ABSTRACT

A report of retention rates is produced at the end of each school year in the Austin Independent School District (AISD), Texas. Information is gathered after the beginning of the school year to reflect counts of actual retainees from the previous year. Overall retention rates for the beginning of the 1993-94 school year are: (1) elementary, 0.5%; (2) middle school, 2.8%; (3) high school, 14.6%; and (4) school system overall, 4.3%. Retention rates for elementary and middle schools continue to decline, but the rate for high schools continues to increase, causing a rise in the district-wide rate. Implications of retention are discussed, arguing that retention of students is not consistent with the strategic objective that every student will function at the highest possible level of achievement. Alternatives to retention are recommended. Five appendixes contain supplemental information and background materials. Seven figures and 21 retention charts present study findings. (SLD)

HISTORICAL RETENTION REPORT, 1993-94

Executive Summary

Austin Independent School District
Office of Research and Evaluation

Author: Mario Sanchez

Program Description

Rate of retention in grade is a measure of the number of students who repeat the grade they were in the year before. Analyses of data for the most recent year as well as longitudinal data are given.

Included in this report are:

- Graphs and tables describing the most recent results;
- Counts of retainees by school by grade;
- Historical retention charts by grade and year; and
- Documentation on retention policies.

Major Findings

- The overall retention rates for the beginning of the year (1993-94) were:
 - 0.5 Elementary (K-6)
 - 2.8 Middle School (6-8)
 - 14.6 High School (9-12)
 - 4.3 AISD (K-12)
- Continuing a pattern observed for the last seven years, retention rates for elementary and middle schools keep declining (Page 3). The retention rate for high school, however, keeps rising (Page 4).
- The retention rate for all grades (K-12) in 1993-94 was 4.3. The retention rate for the District went up to the level observed two years ago. Even though both elementary and middle schools remain on the track of a decreasing retention rate, the general increase can be seen as the result of a disproportionately high rate of retention at high school, particularly at the 9th grade. (Page 4).
- The retention rate for elementary school, as a whole, continues to drop. An increase in the retention rate for grades 7 (4.1%), 9 (24.7%), 10 (12.7%), and 11 (8.7%) was observed from last year's rate (Page 6).
- Retention rates for high schools went up this year by an average 2.81 percentage points (Page 4).

Budget Implications

Mandate:

School Board policy (Austin ISD 227-901, see Appendices) mandates the collection of retention information.

Funding Amount:

The amount required to educate a student for one year multiplied by the number of students retained.

Funding Source:

Local, State, and Federal

Implications:

The retention of students is not consistent with the strategic objective that "every student will function at his/her optimal level of achievement and will progress successfully through the system." Alternatives to retention are recommended.

Introduction

Underlined terms used in this introduction are defined in the Appendix at the end of this report.

This report of retention rates is produced at the end of each school year. The information it contains is gathered after the beginning of the school year to reflect counts of actual retainees from the previous year.

This report is divided into four sections:

Summary of Results: This section summarizes the results for the most recent years (Figure 1-7). The retention rates (percentages) in these figures are based upon the average daily membership (ADM) for the 1993-94 school year.

Retainees Count: Tables of retainees count by school and by grade. Separate tables for elementary, middle, and high schools are included.

Historical Retention Charts: Each chart lists information about a grade or about a grade range (e.g., Chart K-5). A detailed description of these tables can be found on page 10.

Retention Policies: The appendix includes, in addition to a glossary of terms and AISD's retention policies, three attachments: 1 - a more detailed AISD Retention Policy, 2 - Texas State Retention Policy, and 3 - House Bill 72.

This report was reorganized this year, several tables were added and the counting programs were updated. As a result, the reader may observe some discrepancies from the numbers presented in previous retention reports.

Overview

The retention rates for elementary and middle schools have declined steadily since 1987-88 (see Figure 1 and Figure 2). While the rates for high schools had climbed steadily from 1988-89 through 1991-92, a decline in last year's (1992-93) rate brought it back down to the level observed in 1989-90. This year, however, a jump in the rate brought it up into line with previous increments in the last six years (see Figure 3).

