ABSTRACT

A series of exercises developed and used by the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) focusing on citizenship and social studies objectives is provided. Every year since 1969, NAEP has gathered information about levels of educational attainments of 9-, 13-, and 17-year-olds and young adults (26-35) across the nation. Ten learning areas are assessed: art, career and occupational development, citizenship, literature, mathematics, music, reading, science, social studies, and writing. Measurement instruments are constructed from objectives devised by educators, scholars, and lay persons. This document primarily contains assessment instruments (released exercises) of NAEP's third citizenship/social studies assessment (1981-1982). Part 1 briefly explains NAEP's assessment procedures and describes the documentation provided for the various kinds of exercises in the set. Part 2 provides rationales for the questions assessing experience in political discussions and training reference resources, and part 3 discusses the taxonomic and content classifications used to develop and report on cognitive exercises. The remainder of the document contains the entire set of the experience exercises and about one-fourth of the cognitive exercises. The remainder of the cognitive exercises have not been released because they will be administered in the future. Primary type of information provided by the report: Assessment Instrument (Released Exercises). (KC)

FORWARD

When the U.S. Office of Education was chartered in 1867, one charge to its commissioners was to determine the nation's progress in education. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) was initiated a century later to address, in a systematic way, that charge.

Each year since 1969, National Assessment has gathered information about levels of educational achievement across the country and reported its findings to the nation. NAEP surveys the education attainments of 9-year-olds, 13-year-olds, 17-year-olds and young adults, ages 26-35, in ten learning areas: art, career and occupational development, citizenship, literature, mathematics, music, reading, science, social studies and writing. Different learning areas are assessed every year, and all areas are periodically reassessed in order to measure possible changes in education achievement. National Assessment has interviewed and tested more than a million young Americans since 1969.

Learning-area assessments evolve from a consensus process. Each assessment is the product of several years of work by a great many educators, scholars and lay persons from all over the nation. Initially, these people design objectives for each subject area, proposing general goals they feel Americans should be achieving in the course of their education. After careful reviews, these objectives are given to exercise (item) writers, whose task it is to create measurement tools appropriate to the objectives.

When the exercises have passed extensive reviews by subject-matter specialists, measurement experts and lay persons, they are administered to probability samples. The people who compose these samples are chosen in such a way that the results of their assessment can be generalized to an entire national population. That is, on the basis of the performance of about 2,000 9-year-olds on a given exercise, we can make generalizations about the probable performance of all 9-year-olds in the nation.

After assessment data have been collected, scored and analyzed, National Assessment publishes reports to disseminate the results as widely as possible. Not all exercises are released for publication. Because NAEP will readminister some of the same exercises in the future to determine whether the performance level of Americans has increased, remained stable or decreased, it is essential that they not be released in order to preserve the integrity of the study.

INTRODUCTON

The purpose of this released exercise set is to provide easy access to released exercises from the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) third citizenship/social studies assessment, conducted in 1981-82. Exercises and documentation are in loose-leaf format to facilitate sorting and copying. These released exercises are in the public domain; therefore, there are no restrictions on copying or using the exercises in this booklet. Documentation has been kept to a minimum. It includes basic reference numbers, objective classifications National Assessment has found useful, timing and administration data for each age group, and scoring guides for open-ended items.

Detailed achievement data on group performance or changes in performance from previous assessments are not included in this report; they will be published in other reports. Similarly, detailed documentation of the objectives and development process is not included, but is being published concurrently in Citizenship and Social Studies Objectives, 1981-82 Assessment, available from National Assessment.

Exercises were administered to 9-year-olds, 13-year-olds and 17-year-olds.¹ Some exercises were administered to only one age group, others to two or more age groups. The number of released cognitive (knowledge, skills, etc.) and experience exercises for each age group or combination of age groups is shown in Exhibit 1.

Part 1 of the text briefly explains NAEP's assessment procedures and describes the documentation provided for the various kinds of exercises in the set.

Part 2 describes rationales behind the development of the experience questions for the 1981-82 citizenship/social studies assessment. The entire set of experience exercises has been released and is included as Appendix A of this set.

Part 3 describes the taxonomic and content classifications used to develop and report on cognitive exercises for the 1981-82 citizenship/social studies assessment (Appendix B). About one-fourth of these exercises have been released. The remainder have not been released because National Assessment will readminister them in the future to determine whether the performance level of young Americans has changed.

The remainder of the exercise set consists of copies of released exercises and documentation for each exercise. Experience exercises compose Appendix A, followed by cognitive exercises in Appendix B, and by data for cognitive exercises in Appendix C.

