1981 – 1990

By: Faris T. Mahmood

Abstract

This paper is entitled (The Egyptian foreign policy 1981 – 1990) aims at following up the diplomatic effect made by the government of president mubank during the period of the paper. It was the most crucial one in relative to the Egyptian policy. The government has tried deeply to correct mistakes by the the president Sadat and trying to cure the error which followed the relations of Egypt regionally and internationally.

The paper is divided into two parts. The first first deals with the foreign policy of Egypt during 1980 on a regional. It includes the issue of the main regional parts that dealt with Egyptian diplomacy such as the Palestinian issue, Arab. Israel conflict, Iraq- Iran war. The second part deals with the foreign policy of Egypt on the international level especially Egypt's relations with U.S.A, the previous Soviet Union and the European continent. It talks also a bout how the Egyptian diplomacy was able make a sort of balance to this relation.