As a whole, the District has shown a steady decline in the retention rates of about one-half of one percent since 1989-90 (see Figure 4) and, except for 1989-90 and this year, the District retention rate has declined steadily since 1986-87. The increment in the District retention rate for this year can be attributed to the disproportionate retention rate in 9 to 12 grades.

A change in attitude of teachers toward retention has accompanied the general decline in retention rates. Teachers have become increasingly less inclined towards the option to retain a student. In 1987-88, 11% of surveyed teachers disagreed with the statement, "[R]etention of students with serious achievement problems is beneficial." The percentage of teachers disagreeing with this statement increased steadily until 1991-92, the last year this question was asked, when the percentage of teachers disagreeing with the statement reached 22%.

Research done by ORE and others has indicated that being overage for grade (or retained) contributes highly to the risk of dropping out of school. Retention rates for the District rose to an all-time high in 1986-87 (7.2% for grades K-12), probably as a result of the implementation of State Board of Education rules based on House Bill 72. Since that time, alternative programs and changes in teacher and administrator attitudes have worked to reduce retention rates in AISD to the current rate of 4.3%. The current increment in the District's retention rate can be explained as coming from the automatic sanctions that result from the students' academic failure; in other words, regardless of the teachers' and administrators' attitudes toward retention, the students are retained, or not, based on the result of a computer formula that includes the students' grades and number of credits earned. For a more detailed analysis of historical trend, see ORE Publication No. 89.13, 1989-90 Retention Report. Finally, it can be seen that students in the ninth grade have more trouble than others in staying on grade level. For more information concerning the transition to high school for ninth graders, see ORE Publication No. 90.26, Caution: Hazardous Grade.

Summary of Results

SIX-YEAR COMPARISONS

Beginning-of-year retention rates

Figure 1

GRADES K-6

Retention rates for elementary schools have declined over the last six years.

Figure 2

GRADES 6-8

For the first time in over six years the retention rates for middle schools rose by 1/5 of one percent.

NOTE: The rate reported is calculated as Retained/Average Daily Membership.

Figure 3

GRADES 9-12

Retention rates for high schools have been on the rise for the last six years. Even though a decrease was observed last year, retention in 1993-94 went back to previous years' trend.

