¡Yo tampoco!

El ratón: ¡Y yo mucho menos!

La gallinita roja: ¡Pues entonces yo lo haré!

Narrator: Y dicho y hecho. Una vez recogidas las mazorcas la gallinita preguntó:

La gallinita roja: ¿Quién me ayudará a desgranar estas mazorcas?

Narrator: Y así le contestaron sus compañeros:

El Gato: ¡Yo no!

El Perro: ¡Yo tampoco!

El Raton: ¡Y yo mucho menos!

La gallinita roja: ¡Pues entonces yo lo haré!

Narrator: Y dicho y hecho. Una vez desgranado las mazorcas, la gallinita preguntó:

La gallinita roja: ¿Quién me ayudará a moler el maíz?

Narrator: Y así le contestaron sus compañeros:

El gato: ¡Yo no!

El perro: ¡Yo tampoco!

El perro: ¡Yo también!

El ratón: ¡Y por supuesto yo!

La gallinita roja: ¡No, no y no! Así no puede ser. Yo solita sembré los granos de maíz, yo solita los regué y los cuidé. Yo solita coseché las mazorcas y las desgrané. Yo solita molí el maíz, armé las tortillas y preparé las enchiladas. ¡Por eso yo solita me las voy a comer!

Narrator: Y colorín colorado, este cuento se ha acabado.

CRAFT

CHICKEN

(Adapted from Storytime Crafts by Kathryn Totten)

Materials

Construction paper
Pattern for wings

Glue

Markers

Directions

Cut two strips 2" X 8 ½"

construction paper and a pair of wings for each child. Cut out wings for each child using the pattern at the end of this chapter. The children glue (or staple with an adult's help) the ends of the paper strips together to form two rings and glue the wings between the two rings as shown in the illustration. They then glue the two rings together. The chicken face can be drawn with markers, or eyes and a beak made of construction paper can be glued to the face.

El ratón: ¡Y yo mucho menos!

La gallinita roja: ¡Pues entonces yo lo haré!

Narrator: Y dicho y hecho. Ya molido el maíz la gallinita preguntó:

La gallinita roja: ¿Quién me ayudará a armar y cocinar las tortillas y hacer las enchiladas?

Narrator: Y así le contestaron sus compañeros:

El gato: ¡Yo no!

El perro: ¡Yo tampoco!

El ratón: ¡Y yo mucho menos!

La gallinita roja: ¡Pues entonces yo lo haré!

Narrator: Y dicho y hecho. La gallinita roja armó las tortillas y las puso en el comal. Luego hizo una rica salsa de tomate con chile. Untó las tortillas, les puso queso, las envolvió y las puso en el sartén. Muy pronto el aroma de las enchiladas se esparció por toda la casa. Y la gallinita preguntó:

La gallinita roja: ¿Quién me ayudará a comer estas enchiladas?

Narrator: Y así le contestaron sus compañeros:

El gato: ¡Yo!

friendship. Across the top of the bulletin board, write "Amigos/Friends."

SONGS

ENTRE MÁS JUGUEMOS JUNTAMOS

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Entre más juguemos juntos, muy juntos, muy juntos,
Entre más juguemos juntos, más contentos estaremos.
Tus amigos son mis amigos y mis amigos son tus amigos,
Entre más juguemos juntos, más contentos estaremos.

THE MORE WE GET TOGETHER

The more we get together, together, together,
The more we get together, the happier we'll be.
'Cause your friends are my friends, and my friends are your friends,
The more we get together, the happier we'll be.

HASTA LUEGO

(By Paola Ferate-Soto)
(Sing to the tune of "My Darlin' Clementine.")

Hasta luego, amiguitos,
Until next time my friends,
Otro día nos veremos,
Si señores, otra vez.

GOODBYE, MY FRIENDS

Goodbye, my friends,
 Until next storytime,
 Goodbye my friends
 We will see you again.

NARANJA DULCE

Naranja dulce,
 Limón partido
 Dame un abrazo
 Que yo te pido.

SMILEY ORANGE

Sweet and round orange,
 A slice of lemon,
 Please love so sweet,
 Give me a hug.

PIMPON

(Make a flannelboard from this traditional story song from Mexico. It is on the CD, Diez Deditos / Ten Little Fingers & Other Play Rhymes and Action Songs from Latin America by José-Luis Orozco.)