¹ During some years National Assessment has administered exercises to supplementary samples of 17-year-olds who were not in school. However, during the 1981-82 assessment, only 17-year-olds enrolled in school were sampled.

PART 1

NAEP ASSESSMENT PROCEDURES

All exercises in this set were administered to at least one of three different age groups of students. Exercises were administered in booklets (packages) containing 27 to 40 exercises. Exercise packages were accompanied by paced audiotapes. The announcer read the text and response options for most exercises and told respondents when to go on to the next exercise. The total administration time for each package, including introduction, sample exercise and background questions, was about 45 minutes.

Age groups and assessment dates were as follows:

Age Group	Birthdates	Assessed During
13-year-olds	January to December 1968	October to December 1981
9-year-olds	January to December 1972	January to February 1982
17-year-olds	October 1964 to September 1965	March to May 1982

Each package of exercises was administered to a national sample of about 2,000 students at age 9 and about 1,200 students at ages 13 and 17; no student took more than one package. Most of the exercises were multiple-choice with a machine-scorable oval (foil) to the left of each response choice. Twenty-five of the exercises were open-ended and required the respondent to write short answers. The scoring guides used to categorize responses for these exercises are included following each open-ended exercise. (Scoring guides are explained toward the end of this chapter.)

Each exercise is reproduced essentially as it was seen by the respondent. It is accompanied by documentation containing information about exercise administration. This information is described in the following example, using as a sample the documentation for Exercise R103010.

A. Release Number

The 1981-82 release number contains seven characters beginning with the letter R and uniquely indentifying each exercise.

B. NAEP Number

In most cases, part of the NAEP number and the release number for an exercise are identical, except that the release number has an R as the first character. The NAEP number is a unique number assigned to each exercise for documentation and reference purposes. NAEP numbers also contain other numbers that may be useful to the reader.

For example in this example the "D" in the first position indicates that this item was developed for the joint citizenship/social studies assessment of 1981-82. In this item set the leading character may also be a "3" or a "9" indicating an item developed for a prior assessment of citizenship (3) or social studies (9). For the items with leading characters of "D" the first digit after the "D", a 1 in this case, references the major objective I and the next two digits "03" reference the subobjective. The character set "D1D" is an assessment indicator. The indicators used in this exercise set are D1D, 13D, 33D and 72D. The left most character indicates the assessment year for which the item was developed: "D" the 1981-82 assessment, "1" the 1969-70 assessment, "3" the 1971-72 assessment and "7" the 1975-76 assessment. The second character indicates the number of times that the exercise has been used. The third character, "D" in this case and for all items in this set, indicates the assessment (1981-82 in this case) in which the item is currently used. The final set of digits "123" for this example indicates the ages to which the item was administered. The values are: 1 = age 9, 2 = age 13 and 3 = age 17. The digits "123" indicate that the item was given to ages 9, 13 and 17. The age group indicator may be one, two or three digits long as needed.

C. Objective and Subobjective

Released items from the 1981-82 citizenship/social studies assessment are keyed to the 1981-82 citizenship/social studies objectives. These objectives and subobjectives are shown on the documentation. For some items multiple objectives are shown.

D. Exercise Type and Stimulus Type

Exercises are classified as either multiple-choice or open-ended; this classification is presented as the exercise type. Some exercises have multiple-choice parts and some open-ended parts.

Most exercises have both a text and a tape-recorded stimulus. Some exercises also have additional stimulus materials, such as graphs, tables and pictures, while a few exercises may have either only a taped stimulus or only a text stimulus.

E. Package and Exercise Number

Exercises were assembled into packages for administration to each age group. For each group, the 1981-82 package and exercise number is shown. For example, the number "05-04" denotes package 5, exercise 4. There is not, in general, any correspondence between package numbers for various ages. For example, package 2 for age 13 may contain some of the same exercises as package 5 for age 17.

F. Exercise Time

As mentioned, exercise packages were administered by paced audiotapes. For each age group, the total time allowed (in seconds) for an exercise in the 1981-82 assessment is shown. The total time is the time allotted for reading the exercise and for responding to it. Actual tapescripts, showing exactly what was read and how the total time was broken down into reading and responding times, are available from National Assessment. Times given for exercises measuring changes are the 1981-82 assessment times. Unless there is a footnote to the contrary, the time used in 1981-82 is the same as the time used in previous assessments for that item.