GRADES K-12

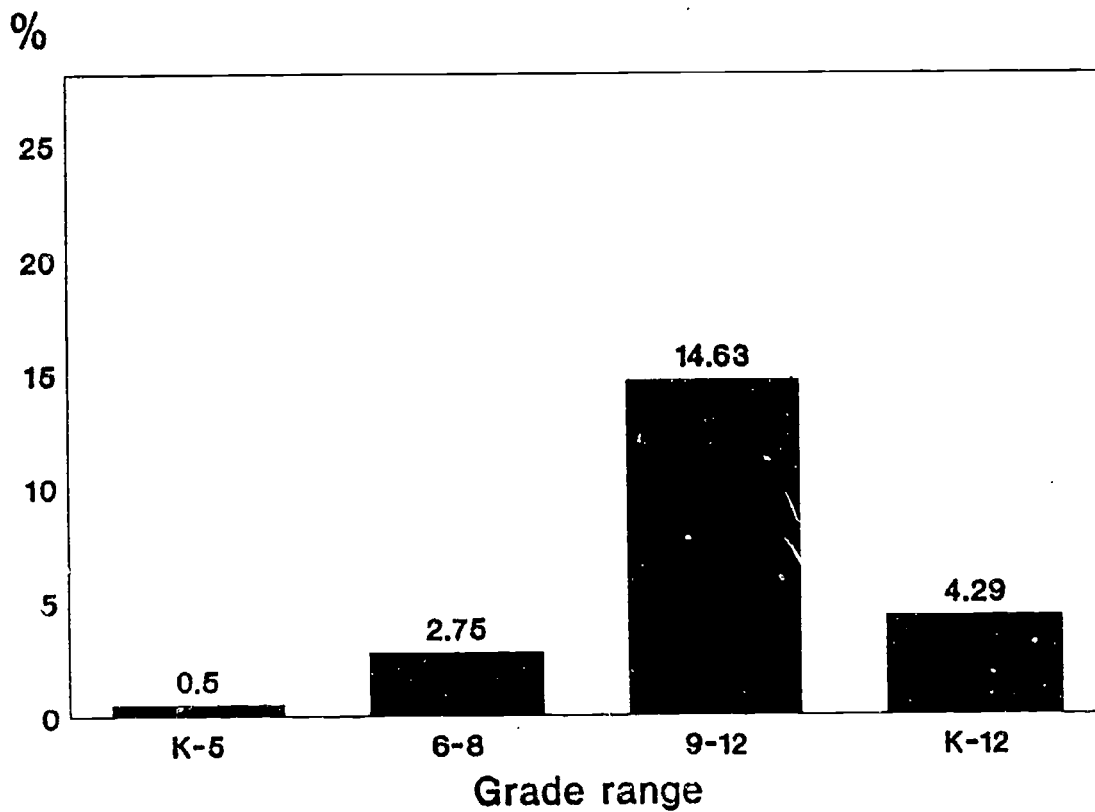

The retention rate for the District went up to the level observed two years ago. Even though both elementary and middle schools remain on the track of a decreasing retention rate, the general increase can be seen as the result of a disproportional rate of retention at high school, particularly at the ninth grade.

NOTE: The rate reported is calculated as Retained/Average Daily Membership.

Historical Retention Charts

Historical Retention Charts.

These charts present cumulative information of how retention has occurred through the last five years. Each chart lists information about a grade or a grade range (e.g., Chart K-5). Within a chart, each line has two parts: the first part lists information about the end of the year; usually this information is gathered at the end of the spring. Listed are the school year, the Average Daily Membership (ADM), and the End-of-Year membership (EOYM). The second part lists information about Beginning-of-Year actual retainees. Listed are the school year, the Fall re-enrollment (FRE), and the number of retained. The last three columns are percentages that reflect the relationship of those retained to three different counts: ADM, EOYM and FRE.

APPENDICES

DEFINITION OF TERMS

ACTUAL RETAINÉES:

Elementary and junior high/middle school students who are repeating a grade level or high school students who did not earn enough credits to be promoted and are repeating a failed course or courses are considered actual retainées. In some AISD publications, actual retainées are referred to as beginning-of-year retainées, since they are counted as retainées based on their status as of the beginning of the school year.

ADM
AVERAGE DAILY
MEMBERSHIP

An average over the school year of the number of students enrolled in the District.

EOYM
END-OF-YEAR
MEMBERSHIP

The number of students officially enrolled at the end of a school year.

FALL
RE-ENROLLEES:

A student is considered a fall re-enrollee if he or she was in membership (enrolled) in AISD at the end of the previous school year and also in membership at the time of the fall count of beginning-of-year retainées.

FALL
RE-ENROLLMENT:

The number of students who returned to the District from the previous school year. The number of students who were on the student master file at the end of the school year and were also enrolled after the beginning of the next school year.

PLACEMENT:

Students who do not meet promotion criteria but are achieving at their maximum ability are placed in the next grade level with alternative instructional provisions made for them.

POTENTIAL/
RECOMMENDED
RETAINÉES:

At the elementary level, students are recommended for retention by teachers in an identification process that occurs in May. At the junior high/middle school level, students are identified as potential retainées if their overall average in all classes is failing (below 70). At the high school level, students are identified as potential retainées if they do not earn the number of credits necessary to be promoted to the next grade. In some AISD publications, potential/recommended retainées are called end-of-year retainées, since the recommendations are made at the end of the school year.

PROMOTION:

Students who master the essential elements necessary to be successful at the next grade level are promoted. At the elementary level, a student must attain for the year an overall average of 70 or above, which is derived by averaging the final numerical grade for language arts, mathematics, social studies, and science. In addition, the student must attain an average of 70 or above in language arts and mathematics. At the middle school and junior high level (grades 6, 7, and 8), students must attain an average of 70 or above for the year in all courses taken, and an average of 70 or above in three of the following subjects: language arts (including reading improvement if it is required), mathematics, social studies, and science. Senior high students (grades 9, 10, 11, and 12) are promoted based on the number of credits earned (see definition for credits).