Pimpón es un muñeco con manos de cartón se lava la carita con agua y con jabón. (Pretend to wash face)
 Se desenreda el pelo con peine de marfil
 Y aunque no le gusta, no llora, ni hace así. (Make an unhappy face)
 Pimpón dame la mano con un fuerte apretón, que quiero ser tu amigo Pimpón, Pimpón, Pimpón. (Shake hands)

Y cuando las estrellas, comienzan a salir,
 Pimpón se va a la cama, Pimpón se va a dormir. (Lay head on hands and close eyes)

PIMPON

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Pimpon is a boy doll with hands of cardboard.
 He washes his face with water and with soap. (Pretend to wash face)
 He takes out his tangles with an ivory comb,
 And even though he dislikes it, he doesn't cry at all. (Make an unhappy face)
 Pimpon give me your hand, let's give a shake of hands,
 I want to be your friend, Pimpon, Pimpon, Pimpon. (Shake hands)
 And when the stars above us start to rise up high,
 Pimpon climbs up in bed, Pimpon goes right to sleep. (Lay head on hands and close eyes)

CRAFT*MARACAS

(Adapted from I Can Make Gifts by Mary Wallace)

Materials

Pill container with childproof lid or film canister
 Beads, beans, or something that will rattle in the pill container
 Spoon

Polyester stuffing
Sock

Directions

Provide the children with the craft supplies and let them make maracas with the help of their parents. First, they pour a spoonful of beads into the pill or film container and lock the lid. They then cover the container with the stuffing to form a ball, push the ball into the toe of the sock, and tie a knot and pull very tight. When they are finished, put on a recording of some lively music and let them play their maracas.

LOS ELEFANTES

(When singing this traditional rhyme from Latin America, choose a child to be the first elephant. He/she sings the song or recites the chant and at the end chooses another child. Each new child chooses another until all of the children are chosen. At the end the spider's web is so heavy that all the children "fall" to the ground. You may listen to version of the song on the Texas State Library's Día de los Niños/Día de los libros page at www.tsl.state.tx.us/dl/projects/niños/songsrhymes.html.)

Un elefante se balanceaba sobre la tela de una araña, como veía que resistía fué a llamar a un camarada.

Versos siguientes:

Dos elefantes...
Tres elefantes...
Cuatro elefantes...

Cinco elefantes...
Seis elefantes...
Siete elefantes...
Ocho elefantes...
Nueve elefantes...
Diez elefantes...

THE ELEPHANTS

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

One elephant went out to swing on a spider's web one day.
Since the web was tough and strong, he called over another friend.

Verses:

Two elephants...
Three elephants...
Four elephants...
Five elephants...
Six elephants...
Seven elephants...
Eight elephants...
Nine elephants...
Ten elephants...

BARNYARD ANIMALS

Draw a barnyard and create a farm scene with different farm animals made from die cuts, or display book jackets with farm animal on the cover. Print the names of the animals in both English and Spanish, e.g., vaca/cow, caballo/horse, chicken/pollo, cerdo/pig, etc. Glue these on bright colored paper and display them next to appropriate books.

DECORATIONS

Decorate the storytime area with stuffed farm animals.

FINGERPLAY

LOS CINCO MARRANOS

(When singing this traditional Columbian song, squeeze each fingertip as you recite this rhyme, starting with the little finger.)

Este marrano compró un huevito.

Este lo partió.

Este lo cocinó.

Este le echó la sal.

Y este pícaro gordo se lo comió.

THE FIVE PIGS

This little pig bought an egg.

This one broke it.

This one cooked it.

This one put salt.

And this little fat one ate it all up.

SONGS

CONOSCO UNA VIEJA

(This traditional song, “I Know an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly,” is translated by Paola Ferate-Soto.)

Conosco una vieja que se tragó una mosca.

Por abrir la boca, se tragó la mosca.
A lo mejor se muere.

Conosco una vieja que se tragó una araña.
Que tejía y se movía y le hacía cosquillas.
Se tragó la araña para que atrapara la mosca.
Por abrir la boca, se tragó la mosca.
A lo mejor se muere.