Data Included in the Exercise Set

For the items in Appendix B of this volume, estimates of national and modal grade p-values are reported for correct or acceptable responses. These data are found in Appendix C.

Statistics reported and definitions of the selected population groups follow.

Statistics Used in the Exercise Set

Since National Assessment uses a national probability sample to collect data, the findings are reported as estimates of the percentage of individuals in a given group who would successfully complete a particular exercise if everyone in that group in the country had been tested. Thus, when we say that "85 percent" of the 9-year-olds gave correct responses," 85 percent is an estimate of the proportion of all 9-year-olds in the country who would have answered correctly if all 9-year-olds had been assessed.

These percentages are always subject to sampling error since they are computed from a sample rather than from the entire population. The standard errors of these percentages provide a measure of the sampling variability among all possible samples. The standard error of a sample statistic can be used to construct a confidence interval for the estimate—for example, the interval from two standard errors below to two standard errors above the particular sample value would include the average of all possible values in about 95 percent of the samples.

Standard errors for the p-values contained in Appendix C of this release exercise set can be estimated using a pair of formulas given below. For a simple random sample the standard error of a p-value is

For National Assessment data the following equations should be used to obtain reasonably accurate estimates of the standard errors.

If $30\% \leq P \leq 70\%$ then

$$se_p = \sqrt{\frac{2P(100-P)}{n}}$$

If $P < 30\%$ or $P > 70\%$ then

$$se_p = \frac{32.4}{\sqrt{n}} + \sqrt{\frac{P(100-P)}{2n}}$$

For both equations:

P = weighted percentage

se = estimated standard error of the percentage P

n = sample size

The approximate sample sizes for the nation and modal grade are given for each age in Table 1.

1981-82 Citizenship/Social Studies Assessment by Age

Definitions of Selected Reporting Groups

In addition to results for the nation as a whole, National Assessment reports performance of various groups within the national population. Definitions of the groups reported in this volume follow.

Age

Results are reported for all persons enrolled in public or private schools who were 9, 13 and 17 years old at the time of the assessment.

Modal Grade

The modal grade is the school grade in which most (70 to 75 percent) students in a specific age group are found. The modal grades for each age group are: age 9--grade 4; age 13--grade 8; and age 17--grade 11.

A state or district that conducts an assessment of grades 4, 8 or 11 and tabulates results separately for students who are 9, 13 or 17 years old (according to National Assessment's age definition) will be able to compare its results to National Assessment's modal-grade results.

Scoring Guides

Open-ended exercises were scored by specially trained scorers. To help assure consistent scoring, National Assessment developed detailed scoring guides for those exercises. A scoring guide defines acceptable and unacceptable responses for an item. The acceptable and unacceptable categories are usually further subdivided into finer categories to describe common responses or types of responses that are of substantive interest.

A two-digit classification system is used for coding each response.

- 10-19 = Categories of acceptable responses
- 20-29 = Categories of unacceptable responses
- 77 = "I don't know" responses
- 88 = No response

As part of the quality-control procedures used during the scoring of open-ended exercises administered in the 1981-82 assessment, samples of responses were periodically drawn for multiple scorings. That procedure was developed to monitor scorers' consistency. Each sample of exercise responses was selected randomly and was read and scored by a randomly selected scorer. These scores were recorded on separate forms designed for the quality-control procedure. Later, the sample exercise responses again were scored independently by another scorer, and scores were recorded as usual on the exercise page. These scores were then added to the quality-control forms by another staff worker, and the two category assignments for each response were compared for consistency.

Exhibit 2 displays the average percentage of agreement between the twice-scored quality-control responses. For each released open-ended exercise the percentage of agreement has been averaged across exercise parts and across the multiple readings for each age group to which the exercise was given. The information is arranged in release-number order. NAEP numbers and the age overlaps are also indicated for the exercises. The number of pairs of category assignments included in the computation of the percentage of scorer agreement ranges from about 30 pairs to nearly 400 pairs. When scoring was begun, more samples were used than were used near the end of the scoring process. The average percentages of scorer agreement in Exhibit 2 range from 79.9 percent to 98.8 percent. Most scorer agreements tended to be greater than 90 percent.

CITIZENSHIP/SOCIAL STUDIES EXPERIENCES

The 1981-82 citizenship/social studies assessment included three experience items each with several parts. These exercises were designed to obtain some information about frequency of political and controversial topic discussions and with whom the discussions took place and the training young children receive in the use of common reference materials.