RETENTION:

Students who fail to master the essential elements necessary for success at the next grade level are retained. At the elementary and middle school and junior high level, students repeat a grade level. High school students who do not earn enough credits to be promoted are required to repeat the course(s) failed.

AISD Retention Policies

ELEMENTARY RETENTION POLICY

Prior to 1981-82, AISD's elementary retention policy was very general. A revised policy was adopted in April, 1981, which officially went into effect during the 1981-82 school year. This revised policy specified that:

- All students at least one year behind in reading basals at grades 4-6 were to be considered for retention.
- Students generally were to be retained only once in grades K-3 and once in grades 4-6.
- Teachers and principals had the final responsibility for retention decisions. Parents had to be notified and conferred with at least two months before school ended regarding possible retentions.

Because of State legislative reforms (specifically State Board of Education rules based on House Bill 72), AISD policies on elementary retention were revised again in the spring of 1986. The new policy states that:

- To be promoted, a student must master the essential elements necessary to be successful at the next grade level.
- No student may be retained more than once in grades 1-4 or once in grades 5-8 (except in very unusual cases with parent permission).
- A student may be placed in the next grade if he or she is achieving at maximum ability and alternative program provisions are made. The student's instruction level is to be indicated on the report card.

SECONDARY RETENTION POLICY

Before 1985-86, junior high school students in AISD were promoted based on a point system. A full-year course earned one point; four points were needed for promotion. Students one or two points short could be promoted if they took and passed one or two summer school courses. Placement in the next grade was possible in unusual circumstances (previous retentions, age, social, or other factors), but generally students were retained.

Under this policy, senior high students were promoted to grades 10, 11, and 12 based on successful completion of 5, 10, or 15 credits, respectively. One semester of a course counted for .5 of a credit. An average of 60 was necessary to pass a course.

Secondary retention policy revisions based on House Bill 72 went into effect in 1985-86. New State Board of Education rules specified that:

- To be promoted, junior high students shall attain for the year an overall average of 70 or above in all courses taken. In addition, students must attain an average of 70 or above in three of the four following subject areas: language arts, mathematics, social studies, and science.
- No student shall be retained more than once in grades 5-8 (except in unusual cases with parent permission).
- Students in grades 7 and 8 who fail to meet promotion requirements shall be retained or provided alternative programs.
- Alternative placements involve changes in students' instructional schedules to allow them to meet promotion standards. Examples include:
 - A transfer to another school;
 - An assignment to a self-contained remedial class; or
 - Enrollment in an alternative instructional program.

For senior high students, the credits needed for promotion remained the same under the new policy. However, the average needed to pass a course was raised from 60 to 70. In addition, a maximum of five unexcused absences are allowed. This standard is generally higher than school policies previously in effect. Students must repeat only courses failed.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT: GRADING, REPORTING, PROMOTION/RETENTION/PLACEMENT AND REMEDIATION OF ELEMENTARY STUDENTS

EIE
(LOCAL)

GRADING, REPORTING, PROMOTION/RETENTION/ PLACEMENT, AND REMEDICATION OF ELEMENTARY STUDENTS.

District philosophy concerning grading, reporting promotion/retention/placement, and remediation is based on the recognition that each child is a unique individual. Therefore, when considering promotion or retention, attention must be given to all aspects of the students' development in order to accommodate individual needs and to promote the full development of the learner's potential.

GENERAL GUIDELINES

Students shall be assigned where their educational and personal needs will be met and success will be possible. Areas to be considered include achievement, chronological age, physical development, behavior, and language background. The following guidelines shall be used in determining assignments.

1. The principal, upon recommendations from the teachers and following District guidelines, shall be responsible for making the final decisions regarding promotion, grade placement, and retention of students, except those in special education.
2. The Admission, Review, and Dismissal (ARD) Committee shall make the final decision in the placement of special education students.
3. The language background of students shall be considered in placing them to the best advantage for instruction.

GRADING

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT SHALL BE BASED ON MASTERY OF THE ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS FOR THE INSTRUCTIONAL LEVEL AT WHICH THE STUDENT IS FUNCTIONING.

STUDENT ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT SHALL BE BASED ON A NUMERICAL SCALE OF 0-100.