Conosco una vieja que se tragó a un canario.
Y con mucho entusiasmo, se tragó al canario.
Se tragó al canario para que atrapara a la araña que tejía y se movía y le hacía cosquillas.
Se trago la araña para que atrapara la mosca.
Por abrir la boca, se tragó la mosca.
A lo mejor se muere.

Conosco una vieja que se tragó un gato.
Que tan pato, tragarse a un gato.
Se tragó al gato para que agarrara al canario...

Conosco una vieja que se tragó un perro.
Que tal eso el de tragarse a un sabueso.
Se trago al perro para que atrapara al gato...

Conosco una vieja que se tragó una cabra.
Sin decir palabra, se tragó a la cabra.
Se tragó a la cabra para que atrapara al perro...

Conosco una vieja que se tragó una vaca.
Que lata será, tragarse una vaca.
Se tragó a la vaca para que atrapara a la cabra...

Conosco una vieja que se tragó un caballo.

Pero ya me cayo, pues la pobre paso al papayo.
Se murió.

I KNOW AN OLD LADY WHO SWALLOWED A FLY

I know an old lady who swallowed a fly.
I don't know why she swallowed a fly.
Perhaps she'll die.

I know an old lady who swallowed a spider.
That wiggled and jiggled and tickled inside her.
She swallowed the spider to catch the fly.
But I don't know why she swallowed a fly.
Perhaps she'll die.

I know an old lady who swallowed a bird.
How absurd to swallow a bird.
She swallowed the bird to catch the spider...

I know an old lady who swallowed a cat.
Just think of that, she swallowed a cat.
She swallowed the cat to catch the bird...

I know an old lady who swallowed a dog.
What a hog to swallow a dog.
She swallowed the dog to catch the cat...

I know an old lady who swallowed a goat.
Popped open her throat and in went the goat.
She swallowed the goat to catch the dog...

I know an old lady who swallowed a cow.

Don't ask me how she swallowed that cow.
She swallowed the cow to catch the goat...

I know an old lady who swallowed a horse.
She's dead of course.

EL VIEJO JUANCHO

RIDDLES AND JOKES

¿Quién meneas tu cola de contento? ¿Quién me lame la cara en la mañana?

Who wags its tail when happy? Who licks my face in the morning?

(El perro / The dog)

¿Quién pone y pone y pone mientras le quitas y quitas?

Who lays and lays and while laying someone takes it away?

LA CHIVA TRUCA

(This cumulative tale, retold by Paola Ferate-Soto, may be chanted like a rap song or you may make up a melody. Use the patterns of the goat / la chiva, dog / el perro, stick / el palo, flame / el fuego, bucket of water / el agua, and bear / el oso to make a flannel board story. Place the objects onto the flannel board as you introduce them in the song. Point to each object as the tale repeats it self.)

Yo tengo una chiva muy traviesa. Un día se metió en el corral de las gallinas y por más que le pedí, no quiso salir de ahí. Este es el relato de lo que pasó.

Un día de verano, mi chivita traviesa se metió en el corral. (Place the goat on the flannel board)

Coro:

Sal de ahí chivita, chivita sal de ahí, de ese lugar.

Vamos a llamar al perro (Place the stick on the flannel board) para que muerda a la chiva (Repeat)
El perro no quiere morder a la chiva,
la chiva no quiere salir de ahí.

Coro.

Vamos a llamar al palo, (Place the stick on the flannel board) para que le pegue al perro, (Repeat)
El palo no quiere pegarle al perro,
El perro no quiere morder a la chiva,
la chiva no quiere salir de ahí.

Coro.

Vamos a llamar al fuego, (Place the fire on the flannel board) para que quemé al palo, (Repeat)
El fuego no quiere quemar al palo,
El palo no quiere pegarle al perro,
El perro no quiere morder a la chiva,
la chiva no quiere salir de ahí.

Coro.

Vamos a llamar al agua, (Place the water on the flannel board) para que apague el fuego, (Repeat)
El agua no quiere apagar el fuego,
El fuego no quiere quemar al palo,
El palo no quiere pegarle al perro,
El perro no quiere morder a la chiva,
la chiva no quiere salir de ahí.

Coro.

