ABSTRACT

This curriculum guide is designed to assist teachers in using such innovative techniques in the new social studies as concept teaching and inquiry with below average students. It is divided into two non-sequential semesters. Each of eleven units emphasize a single concept, in economics: 1) consumption, consumer purchasing, credit, deception, budget; 2) economic systems; 3) scarcity; 4) distribution; 5) resources; 6) independence; and in political science: 7) government; 8) leadership; 9) decision making; 10) citizenship; and, 11) conflict. The lessons within these units include: 1) several major understandings; 2) supportive content; 3) key questions; and, 4) learning activities. Several techniques are used in the activities: student research, interviewing, field trips, library and resource utilization, chart and map work, guest speakers, role-playing, skits, simulation, discussion and debate, story writing, speech-making, and oral reporting. The multimedia listings include: political cartoons, newspapers and magazines, commercial radio and television, books, case studies, resource people, sociograms, art, games, audiovisual materials, bulletin boards, and scrapbooks. This is classified as one of several "stop-gap curriculums" by the Center with 5 two-week units, 4 three-week units, 4 one-week units, and only 1 four-week unit. (SBE)

Forward

Commercial programs for various grade and ability levels have been adopted by the four counties. However, packages meeting the needs of all levels in all counties are as yet unavailable. So that each grade may up date its social studies offering, "stop-gap" programs in selected content areas have been developed by the Service Center, cooperating with the four counties.

It is important to emphasize that these "stop-gap" curriculums are only tentative offerings until appropriate commercial programs are available.

At the same time, these offerings should prove extremely valuable in aiding teachers to utilize such up dated trends in the new social studies as concepts and inquiry, since these trends are emphasized in these "stop-gap" curriculums.

Overview

This curriculum guide Political and Economic Behavior of Man is organized into two semesters and eleven units. Although the first semester's work is political science and the second is economics, it is possible to reverse this order if instructional materials dictate.

Each unit is organized around a single concept and is divided into "Lessons". These lessons may well constitute more than a single day's or period's work. They only place the material into smaller, more teachable segments. Each lesson is divided into 1) several major understandings, 2) supporting content, 3) key questions, and 4) learning activities. In that, this is a guide for teachers, all the understandings, content, and learning activities can not be utilized.

This curriculum has been designed for below average students. Therefore, the resource materials (at the end of each unit) are multi-media listings, since these types of students often have reading problems.

Learning Activities

An introductory activity of the type following might be used to promote interest prior to introducing the unit.

Have each student list the alphabet on 26 lines, and having completed that, they should compose a sentence and put each letter beside the letters of the alphabet as far as they go. The sentence may be used over, or a new one made up if necessary to finish the alphabet. The resultant two letters on each line will be used as clues to determine the name of an important personage.. Example: Have each student list the alphabet.

Each famous name is worth 5 points. If no one else used the name, 5 additional points. Names using XYZ are worth 5 additional points. Political names are to receive a bonus of 5 points.

Unit VI - Consumption
 Concept B - Consumer Credit

Introduction

Concept	Major Understandings	Key Questions
Consumer credit (This is the concept for the entire Part B of Unit VI.)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Consumer credit developed to help consumers obtain the immediate use of cash for large expenditures. 2. Availability of credit stimulates the demand for consumer goods. 3. Credit should only be used when absolutely necessary. 4. Credit purchases increase costs. 5. Credit costs are complex, but must be clearly understood. 6. Good credit ratings must be earned. 7. Shopping for credit must be done intelligently. 8. Knowledge of how to compute interest rates can save money. 9. Use of credit demands repayment and places a major obligation on an individual's resources. 10. Credit cards have stimulated overuse of credit. 11. A wise consumer keeps his debts below twenty per cent of his annual take home pay. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Why did credit develop? 2. For what purposes is credit used? 3. What is credit? 4. How did money systems develop? 5. What are the different forms of credit? 6. What are the main sources of credit? 7. How much does credit cost? 8. How does an individual qualify for credit? 9. What are the dangers of credit? 10. What are some examples of interest charges?