It was thought by the Citizenship/Social Studies Advisory Board that this information was important for its own sake. More importantly they thought that the information from the experience items could be used to create background variables which might help explain some of the achievement differences among population subgroups. These items are included as Appendix A.

The people of San Francisco carried on a long debate over the future of the city. One group wanted a law passed saying no building could be more than ten stories high. This, they said, would preserve the beauty of the city's skyline—the shape formed by low buildings hugging the steep hills.

Business groups argued against this plan. They felt skyscrapers were needed to promote the city's growing economy.

What would be the BEST way to resolve the argument?

- Build the skyscrapers because business groups know what is best for a city.
- Pass a law that would restrict the construction of buildings to ten stories and preserve the beauty of the city.
- Continue the debate between the groups.
- Place the issue on the ballot as a referendum and let the people of the city decide.

ELECTION OF SENATORS
3-302001-13D-3
SCORING GUIDE

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

- 10 = OTHER - RESPONSES THAT ARE ACCEPTABLE BUT DO NOT HAVE AN ESTABLISHED CATEGORY AND ACCEPTABLE RESPONSES THAT ARE TOO VAGUE TO CATEGORIZE

Age 17

So the same party won't have a strong control for 6 years at a time.
With every two years you always have new ones coming in. The same party doesn't necessarily have control for 6 years at a time.
Because if they were all up every six years and one party would be in the majority they would rule the Senate for 6 years and it wouldn't be fair to the minority group.

- 11 = OLD SENATORS CAN PASS ON KNOWLEDGE OF PRECEDING SESSIONS, TEACH THE ROPES TO THE NEW GUYS

Age 17

Some will have enough experience to teach the newcomers.
The advantage to this is so that the old Senator can be there to help the new Senator with legislature and go over some of the material that is on the table.
It keeps someone in office at all times with some experience. The old senators can tell the newly elected senators what's going on.
There will always be veteran Senators who have experience to help "break in" new, less experienced Senators.
If they were all up for re-election every six years and a majority didn't get re-elected there would be so many new ones without the experience of the old ones - that they wouldn't know what to do on the committees that are formed already - some can stay on the committee - when elected every two years - tell the new ones what the committee is for - that way they won't be in the dark and not know what to do.
The longer you're there the more experienced you are so the 2/3 can help the 1/3.
The members who have been in longer know what has to be done and they can help the new ones to learn.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

- 12 = WOULD BE SOME SENATORS WORKING WHILE OTHERS ARE OUT CAMPAIGNING, COUNTRY WOULDN'T STOP RUNNING DURING ELECTION TIME

Age 17

The advantage in a staggered election is that 2/3 of the senate will still be in office at the time of an election, and this 2/3 will not be out campaigning and neglecting their duties.

If all of the senators were up for reelection all the time, there would be no leadership to take the place of the senators for the period of their absence.

If every senator was up for reelection at the same time the government couldn't function properly. For the senators would be out campaigning instead of doing their job.

Distributes costs of election more evenly, keeps 2/3 of the senate concentrating on their job rather than on their re-election campaign.

If all the senators were elected at one time, who would be advising the President and making and passing the laws for our country.

If a bill needed to be passed during an election there would still be some Senators there to do it - they wouldn't be out campaigning.

When you campaign it takes time. If all the senators campaigned at one time they'd be wasting valuable time and money. The efficiency of running the capital would be slowed almost to a halt during that time.

Well, the Senate, while campaigning all would neglect their offices. The ones that are not campaigning will be there to take care of what's going on.

- 13 = BRING IN NEW IDEAS AT REGULAR INTERVALS, MAKES THE SENATE MORE RESPONSIVE TO THE PEOPLE, BETTER REFLECTION OF NATIONAL SENTIMENT

Age 17

As the US experiences certain events, it is necessary to get "new blood" into the system periodically, so as to best be able to face the occurrences.

The advantages are that periodically you get new people in with fresh ideas.

The senators and new ideas would come in every two years instead of every 6.

Public opinion is always changing one year it may be liberal, another conservative. So rather than have a whole senate elected when public opinion is one or the other way, it is more representative of the public as a whole.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

13 = (CONTINUED)

If the country feels the Senators aren't doing a good job, instead of waiting 6 years to get who they feel can do the job in office, they only have to wait two. Makes Senators more aware of country's needs.

New ideas are brought into the senate while there still older Senators there. Avoid chaos around voting time, everyone campaigning. Older senators help new senators and get them into the swing of it.