Vamos a llamar al oso, (Place the bear on the flannel board) para que se beba el agua, (Repeat)
El oso si quiere beberse el agua,
El agua si quiere apagar el fuego,
El fuego si quiere quemar al palo,

El palo si quiere pegarle al perro,
El perro si quiere morder a la chiva,
La chiva si quiere salir de ahí.
Gracias chivita por salir de ahí,
Gracias chivita, me haces muy feliz.

THE NAUGHTY GOAT

I have a very naughty goat. One day it went into the chicken coop and no matter how hard I tried, it wouldn't come out. This is a story of what happened.

One summer day, my naughty goat
Went in the chicken coop. (Place the goat on the flannel board)

Chorus:

Get out of there, naughty goat
Get out of there, right now!

We're going to call the dog, (Place the dog on the flannel board)
So it will bite the naughty goat. (Repeat)

The dog doesn't want to bite the goat
The goat doesn't want to come out.

Chorus.

We are going to call the stick, (Place the stick on the flannel board)
So it will wack the dog. (Repeat)

The stick doesn't want to wack the dog,

The dog doesn't want to bite the goat,
The goat doesn't want to come out.
Chorus.

We are going to call the fire, (Place the fire on the flannel board)
So it will set the stick afire. (Repeat)

The fire doesn't want to light the stick,
The stick doesn't want to wack the dog,
The dog doesn't want to bite the goat,
The goat doesn't want to come out.

Chorus.

We are going to call the water, (Place the water on the flannel board)

So it will quench the fire. (Repeat)

The water doesn't want to squelch the fire,
The fire doesn't want to light the stick,
The stick doesn't want to wack the dog,
The dog doesn't want to bite the goat,
The goat doesn't want to come out.

Chorus.

We are going to call the bear, (Place the bear on the flannel board.)

So it drinks up all the water. (Repeat)

The bear is thirsty and will drink the water,
The water is ready to squelch the fire,

The fire is ready to light the stick,
The stick is ready to wack the dog,
The dog is ready to bite the goat,
The goat, oh, look it's already out,
"Attaboy" my wonderful goat,
"Attaboy" my beautiful goat.

FROG POND

Cover a bulletin board with blue paper. Decorate it with lily pads made from green construction paper circles traced from coffee cans. Trace frogs from the pattern provided at the end of this chapter and place them on the lilly pads. Draw fish or reeds.

DECORATIONS

Display books about toads and frogs. Surround them with frog and toad puppets and stuffed animals, or with origami frogs.

ACTIVITY

Outline the shape of a lily pad on the floor of the program room with masking tape and have children sit in it and pretend to be frogs.

SANA QUE SANA

(This traditional rhyme from Latin America is told when a child hurts him or herself. While it is being chanted, the adult massages or caresses the part of the child's body that is hurting. You may listen to it on the Texas State Library's Día de los niños/Día de los libros web page at www.tsl.state.tx.us/dl/projects/ninos/songsrhymes.html)

Sana que sana,
colita de rana,

si no sanas hoy,
sanarás mañana.

HEAL, HEAL

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Heal, heal
frog's tail
if it doesn't heal today tomorrow it will.

FINGERPLAY

TRES RANITAS PECOSAS

(This version of the traditional rhyme, "Three Little Leopard Frogs" is translated into Spanish by Paola Ferate-Soto.)

Tres ranitas pecosas (Put three fingers from one hand over the other arm)

Sentadas estaban sobre un tronco

Comiendose unos deliciosos bichos. (Pretend you are eating something delicious)

¡Yum, yum!

Una se saltó de un brinco (Point one finger down)

Al agua fresca y refrescante

Y quedaron dos ranitas pecosas.

Dos ranitas pecosas... (Repeat rhyme with two fingers on arm)

Una ranita pecosa... (Repeat rhyme with one finger on arm)

THE LITTLE LEOPARD FROGS

Three little leopard frogs
 Sitting on a leopard log
 Eating the most delicious bugs.
 Yum, yum!
 One jumped into the pool
 Where it was nice and cool
 Then there were two little leopard frogs.
 Glub, glub.
 Two little leopard frogs...
 One little leopard frog...

SONG

CUCU, CUCU

(You may listen to this traditional rhyme on the Texas State Library's Día de los niños/Día de los libros web page at www.tsl.state.tx.us/ld/projects/ninos/songsrhymes.html.)