THE NUMERICAL GRADE SCALE WILL BE USED ON ALL PERMANENT RECORDS.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT: GRADING, REPORTING,
PROMOTION/RETENTION/PLACEMENT, AND REMEDIATION OF ELEMENTARY STUDENTS

EIE
(LOCAL)

NUMERICAL SCORES WILL BE ASSIGNED IN THE SUBJECT AREAS OF LANGUAGE ARTS, MATHEMATICS, SOCIAL STUDIES, AND SCIENCE FOR GRADES ONE THROUGH SIX.

GRADES SHALL BE REPORTED TO PARENTS EVERY SIX WEEKS. MID-SIX WEEKS NOTIFICATION SHALL BE PROVIDED WHEN A STUDENT'S GRADE AVERAGE IN READING, MATHEMATICS, LANGUAGE, SPELLING, SOCIAL STUDIES, OR SCIENCE IS LOWER THAN 70 OR WHOSE GRADE AVERAGE IS BORDERLINE (70-74).

FOR STUDENTS PLACED IN ALTERNATIVE PROGRAMS, THE REPORT TO PARENTS MUST CLEARLY SPECIFY THE INSTRUCTIONAL LEVEL AT WHICH THE STUDENT IS FUNCTIONING.

CONFERENCES WILL BE HELD WITH PARENTS OF STUDENTS WHOSE GRADE IS BELOW 70 OR BORDERLINE (70-74) IN READING, MATHEMATICS, LANGUAGE, SPELLING, SOCIAL STUDIES, OR SCIENCE AT THE END OF A SIX-WEEK GRADING PERIOD.

LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENT STUDENTS SHALL BE ALLOWED TO DEMONSTRATE MASTERY OF THE ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS INDEPENDENT OF THEIR ENGLISH LANGUAGE SKILLS. THIS WILL INCLUDE ASSESSMENT IN THE PRIMARY LANGUAGE, ASSESSMENT USING ESL METHODOLOGIES, AND NON VERBAL ASSESSMENT.

VARYING GRADING PROCEDURES AND EXPECTATIONS FOR HANDICAPPED STUDENTS SHALL BE BASED ON RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE ADMISSION, REVIEW, AND DISMISSAL COMMITTEE.

PROMOTION

TO BE PROMOTED FROM ONE GRADE LEVEL TO THE NEXT, A STUDENT SHALL ATTAIN FOR THE YEAR AN OVERALL AVERAGE OF 70 OR ABOVE WHICH IS DERIVED BY AVERAGING THE FINAL NUMERICAL GRADE FOR LANGUAGE ARTS, MATHEMATICS, SOCIAL STUDIES, AND SCIENCE. IN ADDITION, THE STUDENT SHALL ATTAIN AN AVERAGE OF 70 OR ABOVE IN LANGUAGE ARTS AND IN MATHEMATICS.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT: GRADING, REPORTING,

AND IN MATHEMATICS WILL BE CONSIDERED FOR RETENTION.

A STUDENT MAY BE REQUIRED TO REPEAT THE GRADE LEVEL.
HOWEVER, NO STUDENT MAY BE RETAINED MORE THAN ONE TIME
IN GRADES ONE THROUGH FOUR AND ONE TIME IN GRADES FIVE
THROUGH EIGHT. IN EXCEPTIONAL CASES, WITH APPROVAL OF THE
SCHOOL AND THE PERMISSION OF THE PARENT, A SECOND

PLACEMENT

A STUDENT MAY BE PLACED IN THE NEXT GRADE LEVEL IF THE
STUDENT IS ACHIEVING TO HIS OR HER MAXIMUM ABILITY, SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING REQUIREMENTS:

- 1. A STUDENT WHO IS PLACED IN THE NEXT GRADE LEVEL SHALL BE PLACED IN AN ALTERNATIVE PROGRAM THAT WILL MEET THE STUDENT'S IDENTIFIED NEEDS. PROCEDURES SHOULD INCLUDE:
 - ASSESSMENT OF THE STUDENT'S NEEDS.
 - DETERMINATION OF THE APPROPRIATE ALTERNATIVE PROGRAM.
 - NOTIFICATION TO THE PARENT THAT THE STUDENT WAS NOT PROMOTED BUT PLACED IN AN ALTERNATIVE PROGRAM AT
THE NEXT GRADE LEVEL. THE REPORT CARD WILL INDICATE
THE PLACED STUDENT'S INSTRUCTIONAL LEVEL.
 - PROVISION FOR STUDENTS TO EXIT THE PROGRAM WHEN APPROPRIATE.
- 2. THE ARD COMMITTEE MAKES THE DECISION FOR PLACEMENT OF

3. STUDENTS WHO HAVE BEEN RETAINED OR PLACED IN ALTERNATIVE PROGRAMS AND WHO STILL FALL TWO YEARS OR MORE BELOW GRADE LEVEL IN READING OR MATHEMATICS, OR BOTH, SHALL BE PLACED IN AN ALTERNATIVE PROGRAM PROVIDING INTENSIVE REMEDIATION DESIGNED FOR RAPID PROGRESS IN LANGUAGE ARTS, READING, AND MATHEMATICS. TIME AND SUBJECT REQUIREMENTS MAY BE ADJUSTED FOR OTHER SUBJECTS.

Instructional grouping strategies and supplementary programs constitute alternative programs. Supplementary programs include tutorials, Compensatory Education, Chapter I, and Chapter I Migrant.

REMEDIATION

Remediation may occur through tutorials, Chapter 1, Chapter 1 Migrant, State Compensatory Education (SCE) Programs, transitional classes, summer schools, and the reteach cycle of the mastery teaching model.

DISTRICT TRANSFER
PLACEMENT

The student's placement by the sending school shall be the placement for the receiving school. In extenuating circumstances a different grade placement may be considered only after a period of thorough observation and conferences with the parents.

OUT-OF-DISTRICT
TRANSFER
PLACEMENT

The student's initial placement shall be in the grade recommended by the sending school.

If the grade placement seems unsuitable, the following steps shall be taken as soon as possible to determine proper placement:

- Administer the appropriate placement tests in reading and mathematics.
- Allow time for teacher observation.
- Collect samples of the student's daily work.
- Conference with teachers and parents.

In exceptional cases, with approval of a committee consisting of at least the student's teachers and two administrators, one of whom shall be assigned above the campus level, and the permission of the parent, a second retention within grades 5-8 may be allowed.

ALTERNATIVE
PROGRAMS

Students in grades 6, 7 and 8 who fail to meet the requirements for promotion shall be retained or provided alternative programs.

PROMOTION TECHNIQUES

Upon ascertaining that such students are performing below a level that will permit them to meet requirements for promotion, the principal, or designee, should:

- monitor the academic progress of each student who may not meet promotion standards;
- inform parents of the student's academic progress in writing and by initiating an attempt to schedule a personal conference;
- provide parents with suggestions for helping students at home; and
- encourage each student to enroll in the District tutorial program and/or to attend summer school.

ASSISTANCE FOR RETAINED
STUDENTS

If a student fails to meet promotion standards, the principal, or designee, should:

- assess each student's academic needs and share findings and recommendations in a conference with the student and parents;

A retained student may be enrolled in the Academic Incentive Program if:

- the student falls two years or more below grade level in reading or mathematics; or
- the student has a history of nonperformance and the majority of the grades are failing.

This special instructional program will provide intensive remediation designed for rapid progress in English, reading, and mathematics. Time and subject requirements may be adjusted for other subjects.

A student enrolled in the remedial program must attain an average of 70 or above in each of the three courses, English, reading, and mathematics.

A student enrolled in an alternative program must attain an average of 70 or above in each of the required courses.

Each student enrolled in TAP or AIP shall receive frequent progress reports that clearly explain the student's level of performance in each course.

PROMOTION
FROM ALTERNATIVE
PROGRAMS

Promotion to the next grade will be based on the review of all grades earned. Grades from other courses taken during the academic year must be considered in determining a student's overall grade average for promotion purposes.

Upon the successful completion of the alternative program requirements, a committee consisting of the student's counselor and teachers will assist the student and parents in completing the ninth grade choice sheet. The committee will recommend the student for appropriate, yet challenging, high school courses.