Lesson 1 - Concept B

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

1. Consumer credit developed to help consumers obtain the immediate use of cash for large expenditures.
2. Availability of credit stimulates the demand for consumer goods.
 - A. To meet needs of industry for expansion
 - B. To help individuals expand their purchasing power
 - C. To stimulate sales of merchandise and services

Key Questions

1. Why did credit develop?

 Learning Activities

A. Role Playing - Each class member will play a purchasing consumer. All consumers will be given a budget. An example of the budget could be as follows:

1. Food	- $100.00
2. Housing	- $ 75.00
3. Transportation	- $ 50.00
4. Medical Care	- $ 25.00
5. Recreation	- $ 25.00
6. Clothing	- $ 60.00

 $335.00

B. Present students with another hand out of cost of the same items as in the budget above. An example follows. In this example the price of certain selected items will be increased for more than their budget allowance.

1. Food	- $125.00	$375.00
2. Housing	- $ 75.00	$335.00
3. Transportation	- $ 60.00
4. Medical Care	- $ 30.00
5. Recreation	- $ 25.00
6. Clothing	- $ 60.00

 $ 40.00 - Students should see that they will need $40.00 more to retain the same standard of living.

 $375.00

Students should then see that a needed budget for spending money that they will receive in the future is sometimes necessary if they wish to maintain or to increase present goals.

 - 3. Bankruptcy - criminal charge, loan of company
 - 4. Loan of credit rating - lowering of standard of living

Lessor 10 - Concept B

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

1. Knowledge of how to compute interest rates can save money.

1. What are some examples of credit charges?

A. Formula for calculating credit

$$i = \frac{2nd}{P(n+1)}$$

B. Symbols

1. i = rate of charge
2. n = number of payments in one year (Monthly 12 or weekly 52)
3. n = number of payments to complete repayment of debt
4. d = total finance charge in dollars
5. p = price of good minus downpayment

C. Color TV - Selling price - $629.95 plus tax $12.60 = $645.55
 minus down payment $\frac{100.00}{}$
 balance $\frac{545.55}{}$

1. Cost of credit from merchant $26.93 for 24 months

$$i = \frac{2nd}{p(n+1)} = \frac{2 \times 12 \times 106.32}{542.55(24+1)} = \frac{2551.68}{13563.75} = 18.8\%$$

2. Cost of credit from bank $26.13 for 24 months

$$i = \frac{2nd}{p(n+1)} = \frac{2 \times 12 \times 87.12}{540(24+1)} = \frac{2090.88}{13500.00} = 15.5\%$$

3. Cost of credit from finance company $29.00 for 24 months

$$i = \frac{2nd}{p(n+1)} = \frac{2 \times 12 \times 156}{540(24+1)} = \frac{3744.00}{13500.00} = 27.7\%$$

Learning Activities

- A. Team Teaching - Get a math teacher or someone similar to explain interest rates.
- B. Teach interest and charges when the math department is working on similar math problems.

Key Questions

1. Economic policy making considers social values, and the president and the congress are the policy makers.
 - A. Government has played an increasingly larger role, not only because of conscious policy, but because of voter pressure. The budget however is the key-instrument in economic policy making by the federal government.
 - B. Constitutional Background
 1. Power of Eminent Domain
 2. Power to tax
 3. A flexible approach to economic policies
 4. Regulation of businesses concerned with a public interest
 - C. Political Forces
 1. Clash of Jeffersonian and Hamiltonian Principles
 - a. The overall trend toward Jeffersonian principle
 - D. Economic Forces
 1. The change from a local to a national economy
 2. The change from an individual farming society to an industrial one
 3. The importance of Business cycles
 4. World economic conditions
 - E. Goals of public economic policies
 1. Regulating money and credit
 2. Influencing the economy through government spending

1. What part does the government play in the distribution of incomes and services?

Learning Activities

- A. Class Discussion - The town or county needs to find a new source of revenue and your class has been appointed to come up with a list of recommendations. Have the class then determine what affect this will have on local distribution of goods and services.