Cucú, cucú, cantaba la rana
 Cucú, cucú, debajo del agua.
 Cucú, cucú, pasó un caballero
 Cucú, cucú, con capa y sombrero.
 Cucú, cucú, pasó una señora
 Cucú, cucú, con traje de cola.
 Cucú, cucú, pasó un marinero
 Cucu, cucu, vendiendo romero.
 Cucú, cucú, le pidió un ramito
 Cucú, cucú, y no se lo dió
 Cucú, cucú, se puso a llorar.

CUCU, CUCU

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Cucu, cucu, the froggie was singing
 Cucu, cucu, underneath the water.
 Cucu, cucu a gentleman passes
 Cucu, cucu with a cape and a hat.
 Cucu, cucu a lady goes walking
 Cucu, cucu with her long long skirt.
 Cucu, cucu a sailor goes bye
 Cucu, cucu selling rosemary.
 Cucu, cucu she wanted an branch
 Cucu, cucu and he wouldn't sell it
 Cucu, cucu she left very sad.

CRAFT

FROG

(Adapted from Storytime Crafts by Kathryn Totten)

Materials

Frog pattern (at the end of this chapter)
 Green Construction
 Stiff paper
 Colors
 Stapler
 Scissors
 Directions

In advance, copy the frog pattern, glue it onto green construction paper, and cut it out. The children will color the frog, and with the help of their parents, cut along the outline of the tabs, and fold the rear legs along the dotted lines. Then they will bend the body under and fold the tabs down and staple, as shown in the illustration. The frog will jump when pushed lightly on the head.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

LEAP FROG

Divide children into two groups. Half of the children will be frogs, and the other half will be the lily pads. Form a line of lily pads, and the other half will be the lily pads. Form a line of lily pads, they will squat down and tuck their head and shoulders. The line of frogs will "leap" over the lily pads by placing their hands on the player's shoulders and vault over them with legs apart. After that frog has leaped over all the lily pads, he or she will become a lily pad. When the last frog has jumped, the first lily pad will become a frog and the game will continue until each child has had a turn.

Coro:

La cucaracha, la cucaracha, ya no puede caminar,
porque no tiene, porque le falta,

la patita principal.

Dicen todas estas niñas, que yo soy la más chiquita, si señor eso es muy cierto,
y también la más bonita.

Coro.

THE LITTLE COCKROACH (Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Chorus:

The little cockroach, the little cockroach,
Can no longer take a walk,
Because she is missing, because she's lacking.
One of her legs in the back.

All the girls that like to gossip,
Keep saying that I'm the smallest,
Well, yes sir, that is the truth,
But I'm also the most beautiful!

Chorus.

FLANNEL BOARD

Tell "El gallo elegante / The Elegant Rooster" from Sierra & Robert Kaminski.

PAPER BAG PINATA

(Adapted from Look What You Can Make With Paper Bags:
Over Ninety Pictured Crafts and Dozens of Other Ideas by Judy Burke)

Materials

Paper grocery bags
Streamers
Stickers
Markers
Glue
Construction paper
Treats and small party favors
Newspaper or tissue paper
String
Scissors

Directions

The children decorate the paper bags with stickers, streamers, markers, construction paper and any other materials available. While the librarian fills the piñata with candy and small party favors, let the children tear up the tissue paper or newspaper into strips. The librarian then inserts the strips of paper into the bag as filler, folds the open end of the bag, and staples it closed as shown in the illustration. Punch holes in the folded end of the paper bag Thread a 3-foot long string through each of the holes and knot the ends. Hang the piñata from the string and let the children break it.

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

The following games are from Pin the Tail on the Donkey by Joanna Cole.

THE LIMBO

Play lively music while two adults hold a yardstick or broom. The children form a line and bend backward to walk under the pole without touching it. After all the children have a turn, the adults lower the pole a bit. The children go under it again and again, and each time they do the pole is lowered until very few can go under it. Anyone who touches the pole is out.

LET'S CONGA

Play "Conga" on Greatest Hits by Gloria Estefan or a Latin hit of your choice.

Tell the children to form a line and hold onto the waist of the person in front of them. Tell them to sing along with the music or else tell them to repeat "Everybody do the conga. Let's do the conga now!" The children take one step forward, stop, and put out their right foot. Then they take one forward, stop, and put out left foot, etc.