14 = TO PREVENT A SUDDEN/DRASTIC CHANGE IN THE VIEWPOINTS/IDEOLOGY OF THE SENATE, PREVENT A COMPLETE TURN OVER, PROVIDES CONTINUITY FOR THE DIRECTION OF THE COUNTRY AND ITS PROGRAMS

Age 17

There are always some experienced Senators. We will always have someone there who knows what he is doing. This way there will always be senators in office who will be experienced and know what's going on.

So there's someone in there all the time with experience. It gives the Senate more stability and continuity. This assures that at least 2/3 of the Senators will have had at least some prior experience at each new session.

You don't get into a situation where most Senators have just intered and are freshmen.

People get a chance to keep voicing their opinion this way and its not a complete turnover and they don't have to start from scratch, the can keep operating. Senior senators can keep the Junior Senators informed.

So you don't have a drastic change all at once. You don't have all new people coming in all at once to run the government. The older people can help newer ones.

If all were up every 6 years, there would be at the end of each 6 years a great rush of senators seeking re-election pushing through various pieces of legislation to impress constituents. In addition, the President and other branches of federal authority would be faced with great numbers of entirely new senators every 6 years.

 Categories and sample responses are listed below.

20 = OTHER - VAGUE OR NONSENSICAL RESPONSES AND OTHER UNACCEPTABLES THAT DO NOT HAVE AN ESTABLISHED CATEGORY

Age 17

There would not be no one in the Senate.
 Al get together at a certain time.
 Well I think they should have reelection every two years and advantage every six year.
 So we won't have to wait 6 years to get someone out of office
 if he's doing a bad job.
 More people can get in what they want to say, instead of waiting for six years.
 The Senate could always carry on its functions.
 Better balance between democrats and republicans.
 I don't see any big advantage in it.

21 = MENTIONS A BENEFIT OF ELECTION/REELECTIONS IN GENERAL WITHOUT INDICATING BENEFIT OF VOTING EVERY 2 YEARS

Age 17

Each member has a chance to run, has a chance to let people know what is up or down in the city.
 To let all of the others who are running for the Senate have a chance or let the people change who they want.
 To put good men in office and replace those who don't do as well.
 Gives a chance for new and younger people to get in with better ideas or ways to solve todays problems.
 If they goof the people could elect someone else. If the people feel he hasn't fulfilled his campaign speech, they could pick somebody better.
 So there will be different Senators in there with fresh ideas.
 Maybe to see if he improves - if people don't like what he is doing they can re-elect another Senator. If he does a good job, he stays.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

- 22 = WOULD BE TOO CONFUSING DURING ELECTION TIME, TOO MANY PEOPLE RUNNING, PEOPLE WOULDN'T KNOW WHO TO VOTE FOR, PEOPLE RUNNING WOULD HAVE A BETTER CHANCE OF GETTING ELECTED

Age 17

Not all of the senators will be running over each other campaigning. If all the seats were up for grab the alcoholic market would run out of buses.

There would be a great deal of confusion if everyone were re elected at once, and also you can elect people you will get the ideas passed that you want. You could get people with the same ideas together.

It gives them more of a chance be being elected. It would be less confusion also.

Because there are several senators and it would be too much trouble to have an elections for everyone at the same time.

There are so many senators - it would just be too many to vote for at one time.

To avoid a lot of confusion. A mass number of elections could cause chaos among the people.

It would be a mess. Now we have approximately 30 new senators every two years. It's easier to elect 30 new senators, not as complicated as electing 100 senators.

To have a shorter ballot.

SAY IF GOVERNMENT IS WRONG
9-502009-33D-23
SCORING GUIDE: PART B

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

10 = OTHER ACCEPTABLE RESPONSES

Age 13

- Y Because people have their own thoughts of what the government is doing wrong.

Age 17

- Y Every person must make their own decision about the type of government they want.
- Y Because if everybody shut up and didn't say anything we would have a dictatorship on our hands in government.
- Y Because I don't think government should control people.

11 = RIGHT OF FREE SPEECH; CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS, FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Age 13

- Y In this country we have freedom of speech. If that person has a different opinion of government, he should voice his opinion. For example: in an election one candidate says what's wrong with the other. This is within our own government so why can't others do the same.

Y That would be freedom of speech.

Y Because in our country we have free speech and people have a right to say what they think.

Y People must have the right because under the Bill of Rights in our constitution, we have freedom of speech.

Y Because it is freedom of speech and you are allowed to say our opinion on how you feel about what they are doing wrong our if they aren't doing anything wrong.

Age 17

Y Our country preches and thrives on freedom for all (all freedoms) speech, press, etc.