- B. Bulletin Board - Prepare a bulletin board to show the effects of government spending on the distribution of goods and services. (economy)

- C. Debate - Debate the following: "Resolved, Increasing our public debt is simply a way of forcing our grandchildren to pay our debts."

- D. Panel - Form a panel to discuss the affect of government on an economy that is operating at less than full capacity.

Lesson 1

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

1. Resources are materials used to produce goods and services.

A. Definition - resource are materials used to produce goods and services

B. Kinds of resources

1. Natural - materials supplied by nature
2. Human - work done by individuals to produce goods and services
3. Capital - buildings, machines, materials and money needed to produce goods and services.

1. What is a resource?

Learning Activities

- A. Have each student bring in all kinds of objects or pictures of things that they think are resources. Eliminate non-resources and have them catalog their resources as to kind.
- B. Make bulletin board showing three kinds of resources (At least ten examples of each kind).
- C. Have students make a list of their personal assets for getting a job. List all your resources. e.g.
1. Level of education
 2. Age
 3. Personality
 4. Hobbies
 5. Talents
 6. Savings account
 7. Wareroom
 8. Health
 9. Personal appearance
 10. Natural interests or inclinations (what they would like to do)
- Catalog these as natural, capital and human
- D. Give "Kuder Preference Test" or "Minnesota Multi-Phasic Personality" Inventory
- D. Guest from employment agency interview students and place them.

Lesson 2

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

- 1. There are different kinds of resources: natural, human and capital.
 - A. Capital resources are developed from natural and human resources
 - B. Natural and capital resources are useless without human resources to develop and use them
 - C. Capital resources are necessary to develop further natural and human resources
 - D. All three resources are necessary for economic growth and development

- 1. How are natural, human, and capital resources inter-related?

Learning Activities

- A. Fenton A-V kit Comparative Economic Systems Record - Class Handout 3
Resources in the Arctic - Record Side 1 Band 1
Survival
Study of natural and human resources interrelated in a play about an airplane crash in Arctic
- B. Groups work on problem - You are an economic planner oil refinement plant in Alaska - 2000 Eskimos in area - most are fishermen, one public elementary school (50 pupils, 1 teacher) Health clinic - 2 nurses - Most use traditional herb methods
- Firm's Assignment - in 25 years develop a successful industrial community run by local talent.
- Your Assignment - (1) List work skills needed to change from traditional fishing to industrial community
(2) Outline how government can best develop educated, willing, adequate and healthy manpower.
- C. Panel discussion on what is most valuable kind of resource - natural, human or capital

Lesson 3

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

1. Resources are used only if one has the knowledge to use them, and there are materials available.
2. The available supply and demand of the consumer influences the value of resources.
 - A. Natural
 1. Supply of the particular resource
 2. Consumer demand for the particular resource
 3. Rate of production of the particular resource
 4. Rate of depletion versus rate of restoration
 5. Cost of production and refinement
 6. New discoveries
 - B. Human
 1. Numbers
 2. Education
 3. Health
 4. Motivation
 - C. Capital
 1. Stability of monetary system
 - a. Inflation
 - b. Deflation
 2. Value of monetary base
 3. Government's regulation of capital resources
 4. Sources of mineral markets
 5. Standard of living (Real income)
 6. Rate and degree of investment
 7. GNP
 8. Taxation
 9. National Income - gross income received from sale of all goods and services.