MI TÍO

(Traditional rhyme from Colombia)

Mi tío, mi tío, llegó de Puerto Rico,
 y me traje un bonito abanico.
 Mi tío, mi tío, se fue a tierra extranjera,
 y me traje de vuelta unas lindas tijeras.
 Mi tío, mi tío, volvió desde Marruecos,
 y me traje de vuelta unos bonitos suecos.
 Mi tío, mi tío, viajó hasta el Japón,
 y me traje de vuelta un juego de ping-pong.
 Mi tío, mi tío, pasaba por Peking,
 y me traje de vuelta un lindo balancín.

Mi tío, mi tío, paseaba por Perú,
 y me traje de vuelta un amigo que eres tú!

MY UNCLE

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Mi uncle, my uncle just came from Puerto Rico,
 And he brought me a very pretty fan.
 My uncle, my uncle, left to go overseas,
 And he brought back a pretty pair of scissors.
 My uncle, my uncle, came back from Morocco,
 And on his way back he brought me some great shoes.
 My uncle, my uncle, traveled to Japan,
 And when he came back he brought a ping pong game.
 My uncle, my uncle passed by Peking,
 And he brought back a titer tater machine.
 My uncle, my uncle, traveled to Peru,
 And guess what he brought back: A friend like you!

FINGERPLAY

TRES MONITOS SALTANDO EN LA CAMA

(This translation of the traditional rhyme, "Three Little Monkeys" is by Paola Ferate-Soto.)

Tres monitos saltando en la cama.
 Uno se cayó y la cabeza se pegó,
 Mamá llamó al doctor y el doctor le dijo:
 "¡No más monos saltinbanques en la cama!"
 Dos monitos saltando en la cama,
 Uno se cayó y la cabeza se pegó,

Mamá llamó al doctor y el doctor le dijo,
“¡No más monos saltinbanques en la cama!”

Un monito saltando en la cama,
Ese se cayó y la cabeza se pegó,
Mamá llamó al doctor y el doctor le dijo,
“¡No más monos saltinbanques en la cama!”

THREE LITTLE MONKEYS

Three little monkeys jumping on the bed,
One fell off and bumped his head,
Mamma called the doctor and the doctor said,
“No more little monkeys jumping on the bed!”

Two little monkeys jumping on the bed,
One fell off and bumped his head,
Mamma called the doctor and the doctor said,
“No more little monkeys jumping on the bed!”

One little monkey jumping on the bed,
He fell off and bumped his head,
Mamma called the doctor and the doctor said,
“No more little monkeys jumping on the bed!”

POEM

AMOR FILIAL

(The following poem by Amado Nervo is about “family love,” the love a child has for both of his/her parents.)

Yo adoro a mi madre querida,
yo adoro a mi padre también;

ninguno me quiere en la vida
como ellos me saben querer.

Si duermo, ellos velan mi sueño;
si lloro, están tristes los dos;
si río, su rostro es risueño:
mi risa es para ellos el sol.

Me enseñan los dos con inmensa ternura a ser bueno y feliz.
Mi padre por mi lucha y piensa;
mi madre ora siempre por mí.

Yo adoro a mi madre querida,
yo adoro a mi padre también;
ninguno me quiere en la vida
como ellos me saben querer.

FAMILY LOVE

(Translated by Josefina Rodriguez-Gibbs and Nohemi López)

I adore my dear mother,
I adore my dear father too;
No one loves me as much
As they know how to love me.

When I sleep, they keep watch over me;
When I cry they are sad with me;
When I laugh they smile with me:
My laugh is the sunshine for them.

They tenderly teach me to be happy and nice.

My father does his best for me;
My mother prays always for me.

I adore my dear mother,
I adore my dear father too.
No one loves me as much
As they know how to love me.

CRAFT

TREE OF LIFE CANDLESTICK

(Adapted from Traditional Crafts from Mexico and Central America by Florence Temko)

Materials

Play dough or clay
Toothpicks or wire
Tempera Paint
Birthday candle
Directions

Make a Tree of Life Candlestick in advance to display, and then let the children follow these directions and make their own. If clay is used, moisten the ends of the parts to connect them. Roll a ball of dough about 2 inches in diameter and flatten the bottom to make the base of the candle stick. Roll a lump of dough into a pole about 4 inches long and ¼ inch thick to form the trunk of the tree.