Y Because we have the right of free speech as state in the constitution.

Y In our bill of Rights it is stated that people have a right to say what they think - if they aren't allowed to then our system of govt. really is wrong.

Y Our form of gov't states you have freedom of speech and I believe in our form of govt.

Scoring guide (continued)
Categories and sample responses are listed below.

12 = RIGHT TO EXPRESS HIS OPINION; FREE COUNTRY

Age 13

- Y Because they have to live in it so they should be able to say what they want to say.
- Y Some people might not now that this is a free country. And the people can say anything they want.
- Y Because its a free country and so people should be able to.
- Y Everyone is entitled to their opinion.
- Y Because in this country everybody has the right to say what they believe.

- Y Because if our government is doing wrong we should be able to tell him what he's doing wrong. And the government should be doing right.

Age 17

- Y People have the right to say what they think. It doesn't necessarily say that that is what is going to happen. Everyone can voice their own opinion.
- Y I think everyone whould be allowed to speak freely of whatever is on their minds even if its about our government.
- Y Because people have their rights of opinion.
- Y People have the right to express their opinion whether it's right or wrong.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

13 = HAVING DIFFERENT OPINIONS IS EDUCATIONAL; VEHICLE FOR REFORM

Age 13

- Y Because they might say something that will help us make it better and we will know how and what people think about it.
- Y People should be allowed to tell the government what their doing wrong and then they might do something about it.
- Y If they did then we could find out what people think were doing wrong and maybe not as many wars will be started.
- Y Because if the people don't say what they feel is wrong the government will keep on doing it.
- Y They might be able to help us improve our government.

Age 17

- Y If people give their negative opinions in public, then other people in the government can attempt to change it.
- Y If they are allowed to say what they feel is wrong maybe we can change our government so that it is better than it is now.
- Y If all the people could say what they want we could determine the best form of government.
- Y If people who didn't believe in our government were allowed to speak publicly they might point out some of the flaws in our system and in doing so might move people to do something to remedy them.
- Y Because maybe what the people say will improve the government.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

14 = LEGITIMATE CONDITIONAL

Age 13

Y Because unless there is proof they are planning to overthrow the government it is there right to say so.

Age 17

Y Since the people are under the government they should be allowed to say what they think is wrong so long as they don't get carried away or get violent.

Y. Our constitution says "Freedom of Speech" They can say anything as long as it is done calmly and orderally, not an uprising.

Y We in the US have the freedom of speech. I feel this is OK, but if we get too many people causing a problem by this we will have a revolution in the country.

U It depends if the person is just expressing his views yes, but if he is getting people saying its all wrong my type of government is better and just saying slander to convince people I think not.

20 = VAGUE, NONSENSICAL, AND OTHER UNACCEPTABLE RESPONSES

Age 13

U I really don't no because they might get in trouble or they may not.

U Because the people in the government don't know how to run it.

N It is wrong for the illegal wetbacks to stay here make them go back to their country.

Y Because the government isn't giving us our fair share.

N Because we're not allowed to say things about other government.

U Because the U.S. is a free country but people shouldn't have the right to put it down.

Age 17

U I've chosen undecided, because perhaps somebody is for communism and speaks up. Who knows what would happen.

U A person should be allowed to air their opinion if they disagree with something. But then again if it is said publicly other people who do believe in our form of government might resent them and problems would arise.

Y If a majority feel that what our government's doing is right, then there would be no problem.

Y They live here, they have an opinion.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

21 = MENTIONS INCORRECT OR IRRELEVANT CONDITION UNDER WHICH HE MAY NOT CRITICIZE OUR GOVERNMENT

Age 13

- Y As long as they can back it up with facts.
- Y The should be able to say what think publicly as long as it is true.

Age 17

- Y Anybody can say anything they want as long as there is some justified reason for saying it.
- Y I think people have the right to try to change things that they believe is wrong as long as there are enough people who agree that it is wrong.
- Y Everyone has the right to speak as long as they don't hurt anybody.
- U I think they should be able to complain about something, but they shouldn't do it in public because it can cause demonstrations and riots.
- U I really can't say if they disagree with our government I feel that should say something, but not cause much trouble or hassle and some of the people who disagree might be radical, just causing conflict.

22 = WRONG TO SPEAK AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT (STATES IT'S WRONG, BUT DOESN'T SAY WHY)

Age 13

- N That is their government they are talking about and that shows no respect for it.
- N They should be put in jail if they do. The government only does what he can or what he thinks is right.
- N Because government wants to make our country great and beautiful and quality.