1. What influences the value of resources?

Learning Activities

A. Role playing - You are given opportunity to join Robinson Crusoe for a day. You both try to decide what your resources are:

- | | |
|--------------------|-----------------------|
| 1. Fruit | 8. $50.00 |
| 2. Wild bores | 9. Gun |
| 3. Trees and grass | 10. Reading materials |
| 4. Compass | 11. Driftwood |
| 5. Sextant | 12. Ax |
| 6. Telescope | 13. Capentry tools |
| 7. Matches | 14. Watch |

B. Make a study of zoning legislation in local area (town or county). Get maps from local courthouse. Fit a color scheme on maps to zones.

1. green for agriculture
2. yellow for commercial
3. red for industrial
4. blue for residential

Visit local realitors or panel discussion by local realitors on prices of photographs of areas according to local use. Then make profile of land use and price. Use profiles with maps for bulletin board. This bulletin board can be used throughout "Resource Unit".

Lesson 4

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

1. The greater the complexity of a society, the greater the resource demand.
 - A. Levels of society
 1. Food gathering
 2. Pastoral
 3. Agricultural
 4. Industrial
 - B. Scarcity increases as society becomes larger and more complex
 1. supply and demand

Key Questions

1. How does the level of society influence the use of resources?

Learning Activities

A. Collect pictures of

1. Australian Aborigines (hunting and food gathering)
2. Eskimos (food gathering, hunting and fishing)
3. Nomades Arabs (Nomades)
4. Chinese rice farmers (Subsictive farming)
5. Mid Western farm U.S.A. (Commercial, mechanized)
6. New England Textile Mills - industrial
7. New York City business district
8. Baltimore City Port

B. What resources can you find being used in these places?

C. Research and trace the uses of wood from the Cave Man to today. Group work.

D. What resources made Japan a prosperous nation? Compare this with a country that has a lot of resources like India but is not very prosperous.

Lesson 5

Major Understandings and Supporting Content	Key Questions
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. There are natural, human, capital factors which contribute to the waste of resources.<ol style="list-style-type: none">A. Overproduction and inadequate consumption	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. What factors contribute to the waste of resources?

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

D. Waste of Human Resources

1. Natural waste
 - a. Time and age
 - b. Health
 - (1) mental
 - (2) physical
 - c. Geographical barriers
2. Political Waste
 - a. Government Labor relations
 - b. National goals and self interest
 - c. Unemployment
 - d. Political sectionalism (King cotton)
3. Human Waste of human resources
 - a. Discrimination
 - b. Education
 - c. Poverty
 - d. Unemployment
 - e. Stratified society
 - f. Technological training

E. Waste of Capital Resources

1. Human Waste of Capital Resources
 - a. Failure to modernize
 - b. Over expansion and investment
 - c. Urban development
2. Political Waste of Capital Resources
 - a. Patronage - economic discrimination
 - b. Over expenditures
 - c. Short range planning - no foresight of future needs and interests

Learning Activities

- A. Montage - Make a montage bulletin board of different forms of pollution
 - 1. Air
 - 2. Land
 - 3. Water

- B. Field trip to survey local types and services of pollution in your local area.

- C. Editorials and letters to editor (local and school newspapers)
On the types and sources of local pollution and your recommendation for improving. Draft a bill to present to your legislature (town, county, state) dealing with pollution and conservation

- D. Clean Up and Beautification Campaign - Clean up local litter and pollution in your area, advertise and elicit public assistance. (Posters, cartoons)

Lesson 6

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

1. The government, being the largest consumer and the protector of the general welfare, has a direct effect on the use of resources.
 - A. As a consumer
 1. Largest consumer
 2. Regulates credit
 3. Regulates capital investment
 4. Regulates incomes via taxation
 5. Owns more natural resources
 6. Subsidies farms and industries
 7. Legislates against ownership of some resources (e.g. gold)
 8. Legislates types of business organizations that can exist
 9. Advertises via nationalistic propaganda to influence consumption of resource and conservation of resources
 10. Balance of trade and payments via economic agreements and alliances
 - B. As a producer (See # V)
 1. T.V.A. (Electric power)
 2. Services (old age, medicare, insurance, etc.)
 3. Currency and credit
 4. Military needs
 5. Research projects (N.I.H.)