Join the base and the trunk as shown in the illustration. If the trunk bends, push one or two toothpicks down the middle to keep it straight. For the branches, roll each of two dough balls about 4 ½ inches long and ½ inch thick. Bend the branches to form half circles and attach each to the trunk. Roll a ball of dough into a 1-inch ball and with a toothpick twirl a hole big enough to hold a birthday candle. Attach it to the top of the tree trunk. Shape clay into birds, flowers, or small balls of different colors and attach them to the branches and base for decorations. Paint it colorfully and insert a birthday candle for the children to light at home.

quedan dormidos

Juan y Ana se quedan dormidos toda la noche

JOHNNY AND ANNIE'S HAMMER

Johnny pounds with one hammer, one hammer, one hammer,

(Pound with right hand)

Johnny pounds with one hammer, all day long.

Annie pounds with two hammers... (Pound with right and left hands)

hands as well as with right and left legs)

Johnny pounds with five hammers... (Keep moving arms, legs, and also move your head up and down)

Johnny and Annie are so tired, so tired, so tired, so tired, (Pretend you are falling asleep)

Johnny and Annie are so tired, all day long.

Johnny and Annie are sleeping now, sleeping now, sleeping now, sleeping now,

Johnny and Annie are sleeping now, all night long.

HABIAN DIEZ EN LA CAMA

(This translation of "Roll Over" is by Paola Ferate-Soto.)

Habían diez en la cama, y el chiquitito dijo: “¡Voltéense, voltéense!”

Entonces se voltearon, y uno se cayó, ¡Ay!

Habían nueve en la cama...

Habían ocho en la cama...

Habían siete en la cama...

Habían seis en la cama...

Habían cinco en la cama...

Habían cuatro en la cama...

Habían tres en la cama...

Habían dos en la cama...

Había uno en la cama y el chiquitito dijo:

“¡Por fin solo!”

ROLL OVER

There were ten in the bed, and the little one said, “Roll over! Roll over!”

So they all rolled over, but one fell out... Ouch!

Verses:

There were nine in the bed...

There were eight in the bed...

There were seven in the bed...
There were six in the bed...
There were five in the bed...
There were four in the bed...
There were three in the bed...
There were two in the bed...
There was one in the bed, and the little one said,
"Alone at last!"

SONGS

ESTRELLITA, ESTRELLITA

(This translation of "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star" is by Paola Ferate-Soto.)

Estrellita, estrellita,
me pregunto como estás.
Sobre el mundo, muy arriba, como un diamante que brilla.
Estrellita, estrellita,
me pregunto como estás.

TWINKLE, TWINKLE, LITTLE STAR

Twinkle, twinkle little star,
How I wonder what you are.
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky.
Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How I wonder what you are.

FRAY SANTIAGO

Fray Santiago, Fray Santiago,
¿Duerme usted? ¿Duerme usted?

Suenan las campanas,
Suenan las campanas.
Ding, dang, dong.

GOOD MORNING

Good morning, good morning,
How are you? How are you?
Very well I thank you,
Very well I thank you,
How about you? How about you?

Good afternoon, good afternoon,
How are you? How are you?
Very well I thank you,
Very well I thank you,
How about you? How about you?

Good evening, good evening,
How are you? How are you?
Very well I thank you,
Very well I thank you,
How about you? How about you?

READER'S THEATER SCRIPT

ARRIBA JUAN

The following is a song, which can be used as a reader's theater script. A mother wakes up her son so he can get to school on time. He pretends he is sick until his mother offers him ice cream.

Mama: Arriba Juan, arriba Juan, ya cantó el gallito.
Juan: Ay, no mamá, ay no mamá es muy temprano.
Mama: Arriba Juan, arriba Juan, hay que ir a la escuela.
Juan: Ay, no mamá, ay no mamá me duele una muela.
Mama: Arriba Juan, arriba Juan, te compré un helado.
Juan: ¡Ay, sí mamá! ¡Ay, sí mamá! ¡Ya estoy levantado!

GET UP JOHN

Mama: Get up John, get up John, the rooster has crowed.
Juan: Oh no, mommy, oh no mommy, it's too early yet.
Mama: Get up John, get up John, it's time to go to school.
Juan: Oh no, mommy, oh no mommy my back tooth is hurting.
Mama: Get up John, get up John, I bought ice cream for you.
Juan: Oh yea mommy! Oh yea mommy! I'm already up!