Age 17

No samples

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

23 = SHOULD ADJUST TO OUR FORM OF GOVERNMENT OR LEAVE

Age 13

N Because if the don't like our form of government then they can move to someplace where they do.

Age 17

N Because if they don't like a democracy they can just leave the country and find the kind of government they like.

N If they do not believe in it they shouldn't have the right to speak out against it. If they don't like our government they should move to a country whose government they like.

N Because it the best government around, they can luv are leave. I agreed that there are something wrong with our government but we can't do any better.

24 = MIGHT INFLUENCE OTHERS OR CAUSE TROUBLE

Age 13

N The person could be a communist and start a riot.

U Because it might cause trouble they make go against it wrong way.

N Because they could start a riot or something, or trouble with the people of the area.

N If you did say yes someone would disagree and start fighting.

N Because there is nothing wrong with our government and if you get a bunch of idiots saying lies about your government the people might start to believe them and think there is something wrong which is wrong because there isn't anything wrong with our government.

Age 17

N They should not say it in public. But write a state or local representative about it. In public an uprising of violence could occur. It would be bad for the present government.

N Because even if the Constitution says freedom of speech there are limits to this. People speak against the government make others think that they are communist and create bad feelings.

N When they give their speech they would get out hand and start arguments would begin.

PUBLISH OFFICIALS MISTAKES
9-502013-33D-3
SCORING GUIDE: PART B

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

10 = OTHER ACCEPTABLE RESPONSES

Age 17

If it were anyone else it would be printed so I don't see why it would make any difference for an elected government official.

Our government officials have to live by the same laws we do, therefore they should not be protected.

Because they always publish articles about anyone else who does something wrong, so they should do the same to him.

They print things about other people who make errors, why not a government official?

Because they are human just like us and they question us so there is no reason why they can't be treated like us too.

They are really no different.

11 = FREEDOM OF SPEECH; FREEDOM OF THE PRESS; CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT

Age 17

I feel that we the people have a constitutional right to know what's happening.

In order for democracy to survive the rights of the people cannot be infringed on by the government. Freedom of the press is one of the freedoms that has kept democracy alive.

Because of freedom of the press.

The constitution grants us freedom of the press.

Free press and free speech.

Public has the right to know what's going on and any way there's freedom of the press.

Freedom of speech.

It is the basic principal of our constitution, freedom of the press and speech.

12 = RIGHT TO SAY WHAT THEY FEEL (REFERS TO FREEDOM OF THE PRESS BUT DOES NOT SPECIFICALLY MENTION IT)

Age 17

It's a free country.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

- 13 = TO KEEP THE PUBLIC INFORMED; PUBLIC HAS A RIGHT TO KNOW. (PLUS RESULTING ACTIONS THE PEOPLE MIGHT TAKE); TO MAKE ELECTED OFFICIAL MORE RESPONSIVE; CRITICISM GOES WITH OFFICE; GIVES OFFICIAL A CHANCE TO EXPLAIN

Age 17

The people should be aware of everything that goes on in the government.
So the public would know the facts.
The people have a right to know what happened.
I think the public should know why he made the mistake.
So the people will know what he has to say about the error.
If he's an official we have a right to know about everything he does right or wrong.
So the people know just exactly what was wrong also so they can decide whether or not to vote for him in elections. Also, so it don't happen again.
Too many wrongs of our countrymen have been covered up, I feel that people should know the truth of our country not fanacy or fairy tale.

- 14 = LEGITIMATE CONDITIONAL

Age 17

Unless vital to national security government actions should be known. This freedom of press to allow newsmen to publish their findings.

- 20 = VAGUE, NONSENSICAL, AND OTHER UNACCEPTABLE RESPONSES

Age 17

No because it is him that made the mistake and not the people.
Because he should look his papers over carefully.
No, because it isn't right to let everybody know what someone is seriously wrong because that could make people think wrong.
Because if its not that important it really doesn't matter.
I think he should go and try to correct it himself.
(Undecided) The elected government official should have known what he was doing before he made the decision. But I don't think the press should punish him.

Scoring guide (continued)
Categories and sample responses are listed below.

21 = EVERYONE MAKES MISTAKES

Age 17

No, I guess because nobody's perfect and most people learn from their mistakes.
Mistakes can happen.