1. How does the government influence the use of resources?

Learning Activities

- A. Group Work - Research various periods to see what emphasis government placed on development of and conservation of natural, human and capital resources. Have each group work with a different period.
1. Colonial America - 1776 - 1820
 2. Westward Movement and Expansion - 1830 - 1870
 3. Golden Age of Industry - 1890 - 1920
 4. Modern America - 1940 - 1970
- B. Field Trip - Wild life refuges, national forest or park, soil bank areas, recreational parks, Federal Reserve Bank.
- C. Guest Speakers - Forest ranger, agricultural and/or home demonstration expert, park ranger, wild life refuge worker, banker, warden - each would speak on government influence on a particular resource appropriate to his field.
- D. Group Work - Divide into groups. Each group makes a chart of goods and services the government purchased and consumed for defense, road and building construction, for communication, farm policy (soil banks), and for daily administration office work. Have each group reach and report a conclusion the governments consumption has on American resources.

Unit XI

Economic Interdependence

Introduction

Concept

Major Understandings

Key Questions

Interdependence

1. Interdependence is a dependent relationship between producer and consumer.
2. Interdependence among people in a society is caused by specialization of labor and specialization of industry.
3. Interdependence among nations is caused by supply and demand of a given resource.
4. Specialization promotes interdependence by labor allocation.
5. Highly developed industrialized nations may exploit or help undeveloped nations.

1. What is interdependence?
2. What causes interdependence among people in a society?
3. What causes interdependence among nations?
4. How does specialization influence interdependence?
5. What relationship does a complex industrialized nation have with an undeveloped nation?

Lesson 1

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

1. Interdependence is a depend relationship between producer and consumer.
 - A. Definition - is the dependent relationship between producer and consumer.
 - B. Kinds of government interdependence
 1. International
 2. Federal (National and state)
 3. National and local
 4. State and local
 5. National and individual
 6. State and individual
 7. Local and individual
 - C. Other kinds of interdependence
 1. Man and machine
 2. Employer and employee
 3. Individual and individual (family)
 4. Parasitic interest groups e.g. economic classes cartels

1. What is interdependence?

Learning Activities

A. Picture chart of steps needs to:

1. Make a car (model automobiles kits)
2. Make a dress
3. House (plan)
4. Decorating house

Shows product interdependence, labor occupation interdependence

B. Collect road maps from service stations within radius 100 of local area - identify state and county road maintenance divisions and cooperations. Also while at gas station get break-down of gasoline excise taxes. Shows interdependence of individual and road maintenance.

C. Identify one product or one crop countries that is basis of that country's economy. Such as:

1. Brazil - coffee
2. Saudi Arabia - oil
3. Venezuela - oil
4. Cuba - sugar

Show how these must have exchange of goods to survive in a specialized world.

Lesson 2

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

- 1. Interdependence among people in a society is caused by specialization of labor and specialization of industry.
 - A. Specialization of industry
 - B. Specialization of labor
 - C. Transportation improvements
 - D. Communication improvements
 - E. Education
 - F. Allocation of resources
 - G. Profit motive

- 1. What causes interdependency among people in a society?

Learning Activities

A. Role Playing - Assign each individual a role.

- | | |
|----------------|--------------------|
| 1. A tailor | 9. A architect |
| 2. A cobbler | 10. An entertainer |
| 3. A baker | 11. A doctor |
| 4. A fisherman | 12. A lawyer |
| 5. A hunterman | 13. A banker |
| 6. A cook | 14. An educator |
| 7. A dietician | 15. A policeman |
| 8. A carpenter | 16. A fireman |

List their duties and the services they would perform and materials they would use, the tools, the employees they have in each of these societies.

