PREFACE

This quinmester course has been prepared as a guide to introduce the student to the knowledge and skills of effective dining room services in a fast growing industry.

After a three weeks training session in classroom activities, the student is exposed to further training by the actual serving of guests during the lunch hour in the dining room of a food training laboratory.

Upon completion of this quinmester course the student will be able to display good work habits, proper table service, an understanding of dining room techniques, customer relations and job requirements.

The course is 135 hours in length & consists of eleven major blocks of instruction which are subdivided into several units each. Block twelve includes the posttest.

Emphasis will be placed on gaining information in and knowledge of table setting, table service and sales personnel job requirements.

The classroom instruction includes lectures, group discussions, guest consultants demonstrations, audio-visuals, individual assignments and on-the-job-training. The instruction is further developed by the use of manuals, information sheets and textbooks.

This outline was developed through the cooperative efforts of the instructional and supervisory personnel, the Quinmester Advisory Committee, and the Vocational Curriculum Materials Service, and has been approved by the Dade County Vocational Curriculum Committee.

GLASSWARE CHART

There are many tools available for the preparing of mixed drinks. An adequate bar set should consist of an ice bucket, tongs, corkscrew, shaker-strainer, shot glass, ice crusher, shaker, pitcher, stirring rod or spoon, measuring spoons, and cutting board and knife.

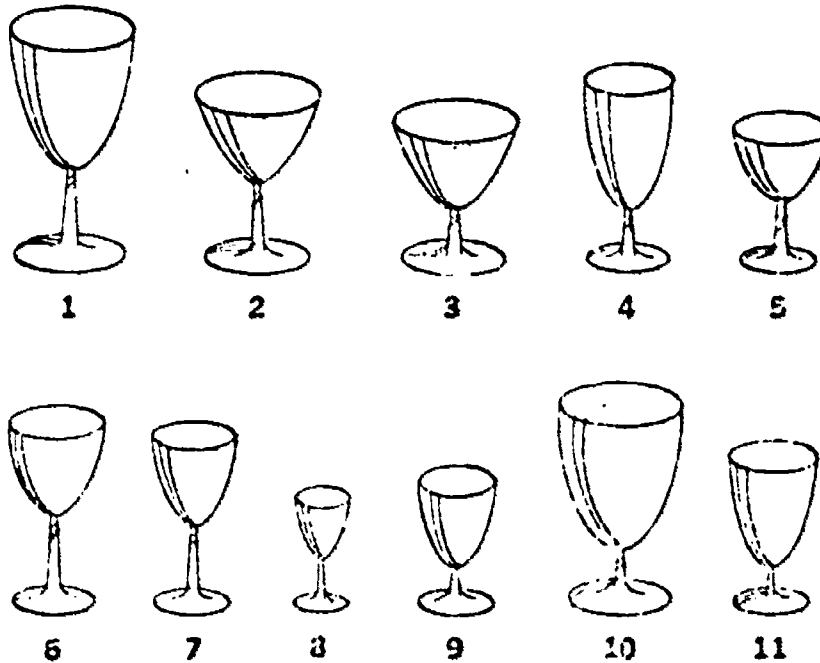

For the best results in mixing the cocktail, follow your recipes exactly as written using fresh fruit juices and peels, chilled or frosted glasses, shaved or chopped ice, and the right size and shape glass whenever called for.

Equivalents: 1 dash = 1/6 teaspoon; 1 teaspoon = 1/8 ounce; 1 tablespoon = 1/2 ounce; 1 pony = 1 ounce; 1 jigger = 1 1/2 ounces; 8 ounces = 1 cup.

Servings: 1 pint = 16 ounces = 8 to 10 servings; 1 fifth = 25.6 ounces = 12 to 16 servings; 1 quart = 32 ounces = 16 to 20 servings; 1 bottle wine = 25.6 ounces = 4 to 8 servings; 1 split champagne or wine = 6.4 ounces = 2 servings; 1 half bottle = 12.8 ounces = 4-5 servings; 1 quart champagne = 25 ounces = 6 to 8 servings.

Unfooted beverage set in six sizes: (1) 7 1/2 ounce old-fashioned cocktail; (2) 12 ounce double old-fashioned or other tall drinks (Tom Collins); (3) 12 ounce highball; (4) 9 ounce scotch and soda; (5) 5 ounce whiskey sour or other short cocktail; (6) 1 1/2 ounce jigger (whiskey).

Stemware glasses in 11 sizes: (1) 10 ounce all-purpose glass; (2) 9 ounce high sherbet and wine glass; (3) 7 to 8 ounce low sherbet and wine glass; (4) 6 ounce whiskey sour or pilsner glass; (5) 4 ounce cocktail (martini) glass; (6) 5 ounce claret for red wines; (7) 4 ounce wine (white) or brandy glass; (8) 1 ounce cordial for liqueurs; (9) 1 1/2 ounce sherry glass; (10) 15 ounce luncheon goblet; (11) 5 ounce orange juice or liqueur glass.

WINES AND COCKTAILS

BEST COPY AVAILABLE

Appetizer Wines

Foods to serve with them: these wines, being appetizers themselves, do not require food to be served with them. However, they are generally compatible with all appetizer foods. Serve appetizer wines chilled to a temperature of approximately 40-45 degrees.

Types to serve: Sherry, especially dry varieties; Vermouth, both dry and sweet; and the so-called flavored wines.

Red Table Wines

Foods to serve with them: all red meats including steaks, stews, roasts; game, goose, duck; veal and cheese. (White Wine can also be served with the latter two.) Except for Rose, which should be served at 45-50 degrees, serve all other red table wines at 60-70 degrees.

Types to serve: Claret or Cabernet Sauvignon, Burgundy or Pinot Noir; Rose; Beaujolais or Gamay; Red Chianti, and Zinfandel.

White Table Wines

Foods to serve with them: chicken, turkey (red wine also suitable), poultry of all kinds; Fish and shellfish; Ham, Veal (light red wine also goes with veal).

Types to serve: Rhine or Riesling; Graves; Moselle; Pouilly-Fuisse; Pinot Chardonnay or White Burgundy; Chablis; and Sauterne (especially the drier varieties).

Dessert Wines

Foods to serve with them: Fruit, nuts, cakes, some dessert cheeses.

Types to serve: Port, either Ruby or Tawny; White Tokay, Cream or Sweet Sherry; Sweet Madeira; Sauterne (the less dry varieties).

Sparkling Wines

Foods to serve: The sparkling wines are suitable with almost all foods and occasions. Refrigerate one to two hours to chill.

Types to serve: Sparkling Burgundy, Sparkling Rose; Champagnes (either gold or pink) (But is very dry, see semi-dry, and Deutz-See, less dry).

After Dinner Wines

Types to serve: Port; Cognac or Brandy; Calvados.

General tips

Sweet wines shouldn't be served with main dishes.

Red wines shouldn't be served with fish.

Red wines and after dinner wines should be served at 60-70 degrees (or what was regarded as "room temperature" before central heating).

Red wines should be uncorked an hour or more before serving.