22 = NOT FAIR TO THE OFFICIAL; WOULD HURT THE ELECTED OFFICIAL

Age 17

No it would ruin.
No because it could turn people against him.
It could embarrass that person who made the mistake, and I don't believe in hurting or embarrassing people.
Because if it gets out it could be bad for him politically. And I think that person could do something to make up for it.
It could greatly embarrass the government official. People shouldn't be told about the serious errors of an officials.
No, because if they do that he is going to feel bad.

23 = IT WOULD CAUSE TROUBLE WITH THE PEOPLE OR TO THE COUNTRY

Age 17

If it is a serious mistake, it may hurt the government then it shouldn't be published so much.

Scoring guide (continued)

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

24 = CONDITIONAL

Age 17

It depends on what kind of mistake if it is going to effect us, yes, but if it is personal I think it should be private from everyone.

Only if it was serious. People make mistakes even gov. officials. But he may have an explanation.

It depends on what type of serious error it was, if it caused a war to happen or something, or if people were personally hurt or something.

I say yes only if it is a public issue.

I don't think they have the right if it was a legal mistake; but if it was illegal then I think they have the right.

(Undecided) It depends on the newspaper. If it is known for cutting down people it shouldn't but if it is a truthful newspaper it should.

The only way I would allow it, would be if they printed only the truth, not twisted.

(Undecided) If it had been anything terrifying it would cause people to panic and do thing that may (end of response)

I'm not sure because the American society especially the reporters think they have a right to print anything they wish. Freedom of speech regards only when others aren't hurt.

I feel they should, but to publish his reasons etc... and not add any personal opinions.

It depends if the official made the error on purpose or if he didn't know he was making the error at the time.

9-506015-33D-23
SCORING GUIDE: PART B

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

110 = VOTE FOR OTHER CANDIDATE PLUS CONSIDERATION OF QUALIFICATIONS

Age 13

I would want to vote for the one who deserves this honor. Just because it is my best friend, you have to be honest. and if the other person is better then vote for him.
If my friend couldn't do a good job and other person could it would only be right to vote for the other candidate.
The best man needs to be the class officer.
I would vote for the best person to the job. I don't base my votes on personal friendships.
You should always vote for the person you think would do the best job. Otherwise the organization wouldn't be doing the best it could.

Age 17

I would vote for the other candidate because he is best suitable for the job.
Any position should have the best man possible for it. That's why I would vote for the best man.
Because if I thought that my friend could do the job as good as the other candidate I would have chose her.
Voting for a friend is good but voting for the person who will do the job right is better.
I am looking for the well-being and betterment of my class, school and town.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

111 = VOTE FOR OTHER CANDIDATE - FAIRNESS OR OTHER GOOD REASONS

Age 13

It would not be fair for the other candidate because he was better.

Because it would be just like the spoil system people used a long time ago.

Because it wouldn't be fair to the other candidates if you voted for your friends only.

Age 17

Well if your true friend then you will always be. Beside that you don't have to let them know you didn't vote for. You have to do what you think is right. Therefor I would vote for the other candidate.

Because it wouldn't be fair for the other candidate. And I wouldnt care what my friend thought. He would probably understand.

If that person is a friend she would understand why I voted not for the person but for the views.

251 = VOTE FOR OTHER CANDIDATE PLUS UNACCEPTABLE REASON

Age 13

I would vote for the other candidate because it is not fair to vote for your friend when the other person asked for your vote first.

Because you should vote for the one is really needs the job and not just because your friend won't.

I don't have friends.

He askeded first.

Age 17

My friend wouldn't know who I voted for.

My vote is my private business. My friend wouldn't have to know who I voted for.

I wouldn't vote for my friend because if she couldn't understand the way I felt she wouldn't be a very good friend.

I'd vote for the other candidate because I might have been going to vote for him before my friend came.

Categories and sample responses are listed below.

252 = VOTE FOR FRIEND -- ANY REASON EXCEPT "I DON'T KNOW"

Age 13

Because I thing my friend would do a good job and because she is my friend.
Because I'm fond of my friend. And that's the way I am. My friend would do a good job too.
Most of my friends are bigger than me and if they found out I didn't vote for them I would get killed.
I would vote for my friend because I know she would do a good job because she is my friend, and I should know a lot about her.
Because if I didn't she would probably get mad at me and tell other people not to like me.
Why would you want to vote for someone you didn't know?

Age 17

What are friends for if you can't depend on them.
Would not really care who wins but are for your best friend because he would do the same for you.
The school doesn't really do anything for me, so I don't care who runs. And my friend would probably want the same things I wanted.
I would vote for my friend because it might help him latter in life and it goes on his college transcript.