STORYTELLING

"El vaquero al que no le gustaba la noche / The Cowboy Who Did Not Like the Night" adapted by Elida Guardia Bonet, and in To the Library and Beyond! 2001 Texas Reading Club manual.

CRAFT

WIND SOCK

(Adapted from Every Day is Earth Day: A Craft Book by Kathy Ross)

Materials

- Margarine tubs and lids
- Party streamers or ribbon cut into 3 feet lengths
- Metal bells (optional)
- Ribbon
- String

Directions

In advance, cut the bottom out of the margarine tub, cut the center out of the lid leaving the outer ring, and cut 3-foot lengths of the party streamers or ribbon. Children arrange the streamers around the rim of the tub so that they hang over the edge, tuck two ends of a ribbon under the lid to form a hanger, and snap the lid over the rim of the tub. They may then tie metal bells to the ends of the ribbon or to pieces of string as shown in the illustration.

LUNA LUNERA

(This is a traditional "Ring Around the Rosies" type of game. The children make a circle and hold hands. They recite the rhyme while walking in a circle. At the end of the rhyme, they fall to the ground and freeze. The child who stays still the longest wins.)

Luna lunera cascabelera, tómate tu Milo y vete pa' la escuela.
si no quieres ir, acuéstate a dormir.

MOON, MOON

(Translated by Paola Ferate-Soto)

Moon, moon, jingle moon,
Drink up your milk, and then go to school.
If you don't want to go, then go back to sleep!

I’M BRINGING HOME A BABY RATTLESNAKE

(Adapted by Paola Ferate-Soto)

(Sing to the tune of “I’m Bringing Home a Baby Bumblebee.”)

I’m bringing home a baby rattlesnake.

Won’t my mama be so scared she’ll shake.

I’m bringing home a baby rattlesnake,

Hiss, hiss, hiss, hisssss.

GECKO MAGNET

(Adapted from Crafts for Kids Who Are Wild about Deserts by Kathy Ross)

Materials

Two 12-inch brown pipe cleaners

Scissors

Glue

Wooden ice cream spoons or tongue depressors (the spoons are closer to the shape of the gecko)

Yellow tissue paper

Brown marker

Sticky-back magnet strip

Two small, black beads

Directions

Use the illustrations below to make a sample gecko to display, then let the children make this craft with the help of their parents and following these instructions. Cut one of the pipe cleaners into two pieces for the front and back legs.

Make the front legs shorter than the back legs. Bend the pipe cleaners to shape the feet and knees. Cut a 4-inch piece from the second pipe cleaner for the tail and cut eight 1-inch pieces from the second pipe cleaner for the toes. Glue the front and back legs onto the front and back of the spoon.

Glue the tail piece over the back legs so that it sticks out at the handle of the spoon. Wrap two 1-inch pieces to each foot to make toes. Cut yellow tissue paper squares and wrap them around each foot. Glue the tissue to each foot. When it is dry, put a piece of sticky-back magnet on each foot. Color the top of the gecko brown with the brown marker. Glue a strip of yellow tissue down the back and glue on two black beads for eyes.

DON'T LET THE SCORPION BITE

This game requires at least six players and is like "Hot Potato." Use a plastic scorpion or a stick for the "scorpion." Choose one child to be the "guesser" and have him/her leave the room. Tell everyone that as long as they don't get caught with the scorpion, it won't bite them, and that they need to pass it on as fast as possible without letting the guesser know who has it. Let the children begin passing the scorpion and call the guesser into the room. He will stand in the middle of the circle. All of the children pretend to pass the scorpion. The "guesser" has three chances to guess who has the scorpion. Whoever gets caught will become the "guesser" for the next round.

SCAVENGER HUNT

Gather small items such as a feather, a pebble, a plastic animal, etc., and hide them in the storytime area. Give the children a list of the items and a paper bag and let them hunt for them in pairs. Set a time limit and count the number of items that each child finds when the time is up. Give a prize to each child who participates, and a special prize to the one who finds the most.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Invite a representative from the local agricultural extension department or a local nursery to do a presentation on desert plants.
Contact your zoo or a local pet shop and ask them to do a presentation on reptiles.