1. Indian village
2. Colonial America
3. Modern America
4. Space Age

B. Bulletin board on interdependent agencies and services provided by U.N.

Lesson 3

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

1. Interdependence among nations is caused by supply and demand of a given resource.

- A. Specialization of industry
- B. Specialization of labor
- C. Transportation improvements
- D. Communication improvements
- E. Education
- F. Common interests
 - 1. Heritage
 - 2. Language
 - 3. Religion
 - 4. Customs
 - 5. Political goals
- G. Allocation of resources
- H. Profit motive
- I. Political goals (treaties)
- J. Limitation of Markets
- K. Desire for survival

1. What causes interdependence among nations?

Learning Activities

- A. Role Playing - Story writing using research material in groups - Compose different stories on (1) Life on Medieval Manor (self-sufficiency) 1300, (2) Life in New England town 1750, (3) Life in frontier America 1850, (4) Life in gold mining camp 1850, (5) Life in American life 1920, and (6) Life in Baltimore 1970.

Objective - Show students differences between self-sufficiency and interdependence. Also the growth of interdependence as society becomes more complex.

Lesson 4

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

Key Questions

1. Specialization promotes interdependence by labor allocation.
 - A. Specialization encourages diversification of production, discourages self sufficiency
 - B. Specialization increases supply which leads to demand for more markets.
 - C. Specialization leads to an efficient use of natural resources which are diversely allocated.
 - D. Specialization makes worker or industry dependent on another to complete a finished product.

1. How does specialization influence interdependence?

Learning Activities

A. Hand out sheet with following examples

processes involved in making tin can - or any industry

1. Body maker - cut square sheets of metal to form body of can, wrap square sheets to form cylinders
2. Double seamer - puts solder seams and lids on cylinders
3. Sealers - Put cans into boxes
4. Fork lift operator - takes finished packaged to warehouse
5. Warehouseman - loads packaged cans on trucks, unloads raw steel for cans
6. Scrap collector - collects scrap steel material and melts it down to form new steel sheets
7. Quality control - inspects quality of finished tin can

Ask students in groups to determine what would happen to the assembly lines if you took out one of the jobs.

B. Group Work - Trace the development of manufactured steel

1. Mining
 - a. Iron
 - b. Limestone
 - c. Coal
2. Refinement stage
 - a. Coal to coke
 - b. Minerals to iron
3. Transportation
 - a. Raw material to refinery
 - b. Refinery to distributor
 - c. Distributor to consumer

Show the relationship of each step in the process of steel making to each other. This demonstrates specialization of industry.

Lesson 5

Major Understandings and Supporting Content

1. Highly developed industrialized nation's may exploit or help under developed nations.
 - A. Under developed nations usually have an abundance of undeveloped natural resources to offer to an industrialized nation.
 - B. Industrialized nations usually started life as under developed nations.
 - C. Under developed nations may copy and modernize by studying industrialized nations they come into contact with.
 - D. Industrialized nations can become more highly industrialized by exploitation of under developed nations.
 - E. Under developed nations cannot develop their own natural resources or industrialize without the help of industrialized nations.

Key Questions

1. What relationship does a complex industrial nation have with an under developed nation?

Learning Activities

- A. Learning Stations - each station represent a different country and its products
1. India
 2. Nigria
 3. Rep. of S. Africa
 4. China
 5. U.S.
 6. U.S.S.R.
 7. Great Britain
 8. Japan
- B. At each learning station students represent Commerce Department or its equivalent. Have each commerce department make a list of products and amounts they have left to trade to other countries after domestic consumption. After list made up have different commerce department set up a balance of trade (exchange of items) with other commerce departments at the respective learning stations.
- C. U.N. Social and Economic Council Observation team - This group present documented report to members of General Assembly (rest of class) about stressing how industrially advantaged nations can increase further development of raw materials of undeveloped countries and give suggestions for new markets in undeveloped nations and the way this can be brought about by the industrialized nations.
